We would be glad to afford other opportunities, but can not, having no right to disturb occupants at all; hence we feel to trespass upon their good nature for a day is asking much, consequently no residence can be examined save on March 17 only.

On all sales of $5,000 or less a deposit of earnest-money amounting to 5 per cent. of the purchase price will be exacted, and for sales amounting to a greater sum such percentage as will be satisfactory to the committee.

Contracts between the parties must be executed on the night of the sale, the same as if the sale had been privately made. Blanks will be ready.

All contracts and earnest money will be held in escrow by the call-board committee, under the auspices of the Chicago real-estate board.

The upset price, terms of sale, and full particulars relative to the property offered will be supplied before each piece of real estate is offered at each sale.

The auction sale willl be conducted by the call board committee.

The Chicago Real Estate Board guarantees that each bid shall be bona fide, and that no "catch bid" to advance prices will be entertained.

The event will be a novel and entertaining one.

All are invited, both ladies and gentlemen. Let all come and help make these auction sales as successful as they have been in New York and New Orleans, and permanently establish this method of selling property for the public weal, as well as for profit.

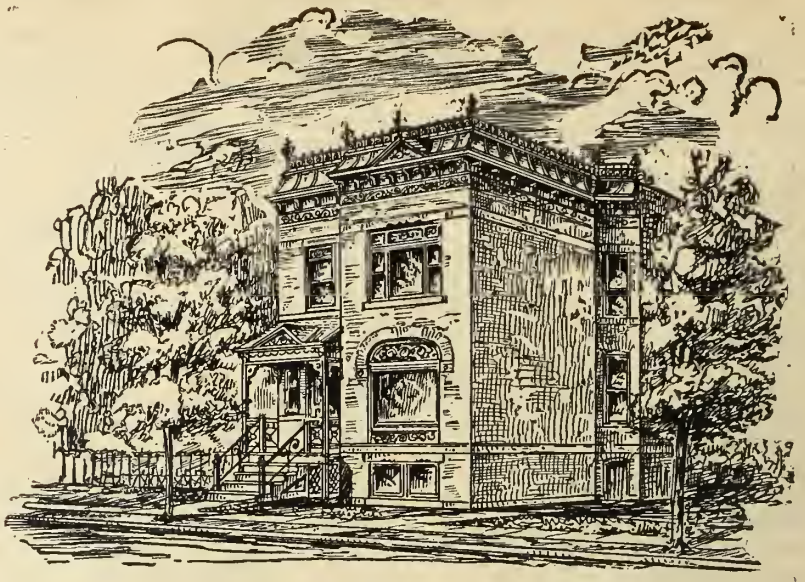
THE Building * Department.

THE LABOR QUESTION.

An early settlement of all labor disturbances is of vital mportance to the prosperity and continued growth of Chicago. In no other Western city are there so many contemplated improvements; in no other locality is there need of so much. House-building has been a striking feature in Chicago's enterprise, and the year 1886 bids fair to rival all precedents in her history. The occasion of the action of the Knights of Labor must be regretted, and the necessity for the formation of such an organization is a sad commentary on onr laws of society, as well as our statutory law. Railroad kings were the first to grind down labor. They always did, of necessity, perhaps, demand and require more of their men than any other class of employers, and invariably paid less, except to favorites. Business men all over the country deplore the present situation at St. Louis and the Southwest. Jay Gould is a robber, and has no moral right, if he has a legal one, to take bread out of the mouths of women and children for the sake of carrying one of his points. The masses of the people all over the country are in sympathy with the Knights of Labor, because Jay Gould is a selfish tyrant.

Nor is this all. The anticipated disturbance of labor among masons, bricklayers, carpenters, and all classes employed in building, is dollars and cents out of the pockets of all honest men in Chicago. It simply creates alarm, destroys confidence, and hinders great nndertakings.



The present agitation of the subject of eight hours for a day's work, by the organized federation of trades unions, has a very important bearing upon the prospects of the year before ns. The first day of May has been decided npon as the time for the demands of the working men to take effect, and unless there can be a more complete understanding and a better agreement between them and the capitalists than now seems probable, the agitation will eclipse anything of the kind which ever occurred in this country. In some instances the demands of the trades unions have already been complied with, and in nnmerous other instances strikes have been ordered to enforce the demand, but unsnccessfully.

Nothing else but an nnsettled state of the labor qnestion can possibly hinder the progress of the whole country and all trades conpled with building.

DECORATIVE NOTES.

When wall hangings are hung in folds and festoons, after the manner of cnrtains, similar patterns are suitable. It is in those which are either stretched upon frames or otherwise extended in full view that pictorial decoration can be employed with propriety.

Bamboo forms an important decoration in modern household ornamentation. It is used for screens, rocking-chairs, tables, foot-stools and picture frames.

To make a fire-place artistic and appropriate, iron sides and back are introduced in various geometrical and small fancifnl patterns; the hue of the metal plain or bronzed, burnished or dull, serving to establish an effective contrast with the brilliant snrface presented by highly polished steel bars, brass fire dogs and fenders.

OBJECTIONS TO SMALL BILLS.

The New York Evening Post calls attention to some objections, which arise from a sanitary point of view, to the bank bills and greenbacks of small denominations. "They pass," says our cotemporary, through every kind of hand, clean and dirty, healthy and diseased. They lie for days or weeks in all sorts of pockets and wallets, those of the rag-picker of the slums, who never washes body or clothes, as well as of the 'white cravat and daily bath man' of the clubs." This, of course, will be sized upon with eagerness by the advocates of the silver dollar as an argument in their favor. We look it simply as a timely warning against putting over and over into circulation the filthy and torn notes and bills which we have now become so accustomed to handle. Medical authorities in the old country have long ago declared such paper money a danger to health and a recognized medium of contagion. Why cannot our Treasury Department adopt the course followed in England and elsewhere of reissuing at frequent intervals fresh and clean notes and cancel and destroy those returned the first time to the Department?

REPORT OF THE REVENUE COMMISSION.

The final report to the Governor of the Revenue Commission was made Monday, March 1. In it a great many remedies are suggested for the faults of the present system of assessments. After reciting the most glaring inequalities and imperfections of present methods, the following remedies are provided:

1. Better instrumentalities for ascertaining the value of property by dividing counties into small assessment districts.

2. Preparation of maps of districts and marking the assessments on this map or chart, and kept exposed to the view of taxpayers.

3. Limiting capital stock tax of corporations to quasi corporations.

4. Doing away with sworn schedules, and providing a penalty for a wrong return of personal property.

5. Divorcement of State and local taxation.

6, Changing the methods of taxing railroads, and providing a rate of taxation equal to the average rate throughout the State imposed upon five times the amount of gross receipts of an Illinois road.

Omitting a large portion of the report of the Commission, their proposed remedies for the protection of tax-payers, in substance, are, limiting taxation so as not to exceed on the $100 as follows:

For county purposes, other than road and bridge, 25 cents; for city, incorporated town, and village purposes, except school, 50 cents; for educational purposes, 50 cents; for roads and bridges, for ordinary purposes, 20 cents; for school building, 75 cents; for all other purposes, one-third the present rates: and all park purposes, one-fourth the present rates; and that the power of municipalities to incur indebtedness be limited to 2 per cent of the assessed valuation, instead of 5, as now.

Both the constitutional and statutory limitations upon rates of taxation now existing have been based upon the recognized low valuation which has hitherto prevailed. If valuations are raised, the rates should be correspondingly reduced, and certainly no provisions should be allowed to go into force looking to the enforcement of higher valuations by assessors unless accompanied by equally explicit provisions making corresponding reductions in the rates of taxation. In no way could the disproportion of taxation now borne by real estate be relieved so effectually as by the adoption of a full valuation, and in connection therewith correspondingly low rates to be rigorously adhered to.

They recommend the appointment by the Governor of a State Board of Tax Commissioners, to consist of six persons, not more than three from any one political party, and the Auditor of State as an ex-officio member. Their duties, briefly stated, shall be: To prescribe forms for the use of Assessors; to construe the revenue law for revenue officers, and to instruct them in relation to their duties; to see that assessments are made according to law; to see that taxable shares of stock are assessed; to see that taxes are collected; to enforce penalties and fines; to estimate, when necessary, the amount required of the several counties to meet appropriations of the General Assembly, and certify the same to the counties; to examine all books made subject to inspection; to see that each county is visited as often as once in two years by at least one member of the Board, to the end that the operations of the law and the officers may be noted and penalties enforced; to report to each General Assembly, and make such recommendations as they may deem best; that they be paid $2,500 a year each and their traveling expenses. They are also made a Board of Review to whom appeals may be taken from any County Board of Review.

The report in its entirety furnishes some interesting reading, but not enough to warrant the JOURNAL in publishing it in full. Suffice it to say that railroad men look upon the proposed measures for taxing corporations and railroad property with disfavor. Their henchmen, no doubt, in the Legislature will endeavor to defeat the bill. Many of the changes proposed are too radical to meet with favor even among the masses.—Real Estate and Building Journal.

AMERICAN ENTERPRISE.

No invention of the nineteenth century has worked a greater revolution in household economy or conferred more of a benefit on humanity than the sewing machine.

The first productions were crude and uncouth in the extreme, and it was reserved for American skill and ingenuity to bring forth a machine of any practical value.

In order to appreciate the great advancement which has taken place it is only necessary to compare one of the machines built during the infancy of the invention with one of the latest improved "Light-Running New Home."

All the really good points contained in other machines have been utilized in its construction. Many new improvements and devices have also been added, the result of which is a machine as nearly perfect as it is possible to make one.

For simplicity, durability, ease of management and capacity for work, the "Light-Running New Home" has no rival, and the happy possessor of one may rest assured that he or she has the very best the world affords. See advertisement on another page of this paper.

NEW HOME SEWING MACHINE CO.,

How to Decorate.

The Newport scarf is the prettiest novelty to loop back lace curtains. These are in soft brocaded silk, in all heavy and delicate tones in color, with a narrow fringe all around them; they tie back the curtains with a large bow.

A very pretty piano-scarf is made of silver green plush, showing a deep border of ivory white satin darned in heavy gold silk throwing up an outlined design of flowers and leaves in gold couching.

A white porcelain lamp is made very effective with a design of a vine of Virginia creepers with purple berries, painted in oil colors. Brilliant colored butter flies fluttering in various directions should also be added with taste.

THE LORD NEVER INTENDED IT.

Many years ago, in a county seat of one of the middle States, a prominent Ex-Judge and jurist was pleading a cause on the chancery side for a rural client. The case, which was about some land, had been begun in a lower court, and had been argued before and appealed by the opposite side. On account of delays the farmer grew impatient. After spending several days in making motions, and trying the case de novo, the ex-judge received a set back in an interlocutory decision by the Judge. His pleadings had been demurred to, the arguments had been made, and the demurrer sustained, which caused a new turn in the proceedings, and further delay. The former then suspecting something wrong, sallied forth to the side of his lawyer and ventured to ask him what was the matter. His attorney informed him that there was a demurrer.

Farmer—Pray what is a demurrer?

Lawyer—Go along, my dear sir, and don't bother me. God Almighty never intended that you should understand what a demurrer is.

REAL ESTATE LAW.

James Mitchell et al. v. Seth T. Sawyer et al. Filed at Mt. Vernon, Jan. —, 1886,

FRAUDULENT CONVEYANCE—Mortgage for more than due.—If a mortgage is given by a debtor on land for too large a sum for the purpose of protecting the property from creditors, it will be fraudulent and void as to them.

If a debtor conveys land to his brother under a secret trust connected with the transaction that the grantor is still to have the beneficial enjoyment in whole or in part of the property conveyed, such secret trust will render the deed fraudulent and void as to credetors.

DECREE—As affecting dower and homestead.—A decree setting aside a deed of land as fraudulent on a creditors' bill and subjecting the same to sale without any provision as to the dower and homestead of the wife of the deceased grantor, is not erroneous for that omission. Such rights are not affected by the decree and when the sheriff comes to sell on execution he should deal with the homestead as the statute directs.

A decree on creditors' bill setting aside a fraudulent conveyance of land need not provide for the payment of the judgment by the fraudulent grantee or mortgagee whereby to avoid a sale. This may be done without any such provision.

Darius C. Warren v. C. D. Cook et al. Filed at Mt. Vernon, Jan.—1886.

On application for judgment for taxes.—The filing of odjections against an application by the collector in the County Court for judgment against a lot for taxas due thereon, by an attorney having a general authority to appear for that purpose, must be regarded as the entry of the owner's appearance and as giving that court jurisdiction of his person.

TAX TITLE—A judgment of the County Court against land for taxes where there is jurisdiction of the person and of the subject-matter, is of like binding effect upon the parties as any other judgment at law, and however erroneous it may be, until reversed it is as binding as if free fron error.

If a party appears in the County Court and files any objections to the rendition of judgment against his land for taxes claimed to be due thereon, a judgment against his land for such taxes, in the absence of fraud, is conclusive not only as to the objections interposed, but also as to all defenses that might have been made.

Hook v. Richeson. Filed at Mt. Vernon, Jan. 1886.

HOMESTEAD—Sale subject to.—A decree foreclosing a lien on land in which there is a homestead of $1,000 unless the defendants by a day named, pay to the master a given sum, is erroneous in not directing an absolute sale, subject to the homestead. But on failure to make the payment, the decree becomes absolute and, and the error is harmless.

CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC RAILWAY

By reason of its central position and close relation to all principal lines East and West, at initial and terminal points, constitutes the most important mid-continental link in that system of through transportation which invites and facilitates travel and traffic between cities of the Atlantic and Pacific Coasts. It is also the favorite and best route to and from points East, Northeast and Southeast, and corresponding points West, Northwest and Southwest.

The Rock Island system includes in its main line and branches, Chicago, Joliet, Ottawa, La Salle, Peoria, Geneseo, Moline and Rock Island, in Illinois; Davenport, Muscatine, Washington, Fairfield, Ottumwa, Oskaloosa, West Liberty, Iowa City, Des Moines, Indianola, Winterset, Atlantic, Knoxville, Audubon, Harlan, Guthrie Centre and Council Bluffs, in Iowa; Gallatin, Trenton, Cameron and Kansas City, in Missouri; Leavenworth and Atchison, in Kansas; Albert Lea, Minneapolis and St. Paul, in Minnesota; Watertown in Dakota, and hundreds of intermediate cities, towns, villages and stations.

THE GREAT ROCK ISLAND ROUTE

Guarantees its patrons that sense of personal security afforded by a solid, thoroughly ballasted road-bed; smooth tracks of continuous steel rail; substantially built culverts and bridges; rolling stock as near perfection as human skill can make it; the safety appliances of patent buffers, platforms and air-brakes; and that exacting discipline which governs the practical operation of all its trains. Other specialties of this route are Transfers at all connecting points in Union Depots, and the unsurpassed comforts and luxuries of its Passenger Equipment.

The Fast Express Trains between Chicago and the Missouri River are composed of well ventilated, finely upholstered Day Coaches, Magnificent Pullman Palace Sleepers of the latest design, and sumptuous Dining Cars, in which elaborately cooked meals are leisurely eaten, "good Digestion waiting on Appetite, and Health on both." Between Chicago and Kansas City and Atchison, are also run the Celebrated Reclining Chair Cars.

THE FAMOUS ALBERT LEA ROUTE

Is the direct and favorite line between Chicago and Minneapolis and St. Paul, where connections are made in Union Depots for all points in the Territories and British Provinces. Over this route, Fast Express Trains are run to the watering places, summer resorts, picturesque localities, and hunting and fishing grounds of Iowa and Minnesota. It is also the most desirable route to the rich wheat fields and pastoral lands of interior Dakota.

Still another DIRECT LINE, via Seneca and Kankakee, has been opened between Newport News, Richmond, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, and Lafayette and Council Bluffs, Kansas City, Minneapolis and St. Paul and intermediate points.

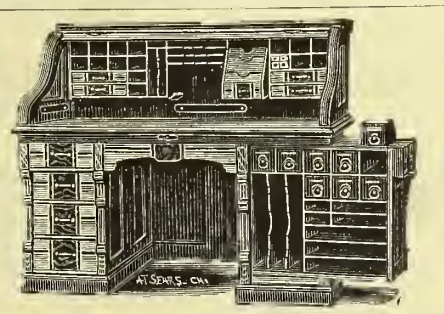
WASH TANK

AND ALL-PORCELAIN

WATER CLOSET.



THE want of a valveless closet has at last been supplied by my new Wash-Out, in which a body of water is kept constantly in the basin. It is constructed of one piece of earthenware, and is fitted with two-inch brass couplings for ventilation; one for the basin and one for the trap. The basin has a pierced rim, which, at the front, has an outlet extending downward and entering the bowl just above the surface of the water; when water enters the closet, the sides of the basin are washed by the water passing through the pierced rim. But the main body of water passes to the front and thence into the basin with such velocity as to completely force everything from the basin.

This elegant fixture can be seen with the water connected with it at my store,

531 W. MADISON ST.

I also keep on hand an elegant supply of Gas Fixtures and Globes.

R. C. SMYERS, Editor and Proprietor.

CHICAGO, SATURDAY, MARCH 20, 1886.

Look out for ROSS IRVING, the notorious thief and criminal, who has stolen our blanks and good bills for collection. He is medium height, large hands, broad shoulders, gray eyes, thin, aquiline nose, and wears a mixed gray suit, unless he purchased new clothes with stolen funds. He has a scar on right side of forehead.

R. C. SMYERS, this "JOURNAL."

The Market.

ACRES COMING INTO VOGUE.

Real Estate at Auction.

Notwithstanding the disturbed condition of business at St. Louis and the South-West and the threatened strike by laborers and mechanics in the building trades on May 1, the past week has shown active inquiry and a decidedly healthy movement. Acres in the city, acres in the suburbs and acres in the country have been bought during the past week. If you don't believe it read the records, commencing on page No. 167 and then read the "Towns" and the miscellaneous. Something more alarming than a railroad strike at St. Louis will be required to stop the real estate trade in Chicago and prevent it in 1886, from being the largest since the palmy days before the panic.

WABASH AVE. PROPERTY—APARTMENTS.

Considerable attention has been given of late to Wabash ave. property. Capitalists show a decided preference for business property on this street as evidenced by several recent sales. Several of the purchases were made for speculation, notably, those of Mr. Wetherel. The prices brought by the property now are at least 15% to 20% higher than six months ago and remain firm at this advance. New developments will soon be made known to the public.

Another large piece of property on Market st. amounting to $90,000 was put under contract this week. The leasing of property in this district for a term of ninety-nine years seems to be the favorite method of disposal.

The Ryerson Building formerly owned by W. T. St. Clair, on Madison near Halsted has been rented by Sea & Co. The rental is reported to be $10,000 annually for a period of five years. W. T. Moore & Co, succeed Sea & Co in their former establishment at 122 and 124 State st.

Auburn will receive during the coming season quite extensive improvements. Train accommodations have already been increased.

Apartment buildings have not had the run which they had last year on account of the general opinion that they were then overdone. They are in fair demand and bring the same rents as last year. While rents of dwellings are firm at last year's prices, business property, both store and office are higher. In some localities, as Wabash ave. for instance, they have increased a large per cent.

THE Robbins' Estate have recently made a lease of dock property to J. H. Pearson & Co., lumber dealers. Their property in the lumber district comprises 240 acres in the vicinity of Ashland ave. and 35th st. Several other new leases will be made soon of this property. Lumber men are paying for dock property on an average of ten and twelve dollars a front foot. Rents for this class of property are higher, if anything, than last year.

The amount of business transacted for the week by the agents has been rather unsatisfactory. A large number of the transfers recorded were those of the Wisconsin Railroad and outside parties.

Barnes & Parish are receiving a large inquiry for dwellings, apartment buildings, etc.

J. C. Magill & Co. have closed a number of good sales.

J. C. Samson & Co. are making a large number of leases for stores, lofts, etc., at advanced prices.

B. Philpot & Co. report general business to be very encouraging.

T. J. Kinsella is receiving a greater demand for North Side flats than last year.

BETWEEN 800 and 900 business men assembled at Central Music Hall on Thursday evening, to participate in and witness the first public auction sale of real estate ever held by the Chicago Real Estate Board.

The amount of sales of property during the evening was nearly $57,000. A number of ladies were present, and some of them bid on the pieces offered, prompted, doubtless, by the example of the lady applicant for admission to membership in the Real Estate Board.

The list of property advertised for sale is found in the JOURNAL of March 13. It is comprised of twenty-four pieces on the West Side, thirteen on the North Side, and twenty-two on the South Side. There were seated on the stage representing the Call Board: C. H. Mulliken, N. T. Gassette, R. C. Givens, W. W. Baird, and C. P. Silva, and Mr. E. A. Cummings, President of the Real Estate Board. Mr. Cummings opened the proceedings with remarks on the real estate trade in Chicago. He said that the real estate market here was one of the best in the world, and he saw no reason why real estate should not be sold here the same way as in New York, Boston, and other large cities. The Real Estate Board, he claimed, had been doing good work in advancing the real estate interests in Chicago, and had inaugurated the call-board system of selling real estate.

Among the prominent real estate owners and agents present were Potter Palmer, S. D. Kimbark, E. S. Dreyer, Lumley Ingledew, W. D. Kerfoot, E. A. Cummings, H. H. Gage, L. R. Giddings, T. B. Bryan, George P. Bay, H. J. Furber, John D. Jennings, F. Hathaway, S. W. Connell, O. B. Sampson, H. S. Osborn, H. L. Hill, J. B. Gallowa*y*, R. C. Givens, A. H. Blackall, G. L. Warner, W. C. Merigold, L. B. Otis, William Devine, J. P. Olinger, Jacob Weil, F. L. Fake, James P. Black, F. A. Henshaw, J. M. Marshall, Ernst Prussing, C. J. Hambleton, B. F. McConnell, E. J. Wickham, Godfrey Schmid, R. S. Cox, E. F. Getchell, Lyman Baird, J. L. Cothran, Walter Lister, J. H. Murphy, Rockford; J. F. Richmond, F. P. Elliot, Nelson Thomasson, H. C. Morey, A. C. Merriam, E. Nelson Blake.

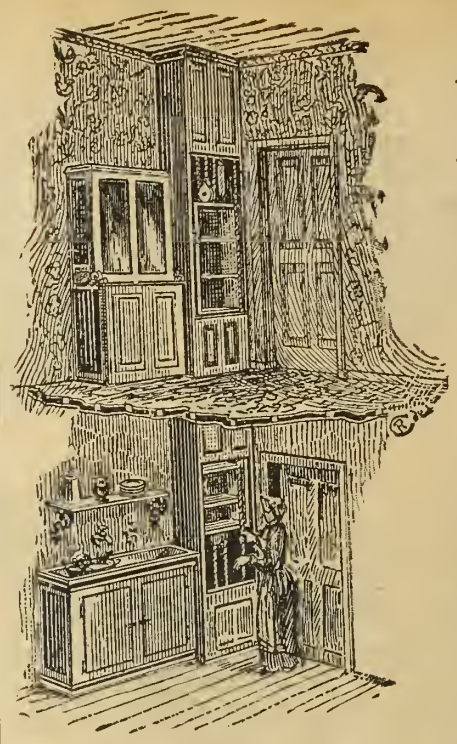
COUNCIL CHAMBERS,
CHICAGO, March 15, 1886.



The Department of Public Works are directed to prepare and report to the Council an ordinance providing for the building of a bridge and viaduct at Jackson st., by assessing the property-owners benefited. Corporation Counsel Winston was of the opinion that the Council had the right to assess the property-owners for this purpose. The commissioners appointed by the court can go any distance to assess property benefited, and it is claimed that the tax will not be heavy. The bridge and viaduct will cost about $280,000. The city has appropriated $100,000 for the purpose, and the railroads' share of the expense will reach $60,000, perhaps $65,000. This will leave $115,000 to $120,000 to be raised by assessments. The ordinance will contain a provision that the bridge and viaduct shall remain free from car tracks until the consent of a majority of the property-owners assessed is first obtained.

This is the first experiment made at constructing a bridge on the assessment plan. The city has been building the bridges, but the treasury is empty, and the property-owners benefited, it is thought, will consent to raise the amount themselves. The attitude of the property-owners will be ascertained when the commissioners report on the assessments made.

HOME INSURANCE BUILDING.

THE HOME INSURANCE BUILDING, erected by the Home Fire Insurance Company of New York is unique among buildings in the United States in its massive character, the beauty of its ensemble and the proof it affords of the extent to which the building arts have been brought towards perfection in the city of Chicago. This imposing structure is situated on the north-east corner of La Salle and Adams streets,having a frontage of one hundred and thirty eight feet on La Salle and ninety-five feet on Adams street with a wing twenty-two and a-half by fifty feet extending north to the alley running from La Salle to Clark street. The building which has been especially designed for office and banking purposes in accordance with the very best and latest requirements is of the French renaissance order of architecture so popular in buildings intended for business offices and is constructed of iron, granite, sandstone and brick. It is ten stories in height, towering to an elevation of 156 ft., from the guide line and the basement flooring is only eighteen inches below the level of the sidewalk. The edifice is erected on a skeleton of iron, so perfect that if all brick work was removed to-morrow it would still stand in outline as when first from the hands of the architects and contractors. The designs of the building were drawn by W L B Jenney, who personally supervised its erection. Below as a matter of interest to the building trade whose organ the JOURNAL is, we give a resume of the work of the most prominent contractors engaged on the erection and fitting up of the new building.

The granite of the basement and 1st story was supplied by the Hallowell Granite Co.

THE GRILLE entrance on La Salle street is a beautiful example of the high degree of perfection to which decorative art in metal work has been brought by Poulson & Eger, Hecla Iron Works, New York, who are represented here by Mr. Richard Robbins, Room 59, 161 La Salle st. The grille, which is artistically designed, is on iron which has been subjected to the Bower-Barff rustless process. This process consists in converting the surface of the iron into a magnetic oxide of iron by chemical reaction at a high temperature, making the coating a part of the metal itself. It not only prevents rust, but ornaments the surface of the iron as well, and has a wide sphere of application for interior and exterior decorative purposes. The process imparts to the surface of the iron a blue-black color on rougher coatings, while on polished work the iron retains its lustrous appearance with a beautiful steel-blue shade that harmonizes well with electro-plated work where used in combination. By electrolytic process the Company reproduces, when desired, panels. mouldings, and ornamental detail in solid bronze-copper, which can be given a metal finish of bronze, brass, antique brass, silver, oxidized silver, or Bower-Barff, by a subsequent electro plate. By this process can be reproduced, at a nominal cost, details of design from expensive and highly artistic originals, of which the Company possess a vast variety in solid, that can not be equaled by any other known process. On the stairways of the Home Insurance building some beautiful specimens of electro-plate in bronze, brass and antique brass will attract the eye of the visitor, and the adaptation of ornamental iron by the Hecla Iron Company to railings, newels, and ornamental posts can not fail to impress the practical builders and architects, as well as real estate men who comprise the readers of the JOURNAL. All the designs are in high relief lines and mouldings, polished so as to afford a pleasing contrast.

Among the prominent buildings supplied by Poulson & Eger with the several varieties of ornamental iron work for which the firm has attained a well earned reputation, by a high standard of work and the intelligent application of finishes combined with good workmanship, may be mentioned the following: The Kinsley restauraut in this city, the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Co., Milwaukee, and the Brooklyn approach to the Brooklyn Bridge. The Company are also furnishing the ornamental iron work for the Jonathan Clark building, now in course of construction, besides a number of smaller buildings.

The Company also make a specialty of the ornamental ironwork of elevator cars by the Bower-Barff process, which, as can be seen by the cars now running in this building, give an air of lightness, artistic beauty and strength not equaled by any other process.

Metal mantels are also a specialty of the firm. They are in bronze, brass, oxidized iron, electro-plated iron, and galvano-plastic, varying in combination and style of finish in any of these metals to suit design and taste. These mantels are complete in themselves, and easily transported, being either in one piece or with the several parts bolted together. They are perfectly fireproof, and not subjected to the danger of warping.

ONE OF the most recherche features of the building is the Italian marble entrance halls, the beautiful wainscoting in Italian marble and Mexican onyx and the massive threads of the grand stairway in the former costly material, all of which has been supplied by the well-known firm of Davidson & Sons, contractors for marble and granite building work with offices and yards at the foot of N. Market street, Chicago, and 137 to 147 Third street, Milwaukee. This firm whose splendid work may also be seen in the Board of Trade Building, the Royal Insurance Building, First National Bank and other public buildings in Chicago, have surpassed all previous efforts, no building being similar in the profuse employment of Italian marble and onyx. The marble is from the far famed quarries of Carrara, Italy, and the onyx from those situated in the immediate neighborhood of the City of Mexico. The effect produced by Davidson & Sons by the careful and artistic blending of the two materials gives an appearance of lightness and grandeur to the hallways and stairways upon which the eye rests with pleasure and the manner in which the entire work has been carried out is worthy of the high reputation enjoyed by the firm among architects and builders. In addition to the stairways and wainscoting the marble window screens and beautiful marble fitting of the lavatories are also furnished by t he firm. The total cost of the marble used in the building was $85,000 about the same amount having been expended on the Mutual Life Insurance Building, New York, with the exception of which it is original in business architecture in the United States and is a standing monument to the taste and workmanlike ability of the firm.

THE UTICA brand of hydraulic cement furnished by Meacham & Wright, who have had sole control of the agency in Chicago for over 16 years, was employed in the concrete for the foundations and stone work all through the building and was mixed in a certain proportion with the lime water used in making the mortar for the brick work. Its employment in this manner makes a stronger bond than is possible with ordinary mortar. The Utica brand of cement comes from Utica, Illinois, and has been used in nearly every principal building erected for years past in Chicago. It is also used by the City in all its works and is spoken of in the highest terms by the building trade. Messrs. Meacham & Wright are sole agents; the telephone of their office is No. 434.

The masonry contract was creditably executed by Messrs. Mortimer & Tapper.

THE HEAVY lumber joist were supplied by the PESHTIGO LUMBER CO., whose office and yards are at North Pier, N. Water street, east of Rush st. bridge. The material is up to the usual high standard of the lumber supplied by the Peshtigo Co. to so many of the most prominent public and private buildings not only of Chicago but all over the county. A further description of the building next week.

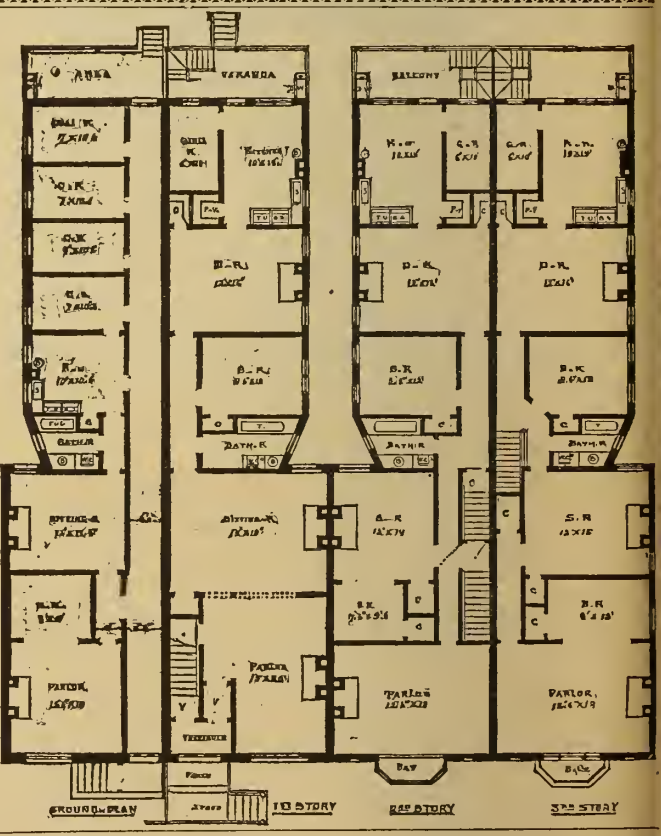
THE Building * Department.

WELL informed builders in this city have in some cases expressed the opinion that if working men continue to demand higher wages, next year the building trades will come to a standstill. If the successes the workmen have met with this year will turn their heads as success often has heretofore, the employers will naturally look for impracticable demands. If the workmen are wise, they will let their victories stand where they are, this year at least, and not overdo or crowd enterprise to the wall or frighten away investors. The laborers, skilled and unskilled, are certainly entitled to share in all the progress of the age. The theory of our government justifies them in doing the best they can for themselves, and the natural rights inherent in every individual in society also justify them in seeking to sell their labor at its highest price. For the best interest of all, however, it is necessary that those who control great operations should feel an assurance that their investments will not be jeopardized by fluctuating costs of material. The workmen have acted wisely this year in making known their demands at the outset. They overlook one of the secret causes of the e xistiug prosperity, viz., the low prices of material during the past two years. If material had been 10 or 15 per cent. higher during 1884 and 1885, the building activity of 1885 and the promised activity of 1886 would not have come or be in sight. Thirteen per cent. is recognized as a very fair figure in investments in building properties. If higher wages and higher prices of material should threaten a reduction to 10 or 8 per cent., there would be naturally less inducement to builders and investors. In some cases profits have run as high as 16, 18, and even 20 per cent., where profitable purchases were made in real estate.



The advancing tendency of real estate in this city has resulted recently in a few rather large transactions. Parties who have been offering real estate at reasonable prices, it is understood, have withdrawn some of their offers within thirty days. The tendency of real estate, both city and suburban, is naturally to a higher range of values. Last year every operation was strictly legitimate. So are those of 1886; but in some of them there are symptoms of a speculative feeling, which, if it goes far, will counteract the healthful influences now at work. Last year there was a great deal of real estate offered. This year there is less, although as much is available as last year. Holders of real estate are more confident than twelve months ago that their property will be wanted for building purposes, and they are naturally anxious to profit by 10 or 12 per cent. appreciation.

The very influences that are now advancing prices, increasing demands, and strengthening confidence in business and manufacturing circles, are laying the foundations for a reaction which may not set in for perhaps a year or two to come, but which is bound to come, if the story of the past is worth anything. There have been ups and downs as long as men can remember. We are now in an era of advancing prices. Considering the enormous amount of machinery, the wonderful manufacturing processes at our command, and the rapidity with which products of all kinds can be turned out, it may be surprising that there is any possibility for prices to advance; but they are advancing nevertheless. As a rule, manufacturers look to the requirements of only one twelve months ahead. During the past six months a great increase in capacity has been made; two causes are at work to produce a reactiou; first, the advancing tendency in prices which will go to check enterprise and investment; second, the increasing supply of products of all kinds, which will in time crowd prices down. These two influences will meet together at a common point, some time in the future, and the reaction will set in.

While builders and investors are watching with an eagle eye opportunities in suburban localities, they are overlooking opportunities in the older portions of the city. A few men will be smart enough in a short time to profit by the opportunities presented there. There are opportunities of purchasing old properties, occupied by business rookeries that ought to be torn down, and fine commercial structures erected in their place, with all moderu improvements and attractions. It is rather surprising that the business men of the day, or so many thousands of them, should be content to put up with the kitchens and dining rooms and garrets, or even parlors, of those who have been rectifying the the dwellings of our business sectiou. This is genuine provincialism. It is a wonder that the ghosts of the ancient cooks and chamber-maids do not arise and drive them out, and tell them to make suitable business haunts for themselves. A little euterprise of this kind is needed. If there is any doubt on this point, let the earniugs of some of our elevator buildings be compared to the earnings of adjoiuing properties, and the question is answered.

IF labor troubles ripen into a general disturbance of the peace and welfare of the country, hinder trausportation and embarrass employers, all law abiding citizens will regret it. In a previous number of the JOURNAL it was insisted that there was nothing ahead to hinder universal prosperity all over the country but possible labor troubles. The Northwestern Lumberman says on the subject of the present agitation, that the late developments indicate that possibility has changed to probability. Yet the case is not desperate; the skirmishes between capital and labor now occurring may be prevented from development into fierce battle, with the main forces on both sides engaged, by the swift coming of a crying demand for commodities and higher prices that shall lead employers in the majoyity of cases to meet the views of their employes, and thus avert strikes, lockouts and general disturbance. While it is to be hoped that this happy state of things may be the outcome, there is this to be said: Employers should stand to their rights and the rights of the people against all encroachments of organized labor. It is perfectly reasonable for employers to listen to the demands of their men for higher wages, reduced hours, or other changes that may be requested. Employers should not deny the right of laborers to form associations. Nobody can say truthfully that employes have not a right to quit work singly or in a body. But when they demand the discharge of certain workmen obnoxious to them, or intimidate any that wish to continue work, or by riotous conduct disturb the peace and injure the property and business of heir whilom employers, they are violating the law, and attacking the very bulwark of our institutions — personal berty. Such conduct should be put down by the strong hand of the law, and the spirit that prompts it should be made odious by the contempt of public opinion,

DESCRIPTION OF THE ABOVE BUILDINGS.

These are the plans of the four buildings shown above, and of a set of four flats for each building with every modern improvement; coal elevators, electric bells, etc. The fronts are of pressed brick and stone trimmings. Each house is well lighted, aired, and all kinds of shafts are avoided. The contract price as built in Chicago was less than $20,000 completely finished.

The Lumber Market.

Whatever dullness there is reported by lumbermen may be attributed to the strike, and the agitation of the "eight hour hobby" by working men. The strike only affects the Missouri Pacific lines, but the general striking disturbance has a bad effect on the roads leading to the West and Southwest. The Burlington and Alton lines carry a portion of the Kansas and Missouri trade, but the bulk of it is done by the Gould system. The blockade at East St. Louis prevents the shipping of any lumber to Kansas and Missouri points. In all other respects the outlook for a brisk trade is good. The local demand, together with heavy shipments to the country, has already reduced the stock on hand, as is evidenced by the bare foundations of lumber piles frequently seen.

There is said to be a scarcity of small timbers 4x4, 6x6 and 6 x 8. There is already an advance in prices on stuff that last year was a drug. Timber of small dimensions is now selling at $12 to $12.50 a thousand.

In spite of labor disturbences there is a tendency to advance prices, and a feeling of firmness.

ARTISTIC WALL PAPER.

Many very beautiful and tasty designs are to be noticed among the new wall papers offered to the public this season.

Among the most complete and varied stocks of this class of goods, comprising all grades, is that of the R. T. Martin Company, 265 and 267 State st.

The firm is offering special inducements in prices, and as they are not connected with the pool or combination to keep up high prices, they are able to, and do, offer their goods lower than other houses. They also have excellent facilities for paper-hanging. All orders receive prompt and careful attention.

Employing only first-class workmen, and having a scale of prices quite moderate as compared with other houses, it is a very desirable place to trade.

We are informed that the R. T. Martin Company give special rates to real estate agents and owners.

MASTER PAINTERS' ASSOCIATION.

An adjourned meeting of the Master Painters' Association of Chicago was held on the evening of the 16th inst., at their rooms in the Builders' Exchange. A communication from the Painters' Local Assembly 1940 was read. An answer prepared by a committee was submitted to the meeting, and amended. The secretary was directed to forward the same to the Painters' Local Assembly. After transacting some other minor business, the meeting was adjourned till the first Tuesday in April, when the JOURNAL will publish all the particulars in a full report of the organization.

How to Decorate.

A novel timepiece represents a lighthouse with a revolving light; on one side of what is supposed to be the lantern is a time-piece, at the back of that is a barometer and on either side are two thermoneters.

Canton crepe shawls make very elegant and effective easel drapery.

Long stem-like glass vases, some three feet high and with alternate lines of color, are now shown for cabinet ornaments.

Rich lamps are of ruby cut glass the shades are also of ruby glass exquisitely cut.

A mantelpiece banked with poinsettia and lilies is strikingly elegant.

A most charming bannerette is of ivory-white silk bolting cloth embroidered with the narcissus flower and leaves. Outline the flowers in yellow filoselle and the edge of the cup-like centre with orange tipped with red; the leaves and stems outline in olive greens and the background of the whole is darned with shaded yellows; bands of yellow-green velvet finish the top and bottom, and yellow and green silk tassels ornament the lower edge; the background is of ivory-white satin and the bannerette is suspended from an ivory-white pole with gilded ends.

The newest chair backs are made of silk bolting cloth over silks, these are embroidered in filo floss and fine gilt thread.

THE NEW PANORAMA.

The Battle of Missionary Ridge now open to the Public.

The panorama of the Battle of Missionary Ridge is now opened to the public. The American Panorama Co. has selected this battle for illustration on account of the exceptional grandeur of the scenery and for the extraordinary character of the conflict. It is especially interesting, too, in that Grant, Sherman, Sheridan, Thomas, and a dozen other noted Union generals participated, while many of the officers who fought on the confederate side are now prominent in Washington—among them Col. James D. Porter, who is assistant secretary of state.

The standpoint of observation is on a spur of Missionary ridge. Standing on the top of this spur and looking due east a vast stretch of country, hundreds of miles in extent, comes within the range of vision. It is hilly, precipitous, picturesque, and beautiful. Ravines and gorges and fertile valleys lend a subtle charm to the wide expanse, and winding unseen among the hills is Chickamauga creek, whose waters reveal themselves for a moment in the distance and then disappear. Ridge rising after ridge, and growing less distinct in the gathering purple mists and haze, with great green masses of forest here and there, and showing in the nearer view a lonely farmhouse now and then. Finally carry the eye to the horizon—irregular, broken, jagged, for here the outline of five mountain ranges meets the sky. Sweeping in a semi-circle from the extreme northeast to due south the eye passes in review the peaks of the Blue Ridge mountains in Virginia, a part of the Great Smoky range, the heights of the North Carolina mountains, which, far to the southeast. meet the spurs of Rocky Face ridge that disappear southward and leave the eye resting on a part of the Pigeon range in Alabama. This is half the picture.

The whole scene is in a semi-shadow, for it is late in the afternoon, and if the observer turn squarely around he will see the sun dropping behind the hills just to the right of Lookout mountain, which stands out boldly against the sky and over which a white, low-drifting cloud has partially settled. Still, by looking closely—for it is four miles and a half from the point of observation—one may discern a spectral flag flying from its topmost palisade. It is the union flag, for Hooker had already fought the battle above the clouds. At the base of Lookout mountain the turgid Tennessee comes into view, flowing in an irregular semi-circle from the north-east, where it looses itself in the mountains north of Missionary ridge. From the farther bank of the river foot-hills rise, leading up to the Raccoon range, just north of Lookout mountain, and to the Waldron range of table-lands. From the nearer bank is a wide, open, comparatively level plain, reaching from the river to the ridge on which the observer stands. It is sparsely treed and it is broken up by several knobs and knolls. This plain and the ridge itself are the scene of action.

REAL ESTATE LAW.

LANDLORD AND TENANT.

I.

It is the settled law of this country, and of England, that in a lease of a building for a dwelling house or store, no covenant is IMPLIED that it shall be fit for occupation, and no covenant is implied that the lessor shall keep the premises in repair, the tenant, in the absence of an express agreement taking the premises for better or for worse. Wood in his treatise on Landlord and Tenant, says that:

A tenant who has made an unconditional contract to pay rent for a term cannot claim an apportionment or abatement of rent for being deprived of any beneficial enjoyment of the premises, by their being out of repair, or untenantable, or unfit for the use for which they were leased. Moreover there is no IMPLIED warranty by the landlord of the fituess of the premises for the use the tenant has in view, or against accidental destruction; nor is there any implied undertaking to repair or rebuild.

3 Sutherland on Damages, p. 126-7.

There is no IMPLIED warranty on ademise of real or leasehold property that it is fit for the purposes for which it is taken. There is no IMPLIED duty cast on the owner of a house in a ruinous and unsafe condition to inform a proposed tenant that it is unfit for habitation, nor will an action, for deceit lie against him for merely omitting to disclose the fact, but if a landlord fraudulently conceals the fact that a building is unfit for habitation, because of a deleterious stench, proceeding from an unknown cause, it has been held equivalent to an eviction; and case will lie if a landlord lets a house which he knows to be infected with a contagious disease, without disclosing that fact, and the tenant takes such disease.

To the tenant the landlord is not liable for a nuisance existing on the premises at the time when the lease was made, nor for defects therein, unless the defect is latent, and the landlord has been guilty of fraud, or actual concealment, or deceit, in letting. And it may be laid down as a general rule that a landlord, in the absence of a covenant to repair, is not liable for injury resulting from the faulty construction or condition of the premises, the control of which is in the hands of a tenant, either to the tenant or to third persons, unless he has been guilty of fraud in having misrepresented the condition of the premises, or has concealed certain facts relative to their condition that it was his duty to inform the tenant about, and it seems that where certain defects exist, that are likely to injuriously affect the health of the tenant or his family, it is the landlord's duty to disclose the facts, and failing to do so, he is liable to the tenant for all the damages resulting to the tenant which are the immediate and proximate results of snch failnre. See also Reichenbacher v. Pahmeyer, 8 Brad. 217, 382.

Again, it is the general rule that the lessee and occupier of premises which are in his possession, in the absence of any covenant to repair on the part of the landlord, is responsible for all injuries occasioned by a failure to keep the premises in repair, unless the landlord let the premises with a nuisance upon them.

In that case, as the cause of the injury existed anterior to the letting, the owners should have made the repairs. Gridley v. Bloomington, 68 Ill. 300, City of Peoria v. Simpson, 110 Ill 300; Nelson v. Liverpool Brewing Co. 2 C. P. Div. 311.

In New York it was recently held that a lessee occupying real estate may become liable to a stranger by negligently suffering the demised premises to become dangerous. This liability is independent of any contract between the lessor and lessee. It results from the fact that the lessee is in possession, and has the control of the premises, and for that reason he is liable, if by negligently permitting them to become dilapidated and unsafe, third persons are injured. The foundation of his liability is culpable negligence. He is not as to third persons a guarantor of the safety or condi tion of the premises, but is bound only to reasonable care, in his use and occupation of them, so that they may not cause injury to others

Odell v. Solomon, 99 N. Y. 635-6. In this case the court say that the simple fact of the failure of the lessees to keep the premises in repair, whether their duty so to do arose from the covenant in their lease, or from the general duty, was not sufficient to convict them of actual negligence.

It is true that the lessees had occupied the building ever since its construction, which was about three years before the accident, but the case is absolutely bare of any evidence that they had reason to apprehend the existence of any such defect as that which was developed by the very unusual, if not unprecedented accident (the falling of a winbow sash upon a lady as she was passing the premises) which occurred. Ibib.

II

It is an important matter to have the rights, duties and liabilities of tenants understood, and we believe that they are pretty well enderstood, but it is not to be assumed because there is a defect or nuisance in a house which a landlord has leased to a tenant that he knew it at the time that he leased it.

There is nothing so common at the present time as for tenants to claim, when there is a stringency in the money market, or their exchequer gets low, that the house they occupy is filled with sewer gas, and the whole atmosphere poisoned with malaria, and they will not pay rent until the whole thing is overhauled, new sewers put in, and the entiro premises disinfected, and they are remunerated for their losses and damages.

The frauds which are so constantly and freely charged against landlords can, we suspect, be offset every time by the deceit, dishonesty and hypocrisy of tenants, and in that regard we think that the honors are easy.

Lying is a fine art, and when the acts and motives of men can not be explained in favor of an interested party, why he is forthwith to be condemned as a villain. A landlord, that is, the owner of a house who lets the same for hire, is an enemy of mankind, a LUPUS CAPUS, and he should be knocked on the head like a wolf. This is the common voice, and common sentiment, of the renting classes, both in this country and in Europe. Among the most common complaints which are made against landlords by tenants nowadays, is of fraud in letting the premises, and of hidden defects in their structure, in consequence of which they affirm that they are released from all their undertakings and obligations. Let us see for one moment what the law is in such cases.

III.

In cases of fraud, it is immaterial whether any or what covenants are contained in the deed or lease; the fraud is to be established by facts outside of deed or lease. Kerr on F. p. 325, note; 2 Saunder's Pl. and Ev. p. 66; 46 N. H. 510; 1 Comst. 305; 7 Wend. 380; 2 Bibb. 583; 13 Johns. 325; 1 A. K. Marsh, 495; 1 Day, 250; 2 Mon. 117.

If a claim is made for fraud, the representations must not only be false, but false to the knowledge of the party making them. 10 Iowa, 423; 29 Mo. 186; 16 Ind. 290; 57 Barb. 414; 41 N. H. 95: 15 Penn. 200; 22 Ia. 40; 23 Ark. 289; 10 Allen, 548; 39 Miss. 528.

If a landlord fraudulently conceals the fact that a building is unfit for habitation, because of a deleterious stench proceeding from an unknown cause, it has been held equivalent to an eviction. Wood on L. and T. p. 805; 49 Vt. 109; 1 Daly, 481-99.

Again Mr. Wood, in his valuable work on Landlord and Tenant, Sec. 122, p. 174, says that "mere misrepresentations which are false do not necessarily amount to fraud, as they may have been innocently made. In order to have that effect, there must have been an intent to deceive, in reference to a material matter, or if not willfully made, it must have related to a matter about which it was the duty of the party making it to have known the truth, and in the latter case, even though the misrepresentation was innocently made, if it related to a material matter, the party injured may recover the damages he sustains in a court of law, or may resort to a court of equity to have the lease or conveyance set aside." 41 N. Y. Superior Ct. 135; 12 Bush. 723; 1 Abb. App. 30 Ark. 535; 26 Ohio St. 428; 63 N. Y. 426; 63 Mo. 181; 64 Mo. 201; 37 Ind. 1; 45 Ga. 13.

In all cases, the party alleging fraud must prove it, as it will never be inferred from facts which may be consistent with honest intentions.

"But, except where the defect is such as amounts to a nuisance, in the absence of a covenant on his part to repair, the landlord is liable neither to the tenant or third person upon the premises by the tenant's invitation for injuries sustained by reason of any disrepair." Wood on L. and T. p. 921; 56 N. Y. 129.

The Supreme Court of this State has decided that in the absence of any express agreement the occupant, and not the owner, is responsible for injuries received in consequence af a failure to keep the premises occupied in repair. Gudley v. City of Bloomington, 68 Ill. 51.

Although a tenant may abandon the premises upon discovery of a fraud committed upon him and is absolved from the payment of rent, yet if, after discovering the fraud, he continues to occupy the premises, he can not set up such fraud either in discharge or by way of reduction of the rent. Wood on L. and T. p. 922-3; 36 Me. 350; 3 E. D. Smith, 203.

IV.

To the tenant, the landlord is not liable for a nuisance existing on the premises at the time when the lease was made, nor for defects therein, unless the defect is latent and the landlord has been guilty of fraud or actual concealment or deceit in letting. 34 Beav. 250; 3 Gray, 323; 12 M. and W. 68: 48 Me. 316; 9 Cush. 242, 71 Penn. St. 383; 56 N. Y. 398: 112 Mass. 477; 7 Hill, 83; 59 Barb. 477; 4 Rd. Is. 453; 25 Wend. 669; 2 Hill (N. Y. C. P.) 4.

V.

Case will lie if the landlord lets a house which he knows to be infected with a contagious disease, without disclosing that fact, and the tenant takes such disease. 60 N. Y. 229; 19 Am. Rep. 164; 112 Mass. 477: 17 Am. Rep. 122.

VI.

A landlord is not liable to his tenant for personal injuries sustained by reason of the defective condition of the buildings, unless he is chargeable with some affirmative misfeasance or neglect of positive duty or breach of covenant to repair. O'Brien v. Campbell, 59 Barb. 497; Kahn v. Love, 3 Oreg. 206.

Nor is he liable to a third person for a nuisance created or continued on the premises by his tenant, unless he knew or had reason to believe at the time of the letting that it would be so created; but if he re-lets or renews a lease while the nuisance exists, then he is liable. 1 A. and E. 827.

VII.

The rule is well settled that the wrongful act of the landlord does not debar him from a recovery of rent, unless the tenant by such act has been deprived in whole or in part of the possession, either actnally or constructively, or the premises rendered useless. Chic. Legal News Co. v. Browne, 103 Ill. 320; 20 N. Y. 284; 21 Ill. 470; 25 Ill. 587.

VIII.

There has been much said first and last in regard to the summary mode which landlords may resort to by levying a distress for rent, but there are many sound reasons in its favor, quite as potent as those against it.

Said Chancellor Kent in his Commentaries: "The contract for rent and the remedy are in constant use and application; and in the cities and large towns there are few branches of the law that affect more sensibly the interests of every class. The law may be deemed prompt and strict with respect to the interests of the landlord, but I am inclined to think it is a necessary provision. It is best for the tenant that he should feel the constant necessity of early and punctual performance of his contract. It stimulates to industry, economy, temperance, and wakeful vigilance; and it would tend to check the growth and prosperity of our cities if the law did not afford the landlords a speedy and effectual security for their rents, against the negligence and frauds of tenants. It is that security which encourages moneyed men to employ their capital in useful and elegant improvements. If they were driven in every case to the slow process of a snit at law for their rent, it would lead to vexatious and countless lawsuits, and be in many respects detrimental to the public welfare."

IX.

A tenant is liable for any and all damages which are caused to the property or premises of another which arise from his carelessness in the management and use of the premises occupied by him, or by his neglect to repair water-closets, or water, where the same are under his control. Examine White

By reason of its central position and close relation to all principal lines East and West, at initial and terminal points, constitutes the most important mid-continental link in that system of through transportation which invites and facilitates travel and traffic between cities of the Atlantic and Pacific Coasts. It is also the favorite and best route to and from points East, Northeast and Southeast, and corresponding points West, Northwest and Southwest.

The Rock Island system includes in its main line and branches, Chicago, Joliet, Ottawa, La Salle, Peoria, Geneseo, Moline and Rock Island, in Illinois; Davenport, Muscatine, Washington, Fairfield, Ottumwa, Oskaloosa, West Liberty, Iowa City, Des Moines, Indianola, Winterset, Atlantic, Knoxville, Audubon, Harlan, Guthrie Centre and Council Bluffs, in Iowa; Gallatin, Trenton, Cameron and Kansas City, in Missouri; Leavenworth and Atchison, in Kansas; Albert Lea, Minneapolis and St. Paul, in Minnesota; Watertown in Dakota, and hundreds of intermediate cities, towns, villages and stations.

THE GREAT ROCK ISLAND ROUTE

Guarantees its patrons that sense of personal security afforded by a solid, thoroughly ballasted road-bed; smooth tracks of continuous steel rail; substantially built culverts and bridges; rolling stock as near perfection as human skill can make it; the safety appliances of patent buffers, platforms and air-brakes; and that exacting discipline which governs the practical operation of all its trains. Other specialties of this route are Transfers at all connecting points in Union Depots, and the unsurpassed comforts and luxuries of its Passenger Equipment.

The Fast Express Trains between Chicago and the Missouri River are composed of well ventilated, finely upholstered Day Coaches, Magnificent Pullman Palace Sleepers of the latest design, and sumptuous Dining Cars, in which elaborately cooked meals are leisurely eaten, "good Digestion waiting on Appetite, and Health on both." Between Chicago and Kansas City and Atchison, are also run the Celebrated Reclining Chair Cars.

THE FAMOUS ALBERT LEA ROUTE

Is the direct and favorite line between Chicago and Minneapolis and St. Paul, where connections are made in Union Depots for all points in the Territories and British Provinces. Over this route, Fast Express Trains are run to the watering places, summer resorts, picturesque localities, and hunting and fishing grounds of Iowa and Minnesota. It is also the most desirable route to the rich wheat fields and pastoral lands of interior Dakota.

Still another DIRECT LINE, via Seneca and Kankakee, has been opened between Newport News, Richmond, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, and Lafayette and Council Bluffs, Kansas City, Minneapolis and St. Paul and intermediate points.

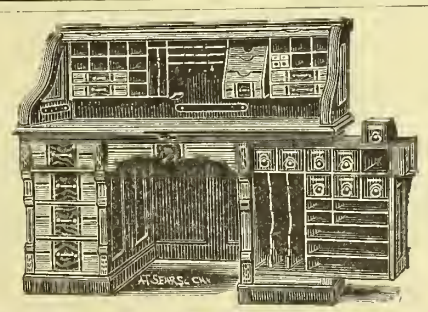
J. J. WADE'S

WASH TANK

AND ALL-PORCELAIN

WATER CLOSET.



THE want of a valveless closet has at last been supplied by my new Wash-Out, in which a body of water is kept constantly in the basin. It is constructed of one piece of earthenware, and is fitted with two-inch brass couplings for ventilation; one for the basin and one for the trap. The basin has a pierced rim, which, at the front, has an outlet extending downward and entering the bowl just above the surface of the water; when water enters the closet, the sides of the basin are washed by the water passing through the pierced rim. But the main body of water passes to the front and thence into the basin with such velocity as to completely force everything from the basin.

This elegant fixture can be seen with the water connected with it at my store,

THE
JOURNAL.

R. C. SMYERS, Editor and Proprietor.

CHICAGO, SATURDAY, MARCH 27, 1886.

The Market.

First-class Dwellings and Residence Lots in Demand.

For several months past a movement has been on foot to concentrate in one building in a convenient locality in the city, certain branches of trade and manufacture, so as to enable bnyers to make selections without visiting a number of places. The scheme will be put in operation in the Honore building, on Dearborn st.

The REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING JOURNAL reports this week articles of agreement between the Conn. Mutual Life Insurance Company and H. H. Honore to convey the Honore block for $750,000. Coupled with the contract is an assignment by the latter to Stephen V. White, of Brooklyn, N. Y., for a consideration of $32,850. The Insurance Company acquired the property by foreclosure; $650,000 had been offered before by a syndicate and refused.

A. J. Cooper has leased of J. Y. Scammon trustee, et al., for 99 years, the lot on Michigan avenue northwest corner of Adams street—the old Pullman Building—east front 52x110 feet, with bnilding, at an annual rental of $8,500 for the first ten years, and afterwards to be appraised. Mr. Cooper is also given the privilege of bnying the property within 3 years. His intention is to remodel the entire building, adding two—and if practicable three—stories to the present structure. A main entrance will be made on the Adams street side, extending entirely through the building to the north wall, where a large court will be built reaching to the roof. The ground floor is to be used for store purposes, and the upper floors for offices. The building is to be remodeled in the most modern manner and provided with all conveniences. Work is to be begun at an early date.

Says one of our leading agencies: "Business is active, and far surpasses that of last year." This is but a fair statement of the opinion of many of our large firms. They are "making hay while the sun shines."

First-class residences eligibly located are in great demand. In fact, the demand is greater than the supply. The old style basement houses are fast losing ground, and will either have to be remodeled or go a-begging. To meet the demand for modern residences lots are being bought in large numbers for immediate improvement.

Qnite a number of large loans have been negotiated within the past week, and small-ones too many to count, as may be seen by referring to the records.

The greatest activity in suburban property is at Normal Park and Englewood, where subdivisions are being opened up and sold out with astonishing rapidity. Lots have already increased about 100 per cent., and there is anticipated another large advance during the coming summer.

Houses are being built in large numbers to accommodate the growing population.

F. B. Clarke is about completing fifteen new buildings on Robey and Taylor streets, to put on the market this spring. Twenty more will be erected in the same vicinity soon.

W. D. Kerfoot & Co. have sold 50 feet on State, south of 31st st., improved, at $30,000; 250 feet on Deming ct. east of Clark, nnimproved, at $17.500: 200 feet on Deming ct. north of Clark st., at $17,000: 50 feet, improved, corner of N. Clark and Wrightwood, at $10,500; 10 acres, Harrison and California avs., at $25,000; 55 acres adjoining South Park and Hyde Park Waterworks, at $35,000, besides numerous smaller ones.

Rutz, Needles & Netling are receiving steady applications for loans, mostly from the West.

F. J. Reed finds the demand for houses, stores, etc., greater than ever.

Bogue & Hoyt say: "Residences finely located are in great demand with ns."

J. P. Bowes & Co. are bnilding in Englewood, and in the vicinity of the Stock Yards.

On the subdivisions of Messrs. Sawyer & Lombard, in Douglas Park, thirty new honses are going np. They have sold two of their $5,000 houses during the past week.

E. S. Dreyer & Co. will be in their new offices on the northeast corner of Dearborn and Washington sts., in the course of two weeks.

At Crawford, 5 acres are reported as sold at $9,000.

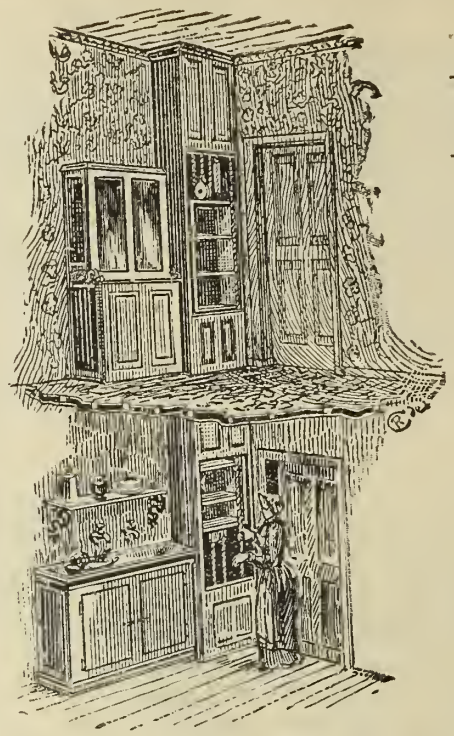
John Wain has opened spacious offices at 133 La Salle st.

The Builders and Traders Exchange have enrolled 500 members. They are receiving, on an average, five applications a week. No persons are admitted as members unless they have good references and have been in business at least a year.

Thos. Moulding, who has just returned from Europe, says that brick in London is bringing $6 and $7 a thousand, and that an immense amount of building is going on there. He thinks that building is now being held in abeyance here to a considerable measure on account of the labor troubles.

REPAIRING PUBLIC BUILDINGS.

The supervising architect recommends that a special appropriation be asked for the repair and preservation of public buildings, as follows: Boise City, Idaho, assay office. $9,000; Chicago, Marine Hospital, $30,000; Chicago, Custom House, etc., $94,-300; New Orleans, Marine Hospital, $50,000; New Orleans, Mint, $15,000; St. Louis, Marine Hospital $15,000. He also recommends that the amount asked for repair of the Parkersburg, W. Va., court house and post-office be increased from $6,500 to $9.687.



Normal Park and Englewood Real Estate.

Among the members of the Chicago Real Estate Board engaged actively in selling real estate, none are doing more suburban business in Normal Park than Mr. J. Robson Weddell, whose city office is at 89 Randolph street, with a branch office at 6830 Halsted street, Normal Park. His specialty is in lots adjacent to the Cook County Normal School, and from that west of the Chicago & Eastern Illinois R. R. He reports this conntry fairly booming, and not less than 300 new houses have been built within the past nine months in that vicinity, Last season he sold over 500 lots to actual settlers and builders, many of whom are prominent city business men, realizing the prodigious growth of Chicago and the rapid increase of values and real estate in its suburbs. As an evidence of the renewed demand this spring, his new subdivision, on the corner of 71st and Halsted streets, 89 lots in all, which he put on record on March 4, has already been half sold. He has a force of men laying about 5,000 feet of new sidewalk on the place, and the lots will be sold out almost before sidewalks are completed, His customers on Sundays look over the ground all day long, and if any one wants to hear enthusiastic news of Normal Park property, so accessible by plenty of trains—thirty minntes ride and 6 cents fare—it will be wise for them to call on Mr. Weddell, or step into his city or suburban office and see for themselves. We think a visit will repay them.

VIOLATING CITY ORDINANCES.

Several of the property owners in the vicinity of West Lake and Ada sts. are indignant about the doings of one Geo. E. White, who runs a lumber yard in that vicinity and is guilty of piling up boards and other rubbish on the sidewalk and in too close proximity to dwelling houses between Elizabeth and Ada sts. There is an ordinance against this, Mr. White, because you endanger life and property, and depreciate the value of the latter.

It is further claimed that the new brick row of buildings now being finished on the southeast corner of Ada and West Lake sts. are not securely and solidly built: that except the two end walls, the partitions are nothing but 2x4's or 2x6's, and that this weakness extends from wall to wall over a hundred feet. One of the property owners in the neighborhood thinks the bnilding will fall down, and that such a structure is not in accordance with the bnilding ordinances of the city.

SHIPMENTS OF GOLD TO EUROPE.

The flow of gold from every direction to Europe is quite significaut. The Bank of France now holds of gold very nearly 49 milliou pounds sterling; ou the 26th of February, 1885, it held only about 40 milliou pounds. The Bank of Germany has of specie about 35 million pounds sterling (of which about 60 per cent. is probably gold), against about 29 million specie sterling a year ago, with uot to exceed 50 per cent. of it gold. The Bank of Netherlauds has also iucreased its gold holdings during the year about two million pounds. These changes are interpreted by some as anticipatory of the struggle which is yet to come with regard to silver. In Germany and France there is undoubtedly a large party favorable to some form of bi-metallism, iu the latter because of the nature of its currency now, and in the former it is increasing because of the commercial distress which prevails. But late utterances show that the Governments of the two countries are beyond a doubt still opposed to it, and do not mean to adopt auy permanent change of policy. unless in connection with Great Britain. The cable reports Prince Bismarck, in a speech at a political gathering a week ago Wednesday, as giviug utterance to words to this effect, and the debate in the French Chamber last month of the motion to open negotiations with a view to the reassembling of the Monetary Conference of 1881, indicated that the Government position was clearly at present opposed to any action. This gold accumulation is therefore natural and prudential. But do not these incidents show very plainly the foolishness, in onr present conditiou, of all overtures on our part, to Enropean Governments in behalf of silver? It is more and more evident every succeeding month, that there is bnt one chance for the white metal in the Old World, and that is through Commercial distress. If we would only stop coinage and throw back on Europe the whole burden of this attempt to discard it as currency, they would, we think, quickly discover and admit, what they try to deny now, that it is gold scarcity and gold appreciation that is disorganizing the world's commerce, and furthermore they would be forced to rectify it.—Financial Chronicle.

DOINGS OF PROPERTY OWNERS.

Property owners in the vicinity of Milwaukee av. and Bloomingdale Road held a meeting at No.1497 on the former street, to take action in regard to a passenger depot near Milwaukee av., and also to compel the company to pay all damages to property owners resulting from the laying of a second track on Bloomingdale Road. The committee appointed at the last meeting to see the railroad officials reported that the company had completed its double track, with the exception of the strip extending from Seymour st. to the river. They said that the company would build a depot as soon as the double track was completed. Up to the present time it had been impossible to build the depot for want of a site, but now they had gotten the title of the necessary land. Mr. McGrath then made a long explanation about the ordinance granted to the company in 1872, and tried to show that the railroad had no right to lay an additional track on Bloomingdale Road, as the charter (granted fourteen years ago) provided that the necessary tracks must be laid within two years from the time the franchise was granted. In case the track was laid, and it now seemed probable that it wonld be, the property owners ought to receive due recompense for damages. The company also agreed to build a viaduct at North av., bnt so far had failed to do so.

THE INCURSIONS OF THE LAKE.

High winds from the northeast during last Saturday and Sunday caused snch a heavy sea as to make serions inroads along the lake front in the vicinity of Pearson and Pine streets. The two-story brick residence of Mr. Crane, at No. 137 Pearson st.. stood more than half a block from the shore line six years ago, but the breakers of Sunday's storm dashed up over the masonry surrounding the yard and against the house with such force as to skake it from basement to roof, threatening to carry it away bodily. Opposite the foot of Pearson street the shore protection consisted of a gangway breakwater belonging to the Delaware Boat Clnb, and a wall of masonry three feet in thickness, against which the roadbed lay. The breakwater was the first to give way to the force of the waves, and then the stone wall crumbled to pieces, at one place causing a breach of about fifty feet. The earth then rapidly collapsed, and in an incredibly short space of time more than half the roadbed was washed out, causiug all traffic to be suspended until Monday morning, when a fence was constructed so as to keep people from going near the bank, which was likely to cave in at any moment.

Those who owned lots a few years ago along the shore line between Oak and Pearson streets would have had difficulty in locating them after the washout. There are many fresh breaks in the Lake Shore drive. The breakwater of twisted brush, sunk with stone, put down about four years ago, is out of sight. The lake is three and one-half feet higher uow than when the breakwater was put in. A new breakwater was begun late last year at the North avenue pier, and work will be prosecuted on it as soon as possible.

Suburban Improvements.

HYDE PARK.

An ordinance was passed for a sidewalk on both sides of Kimbark av. from 55th to 58th sts.; also an ordinance for vacating alley in rear of lots 20 to 27, and of south 5 ft. of lots 19 and 28 B 10 South Chicago was presented and referred to the Judiciary Committee: ordinance providing for a brick sewer in Wabash av. from 45th to 44th sts.; for a sidewalk on the south side of 77th st. from Ford to French avs.; also for same on the west side of Railroad av. from 75th to 78th sts.; and on the south side of 76th st. from Ford to French avs.

Letter from Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, March 22, 1886.

That which people are talking about most, ought perhaps, to deserve the first reference in my letter, and that is the labor qnestion. There are strikes here, there and everywhere. Bnt in the fewest possible words the situation is abont this: The workingmen and women are rushing into the Knights of Labor. Your representative has made it a snbject of special inquiry among the most conservative builders and contractors, to ascertain from them what they thonght of the sitnation. Very positive opinions were not expressed. The fact of the matter is, old heads are at a loss to guess what the outcome of it all will be in ninety days or six months. About the substance of the opinions expressed is, that the present tendency to higher prices of material and labor, besides resnlting in higher prices, will have the effect of checking demand in conrse of time, and therefore lessening enterprise and warning capital against new enterprises, and so say that much of the existing activity has grown ont of the low prices of the past year or two, and that if prices are high investors will naturally proceed more cautiously.

The commercial situation is generally regarded as an improving one, although at the moment the growth of activity and confidence is retarded by the labor troubles and the prevailing uncertainty as to what industry or business interest will be next affected. The gradnal decrease in the failure list in this country continues, but in Canada business troubles seem to be on the increase as the spring season advances. This week's report gives a total of 225, as against 239 last week and 246 the previous week.

So far as the financial situation is concerned, the outlook is both hopeful and encouraging. Money is moving more freely into the channels of active employment; bank reserves are being steadily absorbed; loanable funds are available at comparatively low rates of interest, and the continned export of gold has in no way disturbed the condition of the money market. There is no better gnide, just at present, to the tendencies of trade than the relative volnme of bank clearances, for the stock market has lost its significance for the time being, specnlation in staple products is more or less of an artificial character, and the actual volume of business in progress is not fairly indicated by the fresh sales reported from day to day. Gold shipments naturally attract attention, and in the minds of the timid excites apprehension of a stringent money market. One of the results of the movement, if continued, will quite likely be higher rates for loans, not perhaps from a scarcity of money, but from the equalization of interest rates among commercial conntries. The statistical situation of foreign trade would indicate that we should be receiving instead of shipping gold. For the first seven months of the cnrrent fiscal year the exports of domestic prodncts exceeded merchandise imports more than fifty-five millions, and as a natural result, after allowing for interest payments on American securities held abroad the debt account should still have been in our favor. Bnt there are inferences other than trade balances—nnless these are overwhelming—that govern the movement of specie. When gold is required by a leading commercial country, and sufficient inducements are held out, it is quite certain to obtain what is reqnired.

When Italy, two years ago, aspired to a national gold basis, the flow of this coin set in that direction, as it did towards the United States when our Government decided to resume specie payment, and made the necessary provision for secnring a gold currency. A gold producing country like the United States is qnite certain at times to become an exporter of coin or bnllion, regardless of trade movement.

Since 1850 the production of gold in this conntry is estimated to exceed 1,500 millions of dollars, and yet the amount of gold money in this country is estimated at but little in excess of one-third of this snm. Dnring this time the United States has enjoyed commercial prosperity, and at no time has suffered a lack of gold arising from the conditions of trade.

On June 30, 1879, the amount of gold currency in the United States, estimated by the mint anthorities was, in ronnd nnmbers, $286,500,000.

Between 1880 and 1885 inclnsive the excess of imports of gold over exports was $118,300,000, and the yield of the mines $182,000,000, making a total of $586,800,000. The same authority makes the total product of our mines since 1845 nearly $1,700,000,000. from which it would appear that during this period we have exported over $1,100,000,000 gold in excess of imports. This result is not borne ont by the statistics of trade during this long period. There is nndoubtedly more gold in the country than estimated by treasury officials, the location of which may be acconnted for by hoarding.

The pretty town of Palmyra, N. J., seven miles from Philadelphia, on the Camden & Amboy division of the Pennsylvania R. R., has grown very rapidly within the last two or three years' In this short space of time the place has more than doubled itself, and it is reported that nearly one hundred new dwellings are to be erected this year. The village offers unusual attractions to Philadelphians, being bnt twenty-five minntes' ride from Market st. ferry, while the train accommadations, under the arrangement of Mr. W. N. Barnard, could not be more convenient to those doing bnsiness in this city. The fact is that fully one half of the male popnlation are merchants or clerks having employment in Philadelphia,

Lumber and Building Material.

The status of the lumber market is unchanged. Arrivals are picked up almost as soon as they come to hand. Small timbers are still scarce. Indications in the Northwest and the Southwest appeared good for a heavy spring lumber trade and a veritable boom in all building material; but the recent striking disturbance is working havoc in Kansas and Missouri. Shipments in all other directions are large.

The condition of the white pine demand, in its relation to values in the Northwest and at the East, is favorable to a profitable season. The manufacturers in Michigan and Wisconsin are still firm in their holdings, on a basis of $1 to $2 above last year's prices. On the east shore of Lake Michigan dimension is held at $9.50 to $10, and sales have been made for delivery in Chicago at $11. The quantity of dry lumber at lake points is small compared to that carried over in former years. It is true that inquiry for stock to be sawed, and purchases of dry lumber at the mills have not been a marked feature of the condition during the past week, yet there is no anxiety manifest on the part of holders, for they know that yard stocks are being rapidly depleted by shipment and local consumption, and that there will be a call for the dry lumber at the mills as soon as navigation is open. In Saginaw valley, sales during the week have been but moderate, but such sales as have taken place were made at firm figures.

ON FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

in the afternoon, commencing at 1:10 o'clock. A majority of the members were present in person or by representative, and quite a large crowd assembled Friday afternoon. Mr. C. H. The bidding went up by $5 and $10 bids to $4,675. at which figure it was knocked down to Mr. H, C. Morey, who bought it for Geo. Butler.

Six one-story brick cottages on a lot 50x 125 feet, at the northwest corner of Harrison street and Oakley avenue, were taken by Mr. M. R Barnard at $13,200, that being only $68 higher than the upset price.

Eight or ten pieces of property were then offered.

Mr. R. C. Givins took one lot, 25x143 feet, on Centre avenne, between Jackson and Van Buren streets, at $3,095.

After calling off nearly the whole of the remaining list of fifty pieces of property, all said to be good bargains, Mr. Mead of the firm of Mead & Coe offered a raise of $25 on upset figure of $13,000 for a two story brick dwelling at No. 552 North Clark street. HOME INSURANCE BUILDING.

ONE OF the most recherche features of the building is the Italian marble entrance halls, the beautiful wainscoting in Italian marble and Mexican onyx and the massive threads of the grand stairway in the former costly material, all of which has been supplied by the well-known firm of Davidson & Sons, contractors for marble and granite building work with offices and yards at the foot of N. Market street, Chicago, and 137 to 147 Third street, Milwaukee. This firm whose splendid work may also be seen in the Board of Trade Building, the Royal Insurance Building, First National Bank and other public buildings in Chicago, have surpassed all previous efforts, no building being similar in the profuse employment of Italian marble and onyx. The marble is from the far famed quarries of Carrara, Italy, and the onyx from those situated in the immediate neighborhood of the City of Mexico. The effect produced by Davidson & Sons by the careful and artistic blending of the two materials gives an appearance of lightness and grandeur to the hallways and stairways npon which the eye rests with pleasure and the manner in which the entire work has been carried out is worthy of the high reputation enjoyed by the firm among architects and builders. In addition to the stairways and wainscoting the marble window screens and beautiful marble fitting of the lavatories are also furnished by the firm. The total cost of the marble used in the building was $85,000 about the same amount having been expended on the Mutual Life Insurance Building, New York, with the exception of which it is original in business architecture in the United States and is a standing monument to the taste and workmanlike ability of the firm.

No. 21 QUINCY STREET.

Srteet Cars for Dearborn Street.

A petition has been circulated among the owners of property on Dearborn street, north of Polk, asking from the Common Council the privilege of building a street-railway from Polk street northward to the river. Several recent attempts to secure a right of way along Dearborn street for private companies have inspired this action. The Star Railway Company, which looks to Fourteenth street for its principal thoroughfare east and west, wants a track on Dearborn, and the Chicago Passenger Railway Company covets the same street in order to connect its different tracks running westward. Nothing of definit character has yet been accomplished beyond securing a few scattered names on the street in support of each petition. In this view of the case the owners of the property most nearly concerned, deeming it against their interest to suffer any one line to monopolize so valuable a franchise, have conceived the idea of taking possession themselves, not, as they say, for any pecuniary profit arising out of the operation of the road itself, but in order to afford equal facilities to all railway lines that may wish to avail themselves of the privilege of using the tracks. The plan is well matured. With a capital stock of $100,000 divided into $50 shares the company proposes to build its tracks from the Chicago river to Polk street, and to lease to any other company the right to run its cars on the street upon payment of a rental proportionate to the number of cars used. The Dearborn street company itself will keep a few cars running up and down the street. The capital stock will be distributed among the property-owners at the rate of one share for every five feet, but if any owner, while consenting to the use of the streat for such a purpose, is unwilling to become a stockholder the shares representing his property will be taken in the name of a trustee for the benefit of all. It is an essential feature of the plan that all shares are to be for a number of years incapable of transfer except to the members of the company, so that no one of the rival lines can gain control of the dirctory, This will assure to all who wish to use the tracks in a proper way the privilege of doing so at reasonable cost. Thus the largest possible amount of traffic on the road will be secured, and in the opinion of the promoters of the enterprise the street will be benefitted to the greatest extent. To show that there can be no interest on the part of the stockholders to work the railroad for their own profit without regard to the welfare of the street the promoters compare the value of their property with the insignificant value of the stock which it would entitle them to subscribe for.

How to Decorate.

Small Roman brass lamps are used for writing desks.

An ornamental lamp for the drawing room is on a high brass pedestal.

A very pretty effect is obtained by running a narrow shelf of Moorish fret-work over the top of a doorway and placing upon it quaint jars, jugs, etc. A Mexican water or ginger jar, with a few peacock feathers thrust carelessly in it, will look well.

A novel table-scarf is made of black suralh silk, with each end embroidered with a fanciful design in gold and silver, kismet cord; the edges finished with a fringe of narrow ribbon about one inch in width and varying in color. There should be three tiers of ribbons, as it were, each overlapping the other; for instance, let the first row be seven inches in length, the next five, and the last row three inches; fasten the ends of the ribbon in a point and upon it sew crescents, sequins, etc.

CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC RAILWAY

By reason of its central position and close relation to all principal lines East and West, at initial and terminal points, constitutes the most important mid-continental link in that system of through transportation which invites and facilitates travel and traffic between cities of the Atlantic and Pacific Coasts. It is also the favorite and best route to and from points East, Northeast and Southeast, and corresponding points West, Northwest and Southwest.

The Rock Island system includes in its main line and branches, Chicago, Joliet, Ottawa, La Salle, Peoria, Geneseo, Moline and Rock Island, in Illinois; Davenport, Muscatine, Washington, Fairfield, Ottumwa, Oskaloosa, West Liberty, Iowa City, Des Moines, Indianola, Winterset, Atlantic, Knoxville, Audubon, Harlan, Guthrie Centre and Council Bluffs, in Iowa; Gallatin, Trenton, Cameron and Kansas City, in Missouri; Leavenworth and Atchison, in Kansas; Albert Lea, Minneapolis and St. Paul, in Minnesota; Watertown in Dakota, and hundreds of intermediate cities, towns, villages and stations.

THE GREAT ROCK ISLAND ROUTE

Guarantees its patrons that sense of personal security afforded by a solid, thoroughly ballasted road-bed; smooth tracks of continuous steel rail; substantially built culverts and bridges; rolling stock as near perfection as human skill can make it; the safety appliances of patent buffers, platforms and air-brakes; and that exacting discipline which governs the practical operation of all its trains. Other specialties of this route are Transfers at all connecting points in Union Depots, and the unsurpassed comforts and luxuries of its Passenger Equipment.

The Fast Express Trains between Chicago and the Missouri River are composed of well ventilated, finely upholstered Day Coaches, Magnificent Pullman Palace Sleepers of the latest design, and sumptuous Dining Cars, in which elaborately cooked meals are leisurely eaten, "good Digestion waiting on Appetite, and Health on both." Between Chicago and Kansas City and Atchison, are also run the Celebrated Reclining Chair Cars.

THE FAMOUS ALBERT LEA ROUTE

Is the direct and favorite line between Chicago and Minneapolis and St. Paul, where connections are made in Union Depots for all points in the Territories and British Provinces. Over this route, Fast Express Trains are run to the watering places, summer resorts, picturesque localities, and hunting and fishing grounds of Iowa and Minnesota. It is also the most desirable route to the rich wheat fields and pastoral lands of interior Dakota.

Still another DIRECT LINE, via Seneca and Kankakee, has been opened between Newport News, Richmond, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, and Lafayette and Council Bluffs, Kansas City, Minneapolis and St. Paul and intermediate points.

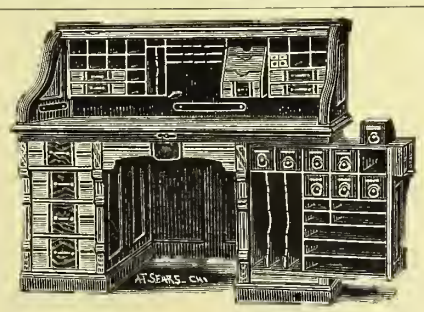
J. J. WADE'S

WASH TANK

AND ALL-PORCELAIN WATER CLOSET.



THE want of a valveless closet has at last been supplied by my new Wash-Out, in which a body of water is kept constantly in the basin. It is constructed of one piece of earthenware, and is fitted with two-inch brass couplings for ventilation; one for the basin and one for the trap. The basin has a pierced rim, which, at the front, has an outlet extending downward and entering the bowl just above the surface of the water; when water enters the closet, the sides of the basin are washed by the water passing through the pierced rim. But the main body of water passes to the front and thence into the basin with such velocity as to completely force everything from the basin.

This elegant fixture can be seen with the water connected with it at my store,

BUSINESS OUTLOOK.

THE MARKET.

Ninety-nine Year Leases Growing in Popularity.

General trade continues very quiet at all sea-board markets, with, however, very little change comparatively in prices of merchandise. As compared with the corresponding period last year, the volume of business in progress shows vast improvement, and in every respect the existing situation, as well as the future outlook, is in striking contrast with what it was a year ago; but since the current year commenced the progress of events has been somewhat disappointing, and the recent developments have somewhat neutralized the hopeful anticipations with which the future has been viewed. Confidence has not been shaken in the ultimate results of a promising outlook, but there is an evident feeling of hesitation to entering upon fresh ventures, and a disposition to await the more definite solution of existing problems that seem to threaten and hinder the march of progressive improvement. It is true that general trade has scarcely as yet had an opportunity to feel the stimulating influences of the anticipated spring movement, and the real breaking up of the roads in the country and the actual developments of the season have not yet occurred, but the continued absence of any material improvement in the demand for general merchandise in connection with the disquieting influences that prevail with respect to commercial and industrial affairs, has a tendency to further restrict the volume of business and produce an uneasy feeling lest the forecasts of the future have been too sanguine. While, however, the surface currents are for the moment unfavorable, the undercurrent gives no evidence of having relaxed its steady onward movement, there is no reason to believe that consumption has fallen off, production is not accumulating supplies that can not be marketed, and if profits are narrow and fresh business slow, with but few exceptions supplies are steadily held, and there is an absence of pressure to sell that would indicate a loss of confidence.

The abundance of money now being loaned for building purposes is in striking contrast with the condition of the money market four or five years ago. At that time, and for several years previous, the favorite avenues for investments were stocks and bonds—even mining stocks of undeveloped mines. There is less excitement and less interest shown by moneyed men even in Board of Trade operations, and the bucket-shop business is almost flattened. It is no exaggeration of the truth to say that the bulk of all the savings of the people is being invested in buildings and real estate. This building fever prevails east as well as west, in small as well as large cities, and may be said to amount to a "craze." There seems to be nothing else to put their money in. Never before was the building of such houses by capitalists carried on to such an extent, to be sold on quarterly or monthly payments.

These large operations may cause a glut in small houses. If everybody goes on putting their money into buildings, it must. But for small houses, especially in the manufacturing districts, there is a very great demand.

The contractors tell the same story. They think the year promises to be not only better than several before it, but one quite unprecedented in the amount of building operations.

While the leasing of property for a term of years, ninety-nine being the rule, is of comparatively recent date in Chicago and the West, it is by no means so in the East and in Europe, for it has been in vogue there for many years. In London many leases for a term of ninety-nine years are now drawing to a close. The successful issue of these leases where they have been tried, and the gilt edge security which such a lease gives to the capitalist, are already causing many to seek this kind of investment. In fact, many of the sales in business property this spring have taken place on the condition of the property being leased at a fair consideration. This is notably so in the transactions on Market, Franklin and Dearborn streets.

Take, for example, a piece of vacant property on the market at $50,000. Many capitalists stand ready to purchase it if it can be leased for a fair consideration, say six per cent., or $3,000 a year, with a re-valuation of the property every five or ten years, and in some cases longer periods, during the term of ninety-nine years. Often it is stated in the lease that said improvements are to be kept in repair. The obtaining of reliable parties to take these leases is the important thing in such transactions, and some of our agents are giving their time almost exclusively to this business, with marked success.

Among the large sales recorded this week, and which swell the aggregate amount of the sales for the week very materially, is the Honore block for $730,000, mentioned in last week's issue; also the sale of property located at the junction of Western ave. and the south branch of the river, to C. H. McCormick, Jr., for $250,000. The important business building on the southwest corner of Washington st. and Wabash ave., where D. B. Fisk & Co. have carried on a wholesale millinery and fancy goods business since 1873, was last week sold to Albert J. Averell, real estate agent, for $525,000. Although D. B. Fisk & Co. have sold the property, they have no intention of relinquishing their business, and have renewed a lease with the purchaser. N. B. Ream was figuring on buying the block for some time, but would not offer more than $500,000. Mr. Averell stated that he had purchased the property, but declined to say whom he acted for in the transaction. He mentioned, however, that a lease of the building had been granted to D. B. Fisk & Co., and that business would be conducted by them as usual. Mr. Averell further stated that five years ago he had sold the block to D. B. Fisk & Co. for $255,000, which shows that in this limited time Wabash avenue real estate has more than doubled its value.

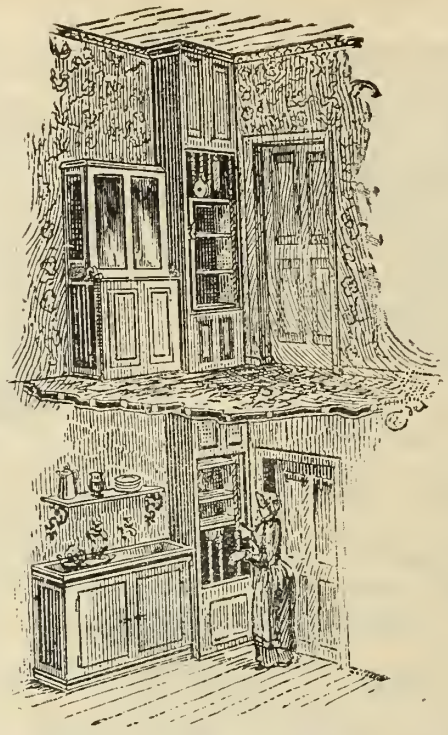
In Englewood an important purchase was made by B. F. Jacob, of the Rock Island R. R., of property between 61st and 63d sts., and Wentworth and La Salle sts. for $60,000. This is business property, and will be subdivided and put immediately on the market. J. F. Mick & Son are the agents.

Burke & Adams have recently opened up a new subdivision in Englewood.

At Chicago Lawn, one of the new suburbs, building operations have already opened up. It is situated southwest of the city, on the Chicago & Grand Trunk Railroad and 63d st. John T. Eberhart is a large owner of this property, and is preparing extensive building plans for this year.

W. T. Cushing reports an advance of at least twenty per cent. in property adjoining Ogden ave. and Flournoy st., since last year. This property is now bringing what it did twelve years ago. In other words, it has taken [illegible] length of time to recover from the effects of the panic.

The Real Estate Board will hold its regular [illegible] meeting Wednesday, April 7, at 4 [illegible].



A school-house to cost $30,000 will be erected [illegible] Hyde Park, and will be the best school-[illegible] in Cook Co. The houses built here [illegible] between $4,000 and $7,000.

The new school-house at La Grange is well [illegible] way. It will cost $20,000.

[illegible] and Klauber has resumed the real estate [illegible] business again, after an absence of several [illegible] months.

[illegible] Davis & Co. report the sale of four [illegible] in Argyle. Three residences are now going up.

The Tiffany Pressed Brick Co. have made [illegible] improvements in their manufactory at Momence, Ill., during the winter, amounting to $30,000. The demand for their brick is now greater than they can meet. Their facilities can be increased so that they will be able to turn out 20,000 a day.

DEFECTIVE BUILDINGS.

RESPONSIBILITY OF ARCHITECTS.

The seven-story building owned by J. B. low, on the corner of Franklin and Lake reets is not yet completed and is in a fair ay to fall down. The Franklin street side the building is resting on jack screws. ass Chapman is the architect.

The W. A, Thomas Building corner Dear- orn and Harrison streets seven-stories high, in a worse condition. The foundations e giving away and the building now rests, jacks-screws. H. R. Wilson is the archi- ct. The owner threatens suit against the chitect for $10,000

In last weeks issue we reported the build- gs or row of buildings on the south east rner of Lake and Ada streets as being perfectly constructed. The man who ade the report to this JOURNAL that the rtition walls in the last mentioned build- g were unsafe is the owner of the block the north east corner of Lake and Ada reet and is also the owner of other prop- ty in the immediate neighborhood. Our porter did not make a thorough examina- on of the structure for want of time and lied on the statement of a property owner ho was vouched for by still another prop- ty owner in the neighborhood. If our formant has stated an untruth we will blish the facts as they are. If an archi- ct is employed to make the plans and perintend the construction of a building d makes a disgraceful failure of the work e public should know it in order that hers may not be imposed upon. A sort Building Inspection Department will be aintained by the REAL ESTATE AND BUILD- G JOURNAL and communications bearing the subject will be published for the good the city.

Architects to a very great extent have the eauty and permanence of our city in their nds as well as the lives of human beings.

OINGS OF PROPERTY OWNERS.

The property owners of Indiana avenue re endeavoring to have that thoroughfare nverted into a Boulevard. An ordinance as been granted to the South Side City ailway Co to lay a double track on Indiana venue. A movement is on foot to improve he avenue from Twenty-second to Thirty- inty street in co-operation with the street ailway Co. in the work of general improve- ents.

The entire width of the avenue is sixty- x feet, of which the roadway takes np hirty-eight feet and the sidewalks fourteen- he new double track will leave eleven feet f roadway between the track and the curb. hree weeks ago George W. Mathews, Louis Vahl, and a number of other property-own rs put their heads together, and by dint of isitation and influence have already suc- eeded in converting the majority of the roperty-owners to their views. According the proposed plan the roadway of the venue will be widened by setting back the rb four feet on each side, thus making the adway only four feet narrower than that f Michigan avenue. The sidewalks will be x feet wide independent of a coping four et high on the lawn side of the walk. is is intended to protect the lawns from walk, and three feet will be added to the lawns in front of the houses. All the fences and copings are to be removed, and trees will be placed on the front line of the lots in such disposition that the avenue will be eight feet wider between the trees than Michigan avenue. Very few of the old trees which at present grace the avenue are worth preserving, their growth having been stunted through lack of nourishment induced by the stone sidewalk and the hard roadway. Any of them, however, whose lives it may be desirable to spare will be placed in line with the new trees on the lawns. The promoters of the improvement claim that the arrangement of the trees will give the avenue the appearance of a broad boulevard, and so add materially to its beauty, and consequently enhance the value of property The majority of the property-owners are enthusiastic over the projected improvement, and petitions in favor of the changes are being evtensively circulated and signed in the district. The expense, it is said, will not be great. The South Side City Railway Company will nse horse-cars in the meantime on the double track when constructed, but the property-owners anticipate that before long a cable system will be introduced on the road.

THE Boynton Furnace Co., 75 and 77 Lake street are now in the field with a complete line of Boynton's latest patterns of furnaces fireplace and room heaters, which are adapted to all kinds of fuel and for warming all classes of buildings. They have also perfected arrangements for handling the well-known Tuttle & Bailey's Registers, for the trade in the West.

They desire to call especial attenion to the fact that all the late patterns of Boynton's furnaces, ranges heaters, etc., in the market are manufactured by the Boynton Furnace Co, only, and in these goods buyers will get the latest and best ideas of Mr. N. A. Boynton, who is president of the Boynton Furnace Co., and who gives personal supervision to the manufacture of all their goods bearing his name. He is the originator and patentee of all the Boynton Furnaces that have ever been placed on the market. They have 78 sizes and styles of their furnaces.

The interest taken by the leading men of the profession already give assurance of the success of the association.

DECORATORS AND PAINTERS.

No trade is more in season at this time of the year than that of the decorator and painter, for no custom is more prevalent than the cleaning and repairing of spring.

A little paint and fresh wall paper are the essentials at this time. Prominent among the large decorators and painters is the firm of J. B. Sullivan & Bro., 266 and 268 North Clark st. Their facilities for painting, decorating, frescoing and paper hanging are the best, these different departments being equipped with expert workmen, and under the supervision of skilled men.

They also are dealers in wall paper and decorations, and carry constantly a large stock of all grades of imported and domestic wall papers and decorations.

Some of the finest work in Chicago and vicinity has been committed to them. Believing that their work should be their best testimonial, they take pleasure in referring to the many buildings in Chicago and the West which they have painted and decorated.

Real estate agents and property owners by dealing with them will derive the benefit of their many years of experience, and may feel assured of satisfaction.

Profits on Mahogany Furniture.

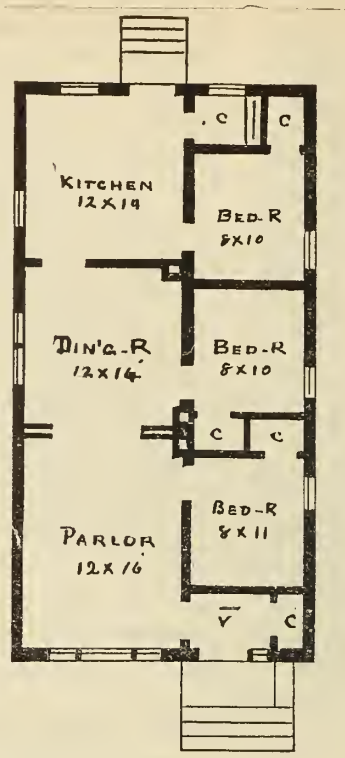
AT THE office of the only mahogany lumber yard in Chicago a representative of the JOURNAL learned what will be a surprise to a majority of Chicagoans—that the cost of manufacturing a chair or any piece of furniture of mahogany is but little more, even if the cost of the material is included, than of any other good material; ash, walnut or oak for instance. The prices charged for mahogany lumber in this city delivered on the cars or laid down in any yard or on any lot within the city limits, is from 11c to 20c per square foot.

Large Cuba mahogany, one inch thick and over, first quality, is 14c to 16c per foot; small Cuba, 11c; St. Jago, 18c; St. Domingo, 20c; and Mexican mahogany, from 13 to 17c; second grade ranges from 10 to 11½ cents per foot.

Honduras mahogany is not the best by any means, as many suppose, but St. Domingo is among the very best. By actual measurement the amount of this material used in an ordinary chair is from 5 to 6 feet, say at 15 cents per foot, making the cost of the wood in a piece of furniture, retailed at $25, cost but about 90 cents. It requires less work to make a fine chair in mahogany than it does in cherry or birch, or even walnut; because of the susceptibility of the first of a finer finish in the natural wood.

A furniture establishment on Wabash avenue recently sent a mahogany chair to the private office of Mr. Pullman and charged for it the sum of $50. The amount of wood in the chair is less than 12 feet, 1 inch measurement. The carving, although somewhat elaborate, could not possibly amount to enough to bring the cost up to $15. A gain of $35 on an outlay of $15 is a profit of 233 per cent. A mahogany chair, in solid wood, costs as much or more than one which is upholstered and covered with leather.

Furniture dealers know these things but they will not thank the JOURNAL for giving the above imformation, and will doubtless make a very different showing. A reference to prices of mahogany on page five, will keep them within bounds when talking to customers.

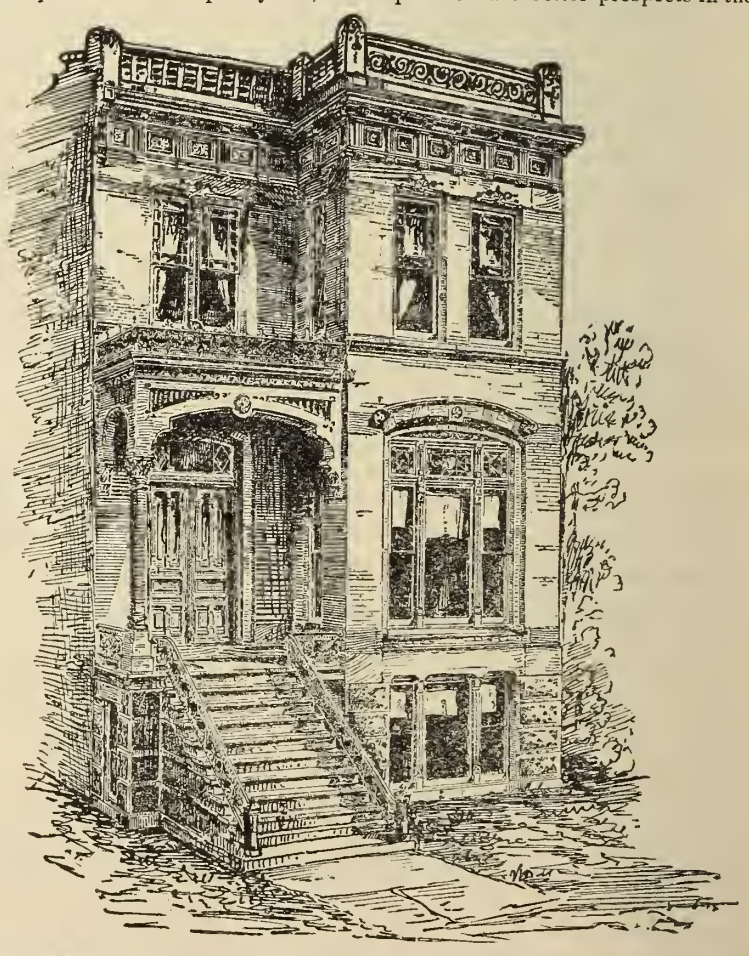


Looking over the back numbers of the JOURNAL the following articles appear on "Cutting Mahogany in Mexico," and "Mahoganizing Mahogany:"

THE practice of deception in the manufacture of articles of luxury and adornment by means of surface imitation, giving them an apparent quality and value which they do not possess, has long prevailed in the arts. It has long been a feature of cabinet furniture of the cheaper grades. There is and always will be a market for such wares, because great numbers of buyers cannot afford to pay for what is genuine and intrinsically excellent, but are willing to take the next best thing—a good imitation which can only be detected by experts. The manufacturers and vendors in a purely business point of view, cannot be justly blamed for supplying the demand for goods in their line. Indeed, the force of competition makes it unavoidable, so long as there is no concerted action by the trade against pandering to such a perversion of good taste.

The Supremacy of mahogany as the king of cabinet woods has long been conceded, and it is not likely that it will ever be supplanted by a successful rival. Sometimes, but not often, it goes out of fashion for a brief period, as it did some twenty years ago to make way for the black walnut craze. But it did not stay long under a cloud, the importations increasing from half a million feet in 1874 to ten millions in 1884. In one respect it has an advantage over almost all other woods. Its beauty, instead of deteriorating, increases with age; it does not shrink, warp or check, and the peculiary rich tone of mahogany furniture made fifty years ago can be acquired only by the lapse of time, and time is therefore an unavoidable element in the price of the product. Furniture that has thus been enriched and beautified by age is called "antique," a term which heightens the charm and intensifies the desire for its possession; and manufacturers, in order to profit by the rage and serve their customers, have resorted to a process of staining new mahogany, or toning it up, as it is called, so as to counterfeit the appearance of age and give an antique effect to the new wood, the furniutre being real mahogany upon which no deception has been practiced except to make it look older than it really is.

But like most other manias, the antique craze is subsiding; either because the price, as a rule, is an infalible index of what is real and what is spurious, or because reputable manufacturers are not disposed to encourage deception. Rosewood, the nearest rival of mahogany, is also subjected to the staining process, which robs it of its natural beauty when new, to make it saleable. Whatever in esthetic adornment pretends to be what it is not, and to have cost what it did not, is a cheat, an imposition and lie; and in cabinet work, in architectual construction and kindred things, it is always better to let the material speak for itself, whether it is mahogany, new or old, rosewood, cherry, oak or what not. Painted surfaces are not objectionable, except in so far as they are intended to deceive by a close imitation of something better than what the paint covers.



IN MEXICO the season for cutting mahogany usually commences about August. Gangs of Indian laborers are employed, consisting of 2 to 50 each, under the direction of a captain. Each gang has also a cazador, or huntsman whose duty it is to search the trackles forest for suitable trees to be felled and to guide the wood-cutters to the places. The felled trees of a single season are scattered over so wide a space that miles of roadways have to be made to reach them, and numerous rude bridges constructed over the rivers that lie in the way. All the largest logs have to be "squared" before they are brought away on rude wheeled trucks along these forest roads. Each truck requires seven pairs of oxen, and the work could be much more expeditiously done by our portable railways and plantation engines. The implements used by the Mexican in this trade are rude and insufficient, large bodies of timber being often spoiled by their insufficiency, combined with the ignorance of the workmen employed.

$1,000 COTTAGE.

THIS handsome brick cottage is one of a popular style, built of common brick on sills and piers, with shingle roof. The arrangement of rooms is such as to accommodate a large family, the rooms being of good size, suited in form for furniture. The same building made higher to accommodate attic rooms, and a neat stair case to attic story, can be built for $1,500 or $1,600, and be well finished. This class of building is suitable to persons for temporary use, who expect to have better prospects in the near future.

RESIDENCE.—By J. H. CARPENTER, ARCHITECT—156 WASHINGTON STREET.

This design is applicable to a residence where basements are desirable. It shows well and is a popular style. The fronts should be of pressed brick and stone, and it is appropriate to a building costing from $5,000 to $6,000, according to the number of rooms.

Real Estate Law.

LANDLORD AND TENANT.

Liability of Owner to Tenant, for Leaking of Water Pipes.

The case of Barbara Zenner against John Newman, tried in the city court, is interesting to occupants of homes, as it decides several important questions in regard to the liability of owners for leakages in pipes. In this case, the tenant did not sue her immediate landlord, but the owner, on the ground that he undertook to make repairs, and did not make them properly.

Chief Justice McAdam, in disposing of the case, said: The action is not brought against an occupant in actual possession of the upper part of the house where the overflow occurred. If it had, it might, perhaps, be inferred that the overflow was caused by some act of the occupant of such upper floor. The action is not even brought against the plaintiff's landlord, between whom and the plaintiff there is a privity of contract and a reciprocity of obligations, but is brought against the owner of the realty, out of possession. To charge the owner out of possessson, it is necessary to prove that the owner interfered in some way with the management of the premises by undertaking to make repairs, and doing them so negligently that damage resulted in consequence. The injuries for which damages are claimed were received in December, 1884, and the repairs were made in July previously. If the overflow had occurred while the pipes were undergoing repairs, it might be fair to infer that the overflow was caused by the plumber, the owner's agent, but for an overflow occurring months afterwards, the owner is not liable, certainly not without affirmative proof that the work was defectively done, and that the damage resulted from this cause.

The owner of the realty is not liable for overflow caused without his fault, nor is he liable for injuries caused by defective or rotten pipes, unless there was some defect in their original construction. He is not liable for the consequence of age or for wear and tear. No fault or defect in original construction is charged in the complaint, but the complaint alleges that, by reason of the negligent and improper manner in which the pipes were repaired and left by the defendant, an overflow occurred on the 6th of December, 1884, by which the household goods, carpets and furniture of the paintiff were wet, soiled and damaged to the amount of $600. So that, as I have remarked repeatedly during the trial, the theory of the case on which the owner is to be held liable is that he made these repairs so defectivety that an oveflow occurred as a natural result. There is no affirmative proof that the repairs were defectively made The tenant, as a rule, takes premises very much as he takes a wife—for better or worse. The plaintiff, as before remarked, had no contract with the defendant, and he is not liable to her for defect in the plumbing or for overflows caused in consequence. If, for example, I bring suit against you, the first question is, is there any privity of contract? Did you agree to do anything that you have not done? If not, then you are not liable on the theory of contract, because you made none.

That is the position of the present owner of the realty. He made no contract with the plaintiff; therefore there is no contract obligation. How is he liable then? Did he do anything wrong? There is no pretense that he ever misreprssented the condition of the premises to the plaintiff, for he never let them to her. He didn't say anything to her, and made no contract with her. He is liable to her only on the theory of a tort or a wrong. If you knock a man down there is no contract to pay the damages, bnt the law will make you respond nevertheless. The owner of the realty out of possession is liable only upon the theory of misconduct. Making repairs in a defective or improper manner, whereby damage is caused, is a wrongful act, but the difficulty is, there is no proof that they were defectively or improperly made, or that the owner committed any wrong.

He had a right to assume that the plumber he sent to do the work wonld do it properly. That is the legal presumption. If you employ a competent man to do work, the presumption is that he will do it properly. If he does not no it properly, the onus of proving that, is on him that alleges it; therefore, the onns in this case was on the plaintiff. The fact that five months after repairs were made an overflow occurred, does not, in itself, prove defective workmanship or misconduct on the part of the defendant. A plumber is not an insurer. He does not insure how long his work will last, unless he gives a guarantee, nor is a property owner an insnrer against accidents or overflows caused by the work of a plumber, nor is the owner bound to pnt in pipes unless he agrees to do it. I can not say to my landlord, these pipes are old and I want you to pnt new pipes in the house. He might legally say, I never agreed to do that. If you had asked me to put in new plumbing when you hired the house, I might have charged you more rent. The tenant may say. "Well, it wet my carpets"; the landlord might well answer,"; That is not my fault; you should have guarded against that."

I know of no legal principle on which a recovery against that defendant can be maintained.

A number of plaintiff's witnesses have testified what the landlord might have done to prevent the injury which resulted. The difficulty is, he didn't agree to follow their advice or directions, or to obey their orders. It might have been wise policy to have done so, but he did not agree to do so; therefore, he can not be obliged to do it. If the plaintiff has any remedy, it is against the person from whom she hired, and that depends in a vary large degree upon the nature of the contract between them. That is not in evidence here, because the action is not between those parties; but it is clear to me, on legal principles, that the property owner is not liable in the absence of positive proof that his agent did some wrong that resulted in loss to the plaintiff.

For these reasons, the complaint will have to be dismissed.—The Court Journal.

How to Decorate.

Painting on matting is now very elaborate; not only floral designs bnt figures with backgronnds have also been attempted with snccess. Panels of matting for a dining-room have mediæval figures painted on them. They are suspended from the wall by a heavy rope, with tassels made of the same attached to the lower edge of the panel

Foot cushions and foot-stools are to be found in every cosy as well as elegant room. The opera foot-bench is a recent and sensible invention. It is made of mahogany and can be folded at will in a very small compass.

A very pretty table-cover is made of white mummy linen has a border of field flowers and grasses embroidered in delicate colors.

For transoms over doors the Moorish lattice work is very popular. The lattic comes ready for this purpose in a great variety of designs and has a very beautiful appearance when put to this use.

Fire-screens of tiny bits of mica, set in daintily wrought brass frames, form an effective protection from the heat.

A graceful design for a door panel is a branch of Norway fir with the cones.

A charming design for a blue surah silk bureau scarf is clover blossoms and leaves in the naural colors, with a spider-web background.

Extremely dainty are the doubly-woven fine bamboo globular baskets, done in changing peach pink and green bronzes, lined with peach-colored satin and trimmed on the side with a bunch of peaches and a bow of peach and pistache green ribbons.

By reason of its central position and close relation to all principal lines East and West, at initial and terminal points, constitutes the most important mid-continental link in that system of through transportation which invites and facilitates travel and traffic between cities of the Atlantic and Pacific Coasts. It is also the favorite and best route to and from points East, Northeast and Southeast, and corresponding points West, Northwest and Southwest.

The Rock Island system includes in its main line and branches, Chicago, Joliet, Ottawa, La Salle, Peoria, Geneseo, Moline and Rock Island, in Illinois; Davenport, Muscatine, Washington, Fairfield, Ottumwa, Oskaloosa, West Liberty, Iowa City, Des Moines, Indianola, Winterset, Atlantic, Knoxville, Audubon, Harlan, Guthrie Centre and Council Bluffs, in Iowa; Gallatin, Trenton, Cameron and Kansas City, in Missouri; Leavenworth and Atchison, in Kansas; Albert Lea, Minneapolis and St. Paul, in Minnesota; Watertown in Dakota, and hundreds of intermediate cities, towns, villages and stations.

THE GREAT ROCK ISLAND ROUTE

Guarantees its patrons that sense of personal security afforded by a solid, thoroughly ballasted road-bed; smooth tracks of continuous steel rail; substantially built culverts and bridges; rolling stock as near perfection as human skill can make it; the safety appliances of patent buffers, platforms and air-brakes; and that exacting discipline which governs the practical operation of all its trains. Other specialties of this route are Transfers at all connecting points in Union Depots, and the unsurpassed comforts and luxuries of its Passenger Equipment.

The Fast Express Trains between Chicago and the Missouri River are composed of well ventilated, finely upholstered Day Coaches, Magnificent Pullman Palace Sleepers of the latest design, and sumptuous Dining Cars, in which elaborately cooked meals are leisurely eaten, "good Digestion waiting on Appetite, and Health on both." Between Chicago and Kansas City and Atchison, are also run the Celebrated Reclining Chair Cars.

THE FAMOUS ALBERT LEA ROUTE

Is the direct and favorite line between Chicago and Minneapolis and St. Paul, where connections are made in Union Depots for all points in the Territories and British Provinces. Over this route, Fast Express Trains are run to the watering places, summer resorts, picturesque localities, and hunting and fishing grounds of Iowa and Minnesota. It is also the most desirable route to the rich wheat fields and pastoral lands of interior Dakota.

Still another DIRECT LINE, via Seneca and Kankakee, has been opened between Newport News, Richmond, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, and Lafayette and Council Bluffs, Kansas City, Minneapolis and St. Paul and intermediate points.

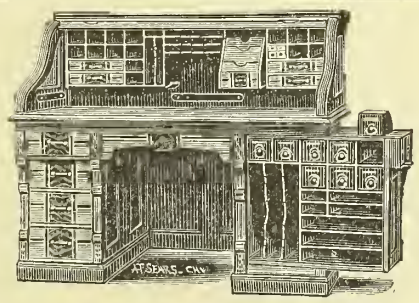
WASH TANK

AND ALL-PORCELAIN

WATER CLOSET.



THE want of a valveless closet has at last been supplied by my new Wash-Out, in which a body of water is kept constantly in the basin. It is constructed of one piece of earthenware, and is fitted with two-inch brass couplings for ventilation; one for the basin and one for the trap. The basin has a pierced rim, which, at the front, has an outlet extending downward and entering the bowl just above the surface of the water; when water enters the closet, the sides of the basin are washed by the water passing through the pierced rim. But the main body of water passes to the front and thence into the basin with such velocity as to completely force everything from the basin.

This elegant fixture can be seen with the water connected with it at my store,

531 W. MADISON ST.

I also keep on hand an elegant supply of Gas Fixtures and Globes.

THE
Real Estate and Building JOURNAL.

R. C. SMYERS, Editor and Proprietor.

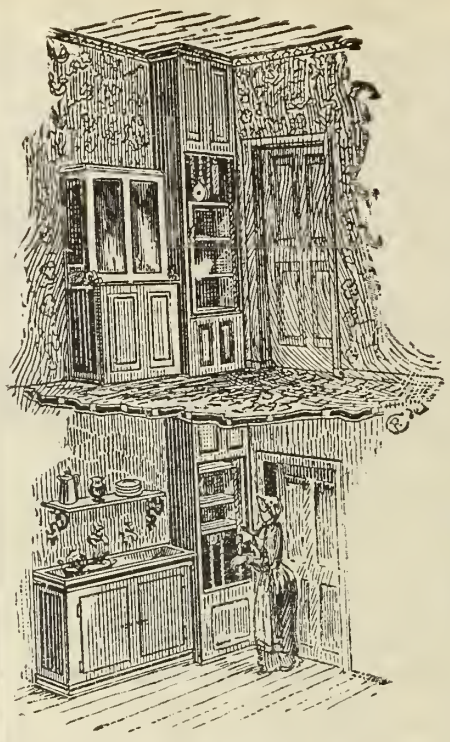
CHICAGO, SATURDAY, APRIL 10, 1886.

We sincerely deprecate the tendency of the daily press to sensational agitation of the labor question. That the question is of sufficient importance to merit a full and truthful report of the doings of the Knights of Labor, we admit; but it is beneath the dignity of legitimate journalism to take advantage of the opportunity it presents for the wholesale unloading of newspaper pyrotechnics. The situation is bad enough as it is, inasmuch as it may somewhat distnrb values, and temporarily impede extensive operations contemplated by timid operators. That there can be any lasting or disastrous influences arising from the present wild and unhealthy growth of labor organizations we do not believe, simply because it does not seem to ns to be the result of serious thought and mature deliberation, and, like sudden revivals of all kinds, whether of a religious or secular nature, the effervescence is soon lost. After the first impulses are wasted, and men have exhausted themselves in boisterous declamation, an age of reason follows; for it is a very serions matter for a mechanic or working man, whose family ties and love are quite as strong as those of the finest gentleman, and whose tenderest sympathies are for those dependent npon him, to realize that he has by his own voice rendered himself incompetent to aid them. The misery and suffering which the wars of the world have cansed will never approximate the barbarons cruelty which strikes have entailed upon the innocent and helpless. It is the empty larders which bring men to their senses, and create a desire—outside of the few demagogues and charlatans who thrive best when others snffer most—for conciliation and a settlement of the question. That there are many abnses wnich workingmen are even now made to suffer, no one can deny: bnt unreasonable demands, either on the part of labor or capital, can be, and must be, corrected without extreme measnres. Arbitration has already done much to adjust serious differences, and it is both childish and nonsensical for either party, where actual or imaginary wrong exists, to refuse such a rational and civilized adjudication of difficulties, for our courts, whether of equity or law, are but arbitrators after all. Hence the conclnsion that serious difficulties need not be anticipated is, we think, based upon a full appreciation of the situation; and we further believe that the very magnitude of the present labor troubles will, more than any other influence, expedite a permanent and satisfactory solution.

Labor agitation in the building trades till continues; the cabinet makers, painters, stone masons, carpenters and brick-layers in eastern cities have been meeting and resolving with reference to wages and honrs of labor. Employers have been making no organized opposition. Stone masons and stone cutters want $3 per day, and the pavers and rammers have voted their wages at $4 for pavers and $3 for rammers, an advance of 50 cents over last year's wages.

Real estate transactions for the past week have been in the main made np of small transactions of no particnlar significance; a few operations that may be called extensive are on hand, but are not likely to go through at a very early day. A great many holders of real estate insist upon the foolish policy of asking fancy prices, imagining that buyers will rush with open pocket-books and pay them their prices. A masterly policy is being pursued by a few buyers who want certain properties. They are buying a lot and plot here and there, through outside parties, and laying their plans in such a way that they can secure ultimately what they want at moderate prices. Holders of real estate are making the mistake in putting prices on property that the facts and circumstances do not warrant Cheap real estate means activity in building; dear land means interrupted enterprise. Opportunity ought to be taken at this time to let a good deal of land that has been held for years go into the possession of builders. Holders of real estate have certainly a right to get all their property is worth; but, on the other hand, it is bad policy to discourage enterprise by high prices. The representative of The Real Estate and Building Journal asked one of the leading real estate dealers of this city as to the prospects of real estate transactions in view of the labor troubles and the disposition of holders to ask high prices. His reply was, there are plenty of people anxious to sell, to meet all requirements, and the high prices will be left high and dry.

"What about rents this year?" asked our reporter of the renter of 200 or 300 houses: "up, down, or steady?" "All three," he answered; "for certain houses and in certain localities rents are moving up a little; in certain places it is not quite so easy to get last year's rents, but in most cases rents are stationary." He went on to say: "The rapid increase in the number of houses does not seem to have any effect upon rents, one way or the other; there are plenty of buyers and plenty of renters, and the newest houses seem to be most sought for; everybody wants to get into a new house if they can, and naturally the preference is shown to those who want to bny rather than rent; renters run aronnd too much."



THE MARKET.

The improved weather during the last week has done what would have required much zeal to accomplish; it has brought out house hunters and buyers in a rush. Agents are feeling good, and are certainly busy; they are not like us newspaper fellows, who see double, and step over a straw as if it were a sawlog. If we are to judge of the future greatness of Chicago by the number of building journals — monthlies, weeklies bi-weeklies and dailies—recently started, all devoted to the building trades, we shonld say that the Garden City is to be the greatest bnsiness center on earth—all the dailies spreading their wings in the direction of real estate and building news, and as many as seven or eight trade papers looking for a liberal patronage in the same lines.

The real estate agent has learned by experience what newspaper men will yet find out: that a bird in the hand is worth two in the bush, and that the advice of the washerwoman to the philosopher who fell into a hole, to take his head down from among the stars if he would avoid another similar catastrophe.

As referred to elsewhere in this issne, we are now going fast enough; we are building fast enough, and perhaps too fast. If this rush continues, we will soon have a reaction, and then capital will again lose confidence. We repeat our prediction so often made since the first of March, that the first of May will decide how much building is needed. A general strike at that time will tend to increase the cost of building, both in materials and wages, so that a superabundance of empty houses left on the hands of our agents will go a great way in determining operations in the immediate future.

A reference to our record colnmns will show the extent of acre transactions and the volume of business done during the first week in April. There will be found several important sales, but none that compare in magnitude with the large sales recorded last week. The majority of transactions were for small amounts, so common at this time of year, when a great many people of moderate means secure a home of their own; and this very feature of the market affords ample proof of a healthy and vigorous growth in population and wealth.

A frontage of 213 feet on South Water, running to the river and taking in the dock. Eleven stores, 19 feet wide, four stories and basement, with pressed brick fronts, will be erected on this property. The building will be known as the Allerton Block, and will be rented to commission men, as it will be specially designed for them. Charles A. Kerfoot & Co. will have the property in charge. Cobb & Frost are the architects.

The following members were present at the regular monthly meeting of the Real Estate Board: Messrs. Cummings, Snow, Marshall, Baldwin, Boyd, Turner, Hammond, Wilson, Amick, Bay, Barnard, Gehr, Calkins, Morey, Baird, Dreyer, and Pierce. This is but a small per cent. of the members of the Board. These monthly meetings should enlist the interest and attendance of every member, that they may effect results worthy of the Board. The new members elected were C. U. Gordon, H. A. Hurlburt, M. McNeil and J. R. Weddell. M. R. Barnard, F. B. Peabody and H. A. Goodrich were appointed a committee to draw up legal blanks suitable to be adopted by all the agents.

J. C. Sampson & Co., real estate and renting agents, report the following among their recent leases:

W. K. Nixon reports a good demand for offices in the Board of Trade district. He has just returned from a two months' trip in the South.

Directly adjoining the Board of Trade only two office buildings will be opened up by the first of May—the Jonathan Clark and Rialto; while last year there were in the neighborhood of ten.

R. J. Walsh is busily engaged in renting the property of the Partridges. They are in the market for bargains of all kinds.

J. N. Young has recently removed to more commodious offices in the Chicago Opera House building, where he has been located during the last year. His present office is Room 204.

—Venetian lamps of antique design are used where a dim light is desired. Those in wrought iron and suspended from wrought iron brackets are the most worthy of admiration.

—The house furnisher should beware of too much bric-a-brac. Some homes are veritable museums, and guests are positively afraid to move about among the fragile tables filled with cnps. plates, vases and glassware.

Suburban Improvements.

HYDE PARK.

An ordinance was passed establishing grade on Greenwood avenne, from 47th to 51st street; for a side-walk on the sonth side of 76th street, from Madison avenne to east line I. C. R. R., right of way; for same on the east side of Champlain ave., from 43d to 44th streets; and on the south side of 47th st, from Woodlawn to Greenwood aves. For water-pipe in Ford ave., from railroad ave. to 78th st.; also for vacating alley in rear of lots 20 to 27, and of s 5 ft of lots 19 and 28, b 10, Sonth Chicago, in sec 5 and 6, 37 15.

O. H. Postal; Carpenter and builder, with office and shop at No 434 Ogden avenne, is prepared to give agents and property owners satisfaction in the care and supervision of real-estate. He has made arrangements for all kinds of house repairs, painting, plumbing, carpentering, etc. An advantage is thus derived by leaving all the repairs under the snpervision of one man.

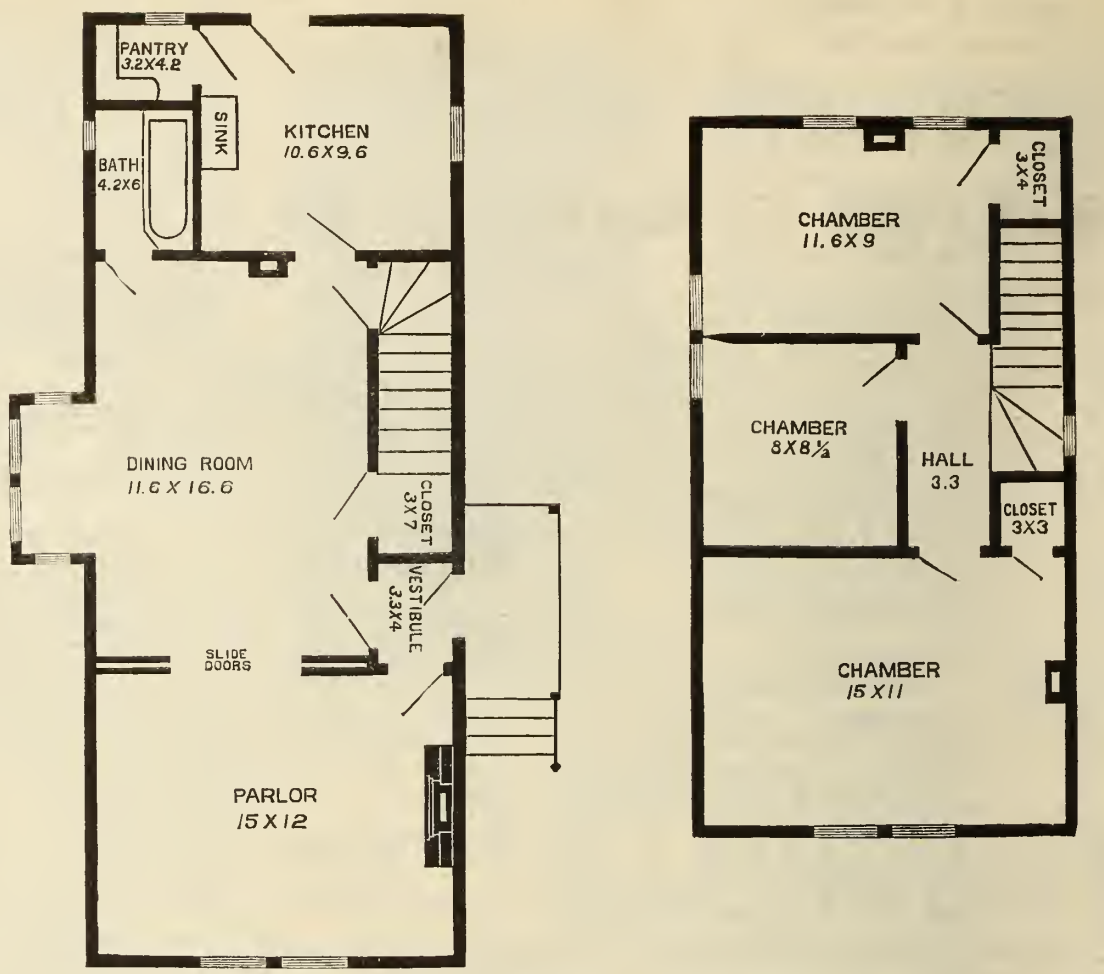
The rapid bnilding up of the vacant property within the limits of Chicago and that adjoining has been due in a large measure to the untiring efforts of men who give their attention to the buying, subdividing and bnilding up of available tracts of land so sitnated. Among the firms who make this their line of bnsiness is W. H. Thomas & Son, 80 Dearborn st. They are bnilding and selling houses ranging from $400 to $50,000 on the South and West Sides. These they sell on time to suit bnyers. It is easily discernible why buying honses of those who make building a specialty is good policy. For bnying large quantities of bnilding material of all kinds, they are able to make an immense saving, and thns are able to offer their houses cheaper than they can be built separately.

THE Building * Department.

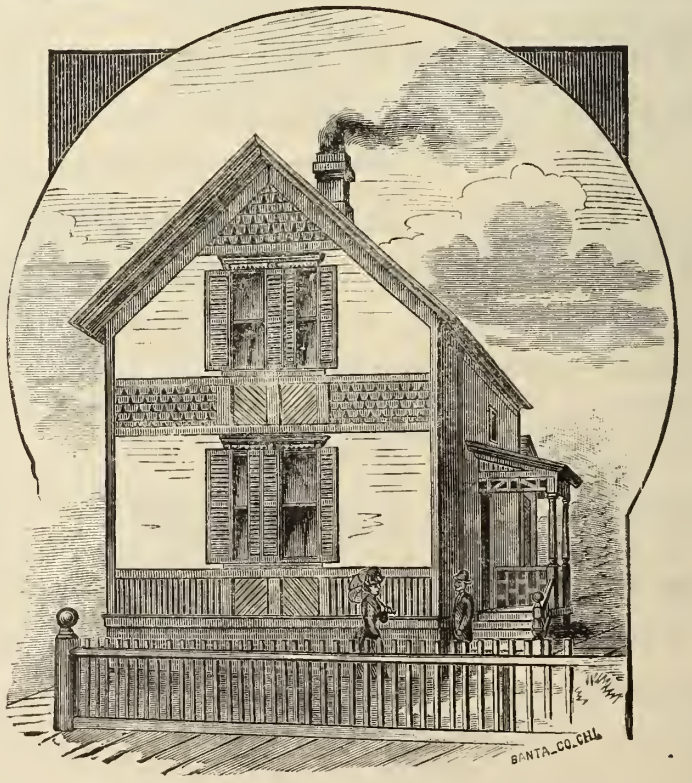
IT HAS BEEN repeatedly claimed by newspapers that the present and recent labor agitation will have a ter rorizing effect upon capital and tend to check the progress of business. If we are to be guided by the amount of business done in real-estato the conolusion will be forced upon us that capital is rushing into real-estate investment as a means of safety. It is not necessary to cite special sales to capitalists in support of the negative side of the first proposition.

By making a comparison of a week's records of real-estate transactions in the month of March, with a weekly report in almost any month prior to the time of the beginning of the existing labor troubles it will appear that strikes do not deter men from investing in real-estate, but rather do they frighten capital away from railway stocks and bonds.

To be sure, the laboring classes are persistently clamoring for an acquiescence in their demands, but they have too much good sense to countenance rioting or the wantom destruction of property. The difference between employers and employes will be adjusted without resort to violent means, and capital and business will continue to be as safe here as elsewhere. And it would be as well too, for the newspapers to admit this, instead of creating distrust by giving so much prominence to every little disturbance.



EVERY CANDID MAN will admit that the laboring classes are entitled to the sympathy and support of the people in their efforts to secure an equitable share of the profits of their labor, but there are a great many lazy, blatant demagogues among their number who cause most of the disturbance.



If the leisure to be gained by the eight-hour movement was snre to be applied by working men to improving their minds and innocent amusement there would be some excuse for this agitation, but the very men who are loudest in their demands are the ones who spend their time in saloons talking politics, or in plotting secretly against capital. As an instance of what these troublesome fellows can do we quote the language of a contemporary: In the case of the Daily Advertiser, of Newark, N. J., which had a good set of compositors receiving higher wages than union rates, and were quite content with existing arrangements, the Typographical Union waited on the proprietor demanding that the Advertiser's office should be enrolled under the auspices of the union, and he merely referred the matter to the compositors. Thereon the committee served notice that seven, including one who had been forty years in the Advertiser's service, should not be admitted to the union because the seven had abandoned a strike in which the office was involved about five years ago, going to work without permission from the central authority. As the intention was to punish these seven for an old alleged offence, the proprietor refused to consent to such injustice and inhumanity as having the seven thrust adrift and their names posted by the union so as to prevent them from getting employment. Immediately the Trades Assembly boycotted the Advertiser, but the case was so bad that the public extended its support to the Advertiser which did a brisker business than ever before. Unless America is to sink under an outrageous tyranny introduced from Ireland, the public will have to act vigorously to defeat every effort at boycotting, otherwise firms, corporations, and individual employers will be overthrown in detail.

It is noticable in a marked degree that the majority of embezzlers and thieves who have robbed their employers were the best paid men and in many instances the men who receive the gratest favors from employers treat them the worst. The man Hill, who started the tronble in the Sonthwestern strike had been promoted to a responsible position, but he still remained an enemy to the company's interest, which led to his final discharge. It is not our purpose to compare dissatisñed or striking workingmen with embezzlers, but it does seem that ingratitude is a feature in both cases,—the best paid are the least appreciative.

"Queen Anne" Architecture.

LET ME offer a few reflections on the mania for Queen Anne houses that is now rife, and which I venture to pronounce a failure, and which, with more certainty, wil be decreed a failure a generation hence. The thing is all wrong and on wrong principles. The Queer Anne architects indulged in no such ridiculous, fantastic freaks as we see now exhibited, and simply becanse such was entirely opposed to the nature and character of brick. Brick is a simple, honest, plain material, with a good color and hard, smooth surface—that is all. Whatever style can display these qualities best is the Queen Anna style and no other. The result of the modern caprices will be seen ten or twelve years hence, when certainly decay will have disintegrated or destroyed the whole, or when the owner's heart will have sickened of the frequent rspairs and restorations. The old Qneen Anne houses produced effect by the beautiful color and surface, the brick being laid almost tonching, with the thinnest wash of mortar between. The result is that no rain or damp ever gets between. The modern system of building is opposed to this, thick layers of mortar being interposed with the certain results that all the elaborate gables, etc., soon begin to separate. Bricks put together in elaborate forms have no strength no more than stones laid on earth, but displayed in surface it becomes as firm and smooth as a billiard table. Even mouldings should be raised in the faintest degree, and the less they are the richer the effect. There is an old house out at Clapton, a "seminary for young ladies," that for design, simplicity and pure brickwork, mixed with stone and design of outline, puts to shame all the brick phantasmata that are now covering the city. Looking at the pretentious masses that cover the new settlement of Cadogan sqnare or line the Embankment one does not feel at all drawn back to the days of Queen Anne. There is a coarse, raw treatment in their embroidery to which the brick lends itself but relnctantly. The material is too rude for snch fine work. There is another fad in house adornment which, it may be said, has rnn its conrse. This was the danbing over honses "liver-red," green, blne, etc. These efforts looked daring enough at first, but presently as the dirt accumulated they tnrned all kinds of horrid tints, and the house looked dirtier and shabbier than ever.—English Exchange.

From Practical Plans for Suburban Homes.

An economical house for small lot, built in best manner, finished in pilaster casing, with moldings, etc., in modern style—mantel and grate, bath room. To be commended on account of economizing all the room.

BUILDING IN PHILADELPHIA.

The new strncture which is to snpplant the present bnilding of the Orthopedic Hospital at the corner of Seventeenth and Summer sts., Phila., is to be a handsome piece of architectural work and one of the best equipped hospitals in the city. All the patients have been withdrawn from the old property, and in a short time it will be removed. The new edifice will be erected at a cost of $60,000, the exterior construction to be of pressed brick, with Hummelstown brownstone and terra cotta trimmings. It will be four stories high, with a basement, and will have a frontage of 106 feet on Seventeenth street, and a depth of 72 feet on Snmmer street. An ornate entrance on Seventeenth street, projecting balconies from each story over the doorway, and two large bay windows on Summer street will form the striking features of the exterior view. The interior of the building will be finished throughout in chestnut, with double ash floors in all the rooms and the corridors of the upper stories. The first floor corridors will be laid with marble. When completed the hospital will provide accommodations for 132 patients, the children's wards having a capacity for 60, the adults' wards for 36, and the private rooms for 36. Though the institution has been favored with magnificent donations from the benevolent, aggregating $33,302, there is still needed over $25,000 for the completion and equipment of the hospital.

Work on the now City Hall is going on slowly. The report of the Public Building Committee, which was sent to Mayor Smith on Saturday, the 3d inst., shows that out of the $826,529.13 appropriated for 1885, $812,550.17 was expended, and with this the asphalt pavement around the building was finished, the tower raised seventy feet, the stairways in the southwest and northeast corners completed, the rooms of the Electric Department fitted up, and the slating and asphalt covering of the roof finished. During the present year it is proposed to push the tower 71 feet higher, making its total height 337 feet 4½ inches; to build an elevator in the tower, to equip the boiler-house with the necessary boilers, and to work on the room intended for the courts. The total amount expended by the Commissioners so far since 1872 is $11,047,201.

The Walnut street bridge scheme is dead for the present. When the city's coffers get a little fuller it will revive again, and, we trust, to some purpose.

Building News.

ARCHITECT WESLEY A. ARNOLD is engaged on plans for a three-story building to be erected the coming summer, on the northwest corner of Madison street and Sacramento avenue, for the "Occidental Hall Association," to cost $14,000. Rock-faced stone and pressed brick fronts and a unique clock tower on the corner. The first floor to be occupied with stores; an assembly room and accessories on the second floor, with pleasant rooms and parlors on the third. A novel feature being the employment of curved or bent glass at the stone front entrances. The same architect has introduced this feature in the stone fronts of the building recently erected by LYMAN & GIDDINGS, on the southeast corner of Lake and Ada streets, the effect being strikingly pleasing. This building has five exceedingly attractive stores, and over them are apartments which are models of convenience. The corner is embellished with an oval tower of ornate treatment, in which bent glass and cathedral are used with rich effect, the roof being finished in Muscovite contour, with ribbing of effective design.

ADA STREET BUILDING.

In last week's issue of the JOURNAL, we promised to publish the facts concerning the new buildings on the southeast corner of Lake and Ada streets. The JOURNAL of March 27, contained the report made by a Mr. Grundice, to the effect that the above buildings were not securely built. After making a careful investigation we have learned that our informant, although he spoke advisedly, did not tell the truth. The above described structure is one of the best buildings on West Lake street, and is owned by one of the best real-estate firms in Chicago. Mr. W. A. Arnold was the architect. If property owners make such misstatements the JOURNAL will make its own investigations and not rely upon anybody's statement.

THE W. H. THOMAS BUILDING.

An investigation of the statement made in last week's JOURNAL in regard to the W. H. Thomas bnilding, brings to light the fact that the trouble grew out of a defect in a bond-stone, which split and required another to be put in place. This was done by the architect, H. R. Wilson, at his own expense and to the entire satisfaction of Mr. Thomas. In regard to Mr. Thomas' alleged statement that he would sue Mr. Wilson, Mr. Thomas says "he never said so to anybody, and what is more, never thought so. It was an accident liable to occur with any architect." Owen F. Aldis said that "there was not a flaw or crack in the building, and that it was the truest building on the street."

To show the confidence in which Mr. Wilson is held by Mr. Thomas, plans are now being drawn by him for a four-story building on the corner of Lincoln and Garfield avennes, at a cost of $40,000. This was given to Mr. Wilson after the accident on the other building.

The statement referred to was based on the information given by an architect now engaged in business in Chicago, and who was formerly employed in Mr. Wilson's office. The report, however, had been made by several others in regard to the building, but the JOURNAL, relying on the statement made by a man competent to judge, and not anticipating any rivalry or ill-feeling between the informant and the architect or owner, published the report with perfectly good motives.

It is enough to know that the building is perfectly sound, and that Mr. Wilson, the architect, is undeserving of censure, and that he still has the confidence of the owner as well as the bank who made the loan on the building.

Among other plans now in Mr. Wilson's office are the following:

For Wm. Clancy, pressed brick residence, 505 Congress street, $6,000.

J. C. O'Brien, residence, 24x60, Congress and Ashland ave., $6,000.

Ettleson's building, Lake street, near Peoria, 50x50—three-story stores and flats, $10,000.

For J C Kiniston—stores, 25x80, 285 Madison street; $10,000.

For C. L. Graves—three houses, 55x54; pressed brick; cost $10,000.

For J S. Smith—residence, 25x50, Prairie ave. and 37th street; $5,000.

Never was the capacity of glass for ornamentation more fnlly illustrated than at the present time. We have irregular threads of colored glass, like crackled-ware, mosaics for tables in different colors, mirrors with frames of leaves and colored flowers in glass, and chandeliers and candelabra with twisted branches of the same. Newest importations of glassware are very beautiful, showing great advance in patterns and in coloring. Amber and ruby are two of the leading colors in table glassware at present. The conchoidalware is also very attractive for table decoration, and assumes many new and elegant forms.

THE TREASURE WAST-BASKET.

Down in the basement of the Treasury Department, writes a Washington correspondent, is a room in which about a dozen girls sit and sort over the waste paper which has accummlated from the work of the day before by the twenty-five hundred clerks in in the room above. All of the waste paper in the department is transferred to this room by the sweepers at the close of each day. Then the girls go over it carefully, piece by piece, and they frequently make very valuable discoveries. Not long ago ten thousand dollars' worth of bonds were found in a waste basket in the office of the Comptroller of the Currency, and there was a great howl about it at the time, but in the and nobody was punished for the gross carelessness; but such large sumes as this seldom find their way into the sorting room. The principal discoveries are pen-holders and stationery which has been accidentally dropped into the waste-basked, Sometimes a valuable document disappears in an unaccountable manner from the files of the department. The rooms are ransacked, and every one connected wlth the division becomes well-nigh crazy.

As a last resort the waste paper room is appealed to. In nine chances out of ten, if the paper has been disposed of in that way the girls will find it. They have become remarkably expert in sorting over this rubbish. A girl will take a mass of it in her hands, and, in less than the time it takes to tell it, her sharp eyes will have seen all the different pieces, and if there is even a scrap that looks as though it might be valuable, it is carefully laid aside for future examination. Experience has convinced the treasury officials that these girls annually save many times their salaries to the goverment. The sale of the waste paper is one of considerable importance, and the revenue each year is, in the course of business, turned back into the treasury, where it belongs.

How to Decorate.

—The latest effort in floral decoration is to have the table canopied with vines and flowers resting on a network of wire.

—Beautiful silver salad bowls are garlanded with shells of a pearly sheen.

—Holly leaves with their natural berries make a charmingly effective border for a scarf of yellow satin on a dinner table.

—Drapery material is made in such vast varieties of texture, shade and value as to place it at the disposition of those who are disposed to expend liberally in their selection, and with almost equal advantages to those who are limited to a more economical outlay. Silk is more employed than ever in upholsteries; mohair and silk plushes are also greatly in favor. Turcoman and jute velours are used for portieres. India silk and Madras are in favor for curtains.

—Many of the new picture frames are made of mahogany, without carving.

—Long oblong tablets, with hand-painted designs, are now suspended in Oriental fashion on panels of doors, or walls of apartments, hung simply on a fancy nail.

By reason of its central position and close relation to all principal lines East and West, at initial and terminal points, constitutes the most important mid-continental link in that system of through transportation which invites and facilitates travel and traffic between cities of the Atlantic and Pacific Coasts. It is also the favorite and best route to and from points East, Northeast and Southeast, and corresponding points West, Northwest and Southwest.

The Rock Island system includes in its main line and branches, Chicago, Joliet, Ottawa, La Salle, Peoria, Geneseo, Moline and Rock Island, in Illinois; Davenport, Muscatine, Washington, Fairfield, Ottumwa, Oskaloosa, West Liberty, Iowa City, Des Moines, Indianola, Winterset, Atlantic, Knoxville, Audubon, Harlan, Guthrie Centre and Council Bluffs, in Iowa; Gallatin, Trenton, Cameron and Kansas City, in Missouri; Leavenworth and Atchison, in Kansas; Albert Lea, Minneapolis and St. Paul, in Minnesota; Watertown in Dakota, and hundreds of intermediate cities, towns, villages and stations.

THE GREAT ROCK ISLAND ROUTE

Guarantees its patrons that sense of personal security afforded by a solid, thoroughly ballasted road-bed; smooth tracks of continuous steel rail; substantially built culverts and bridges; rolling stock as near perfection as human skill can make it; the safety appliances of patent buffers, platforms and air-brakes; and that exacting discipline which governs the practical operation of all its trains. Other specialties of this route are Transfers at all connecting points in Union Depots, and the unsurpassed comforts and luxuries of its Passenger Equipment.

The Fast Express Trains between Chicago and the Missouri River are composed of well ventilated, finely upholstered Day Coaches, Magnificent Pullman Palace Sleepers of the latest design, and sumptuous Dining Cars, in which elaborately cooked meals are leisurely eaten, "good Digestion waiting on Appetite, and Health on both." Between Chicago and Kansas City and Atchison, are also run the Celebrated Reclining Chair Cars.

THE FAMOUS ALBERT LEA ROUTE

Is the direct and favorite line between Chicago and Minneapolis and St. Paul, where connections are made in Union Depots for all points in the Territories and British Provinces. Over this route, Fast Express Trains are run to the watering places, summer resorts, picturesque localities, and hunting and fishing grounds of Iowa and Minnesota. It is also the most desirable route to the rich wheat fields and pastoral lands of interior Dakota.

Still another DIRECT LINE, via Seneca and Kankakee, has been opened between Newport News, Richmond, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, and Lafayette and Council Bluffs, Kansas City, Minneapolis and St. Paul and intermediate points.

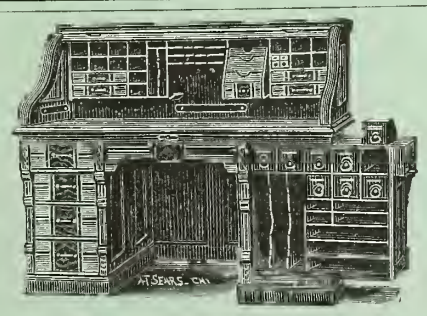
WASH TANK

AND ALL-PORCELAIN

WATER CLOSET.



THE want of a valveless closet has at last been supplied by my new Wash-Out, in which a body of water is kept constantly in the basin. It is constructed of one piece of earthenware, and is fitted with two-inch brass couplings for ventilation; one for the basin and one for the trap. The basin has a pierced rim, which, at the front. has an outlet extending downward and entering the bowl just above the surface of the water; when water enters the closet, the sides of the basin are washed by the water passing through the pierced rim. But the main body of water passes to the front and thence into the basin with such velocity as to completely force everything from the basin.

This elegant fixture can be seen with the water connected with it at my store,

531 W. MADISON ST.

I also keep on hand an elegant supply of Gas Fixtures and Globes.

THE MARKET.

A New Car Line—Extension of State Street Cable to Sixty-third Street.

The laying of car tracks on Dearborn street from South Water to Polk street is being discussed by the property owners of that street, as the plan proposed interests them more than the ordinary franchise for such a purpose. The scheme is somewhat as follows: Tracks are to be laid by special assessment of the property owners. Shares of stock will be issued to each owner according to the frontage owned by him. The tracks will be for the use of all companies at a toll of a specified amount for each car.

The plan seems to be meeting with the approval of the property owners and, as predicted by an agent, is on a fair way to a successful execution.

There is no doubt that property south of Van Buren street would be bettered by the plan.

It is now an established fact that the State street cable will be prolonged from Thirty-ninth street to Sixty-third street by the Chicago City Railway Company, during the coming summer. Owing to this, there have been a great many purchases of State street property between Thirty-ninth and Sixty-third which have not been recorded. It has created an enormous demand for the property, which has advanced about ten per cent. within the past thirty days. The extension of the cable is bringing into a better market all adjoining property.

For avenue property on the South Side, both business and residence, there is an unusually strong demand. The most active business portion is north of Twelfth, and residence, between Twenty-sixth and Thirty-ninth.

Non-resident property buyers, who have not been seen in so large numbers for ten years, are now seeking cash investments in Chicago property. Property on Franklin, Market and Fifth avenue, and between Van Buren and Jackson streets, has advanced from between $200 to $300 a foot within the last four months.

Geo. A. Emary reports a very active demand for avenue property. He has negotiated many of the important sales in this property during the past few months.

R. W. Hyman, Jr. & Co. find renting fully as active as last year. The raft of rent cards seen now everywhere will be removed before the first of May.

Pierce & Ware are busy making new leases and renewing old ones. Renewals are being made at a perceptible advance over last year.

E. A. Cummings & Co. are selling a large number of lots in their new subdivisions at Garfield, Douglas and Normal parks. At the latter place, the subdivision of Parmly Bros., which they are handling, has special restrictions as to buildings, none of which are to cost less than $1,500. Improvements in sewers, sidewalks, trees, etc., will be made this summer in this subdivision.

Greenebaum Sons are making a large number of loans at 6 and 7% for building purposes, ranging from $3,000 to $3,500.

E. S. Dreyer & Co., report the following sales—Modern residence on LaSalle ave, $14,000; one lot on La Salle ave, near Schiller, one on same street near Carr, one lot on Lincoln Place, 22 ft on North State street at $300 a foot, 4 lots on Richard Place. The firm are now located in their spacious offices on the northeast corner of Dearborn street and Washington. They will give special attention during the coming year to the buying and selling of real estate.

Edward G. Smith, an active and enterprising agent formerly located in the Ashland Block, has now connected himself with E. S. Dreyer & Co., and will devote himself to their real estate department.

Campbell Bros. have just issued a new edition of their illustrated catalogue containing new cuts of their recent houseat. Sent free on application.

J. P. White & Co., have sold within the past few months 4 lots in block 84, between Van Buren and Jackson, Market and Fifth Avenue, at greatly advanced prices.

Simpson Dunlop reports the value of property in Oak Park to be keeping pace with the improvements. Ground has just been broken for a Presbyterian Church to be built at a cost of $10,000.

Wheeler & Co., have removed the past week to 130 La Salle street, room 1.

A REAL NECESSITY.

We presume there is hardly a lady to be found in our broad land who, if she does not already possess a sewing machine, expects some day to become the owner of one.

But after the mind has been fully made up to purchase one of these indispensable articles, the question arises as to what kind of a machine to buy.

It should be so simply constructed that the most inexperienced can successfully operate it. The other points mainly to be considered, and which are the most desirable, are durability, rapidity, capacity for work, ease of operation, regularity of motion uniformity of tension, and silence while in operation.

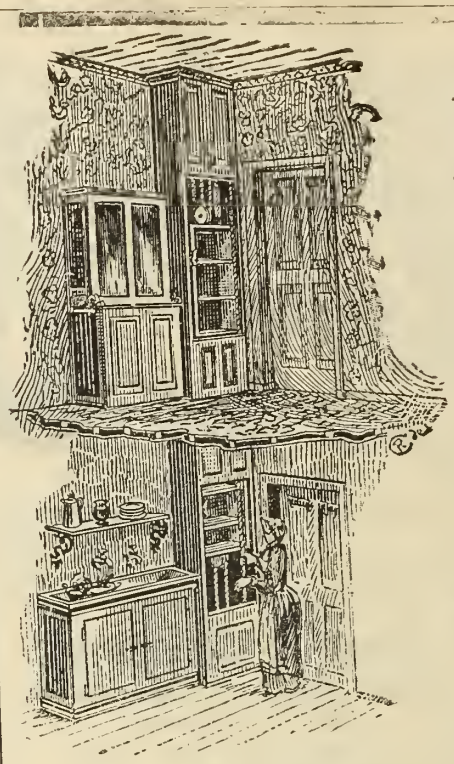
The "Light-Running New Home" fills the above requirements, and is said to combine the good points of all sewing machines, with the addition of many new improvements and labor-saving devices.

The price is no higher than that of other machines, and every lady who is the happy possessor of one may rest assured she has indeed a treasure. See advertisement.

New Home Sewing Machine Co 30 Union Square New York.

How to Decorate.

The most exquisite design for a dark tile panel is a hanging cluster of bright red passion flowers painted in oil.



A very pretty screen has two panels of Cairo and spindle work with a back ground of pink surah silk.

Grass-cloth draperies in tinted ground with Japanese or floral designs are very attractive and form a graceful furnishing for sleeping apartments.

Alligator-skin picture frames, bound in gold and silver, are among the latest novelties.

Bolting cloth, the thin silked fabric used by millers, makes a pretty outside covering for chair backs, ottomans and cushions.

There are many novel varieties of baskets the newest wast basket is made of light bamboo, round in shape and stand on three legs, which are almost hidden from view by various bright ribbons. A very lovely one is silver-bronzed and decorated with shrimp-pink ribbon. On one side of the basket is a cluster of luscious peaches, tempting indeed to the eyes of the beholder.

RECLAIMING A TRACT OF LAND.

A company of capitalists has been formed to carry out one of the most important irrigation and transportation schemes ever projected in this State, which will solve the question of transportation in the upper San Joaquin Valley and open up nearly half a million acres of land which are now under water, and half a million more acres which, for want of water, are now little better than a desert. It is proposed to permanently lower Tulare Lake to fifteen feet below its present level, which will reclaim 375,000 acres, including swamp land, all now under water or subject to frequent overflow. This is to be effected by a canal of twelve feet average depth, which is to extend from Tulare Lake to a junction with the San Joaquin River at the head of navigation, distant about forty miles north from the lake. The line of the canal will be through the present swamp, which extends north from the lake. The level of the river at the junction is forty-eight feet below the level of the lake, and thus affords a sufficient fall for the discharge of the surplus waters of the lake proposed to be drained. An additional outlet is also afforded by a projected west side irrigation scheme, which is to take water from the canal for the irrigation of over 400,000 acres of valley lands, which will thus be vastly increased in value, the proposed canal forming with Tulare Lake a continuous inland waterway of over seventy miles. It is expected by its affluent discharge of water into the upper San Joaquin River to so improve navigation as to utilize it for heavy freight now almost or quite excluded from this market by high railroad rates. It is estimated that owing to the slope of land aud favorable character of the soil the work can be done in two years at a cost of only $1,000,000.—San Francisco Chronicle.

PLAN OF SECOND STORY

ELEVATION OF PRINCIPAL FRONT

We present this week a plan for an eight room country or suburban residence especially adapted to an elevated site, commanding a view of the surrounding country. The three principal rooms, of spacious size, are co plied with all the usual accessories, with hotinnp cold water. The main rooms and hall in first story to be furnished in hard wood; all others with pine and gum combined. The bay windows and porches make a ver desirable feature. This house can be built foar $3,000, though allowance should be made for location, and something for builders profit.

Best Work! Lowest Prices! Shortest Time!

THE employers in the building trades would prefer to see a ten hour system of labor continued, but recognize the right of their workmen to work less time if they are so disposed. They, however, feel that the threatened increase in the cost of labor, and therefore to the increased cost of material of all kinds, will work to the disadvantage of the building trade in the long run. However, after thorough discussiou, it has been decided, in eastern cities, to accept the nine-hour day from May 1. This, therefore, disposes of what might otherwise have resulted in a strike, which just at this time would be disastrous to the workmen, employers aud the public. A movement of this kiud is naturally productive of apprehensions in the minds of the community. It is a very easy matter for any employer to argue that to pay ten hour wages for a nine hour day will iucrease the cost of work, and bring about such a condition of things as will check enterprise, and work to the disadvantage of the trade. This figuring, while apparently correct, is open to criticism. It will be found, in the long run, that the reduction of the hours of labor to nine or eight will not be productive of the anticipated harm. Equaliziug tendencies and influences will at once set themselves at work. The value and cost of labor will naturally increase; but, on the other hand, the value and cost of everything else will increase in like proportion, and workmen and employers will simply leave off where they started, neither one side nor the other having suffered anything in money or business, and one side haviug gained one hour per day, which in itself is a good thing not only to the mechanics, but, taking a loug view of that matter to the public. We are not theorists, and are not running after new-fangled ideas, nor on the other hand, are we afraid of the consequences of a shorter day. The advantages secured by the workmen will be accompanied by the disadvantages of increased rent and of increased cost in everything they purchase. All these things work themselves out. There is an equalizing tendency in nature and in trade which will assert itself in spite of any force that can be brought against it. The iudividual builder, in looking at an individual contract, naturally feels alarmed and wonders how he will come out. His only escape is to discount the reduction in time and the increased cost, and let each succeeding brick push against its neighbor. The result will be satisfactory to all. Our productive capacity is increasing rapidly. If a sufficient supply of bricks cannot be made in nine hours or eight, means will be found to manufacture enough. There is no danger of shorter hours resulting in shortening material to extend the figure. On the contrary a benefit will result. The prosperity of a people is measured by the earning capacity of that people. If the working millions of America could, by some ledgerdemain, or new economic system, earn say one-fourth or one-half more than they are now earning, demand from that source would increase one-fourth or one-half, and that improved demand would naturally improve the prices of all commodities sold. Looking at it in any light we may, there is nothing to be feared and many advantages to be secured.

A leading furniture manufacturer of this city, in expressing his views to the representative of THE REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING JOURNAL, spoke in this view: "I employ 50 men; two hours a day less means the loss of a 100 hours per day, or say 600 hours per week, not regarding the short Saturday. My men average twenty-five cents per hour; if they insist on ten hours' pay for eight hours work as they threaten ot do, I am obliged to lose 25 cents of 600 hours or $150 per week, which will amount in the course of a year to upwards of $8,000; this wipes out a very large slice of profits, but this is not the worst feature, supposing that my capacity is fully employed, that it takes ten hours a day to turn out all the work I want done; if I can run my capacity only eight hours I am obliged to do one of two things, either lose a part of my trade or extend my shop capacity and put in more machinery; this may not be convenient, may not be possible, it may be necessary to run up another story, and create additional trouble in the handling of material. The working men do not seem to think where or how this thing will work out; they seem to imagine that the only thing necessary to be done is to reduce the hours and keep up the pay, and let the manufacturers look out for pay day.

Our manufacturer speaks the sentiments of a great many; a large concern in a city near by, after working six months to secure a certain contract, only last week, was obliged to give it up, notwithstanding it amounted to $225,000. A score of cases of this character have occurred and have been mentioned to the representative of this paper within the week. All this is hurtful. Business men cannot be compelled to place orders; laborers can certainly refuse to work, but they cannot compel those who have work to give out, to give it out against their will.

But this is not the worst feature: there is an immense amount of business that is being held back at this time just on account of the uncertainty among investors and manufacturers as to which way things will go. Strikes cannot take place without doing harm to both sides. Just at this time an enormous amount of business is obstructed: if these agitations keep up one or two weeks, and wages continue to advance, if trade organizations continue to threaten, these enterprises will remain just where they are—in the brains of the projectors. In the interest of both capital and labor it is to be hoped that no extreme measures will be taken; that conservative views will govern both sides. We have had only a few weeks of genuine activity, during which time enterprise has been sprouting and budding, and will soon bloom. It would be a pity that the healthful indications should be destroyed.

Suburban Improvements.

HYDE PARK.

An ordinance was passed establishing grade on Greenwood avenue, from 47th to 51st street; for a side-walk on the south side of 76th street, from Madison avenue to east line I. C. R. R., right of way; for same on the east side of Champlain ave., from 43d to 44th streets; and on the south side of 47th st, from Woodlawn to Greenwood aves. For water-pipe in Ford ave., from railroad ave. to 78th st.; also for vacating alley in rear of lots 20 to 27, and of s 5 ft of lots 19 and 28, b 10, South Chicago, in sec 5 and 6, 37 15.

O. H. Postal; Carpenter and builder, with office and shop at No 434 Ogden avenue, is prepared to give agents and property owners satisfaction in the care and supervision of real-estate. He has made arrangements for all kinds of house repairs, painting, plumbing, carpentering, etc. An advantage is thus derived by leaving all the repairs under the supervision of one man.

The rapid building up of the vacant property within the limits of Chicago and that adjoining has been due in a large measure to the untiring efforts of men who give their attention to the buying, subdividing and building up of available tracts of land so situated. Among the firms who make this their line of business is W. H. Thomas & Son, 80 Dearborn st. They are building and selling houses ranging from $400 to $50,000 on the South and West Sides. These they sell on time to suit buyers. It is easily discernible why buying houses of those who make building a specialty is good policy. For buying large quantities of building material of all kinds, they are able to make an immense saving, and thus are able to offer their houses cheaper than they can be built separately.

For the Mississippi River, appropriations are proposed as follows: From St. Paul to Des Moines Rapids, $560,000; Des Moines Rapids to the mouth of the Illinois River, $200,000; from the Illinois River to the Ohio River, $500,000; from Cairo to the head of the Passes, including the correction of the Vicksburg and Greenville bonds, $2,225,000; surveys of the Mississippi, between the Passes and head water, $75,000; for removal of obstructions, $70,000; for reservoirs, $50,000; and for snag boats, $30,000.

By reason of its central position and close relation to all principal lines East and West, at initial and terminal points, constitutes the most important mid-continental link in that system of through transportation which invites and facilitates travel and traffic between cities of the Atlantic and Pacific Coasts. It is also the favorite and best route to and from points East, Northeast and Southeast, and corresponding points W est, Northwest and Southwest.

The Rock Island system includes in its main line and branches, Chicago, Joliet, Ottawa, La Salle, Peoria, Geneseo, Moline and Rock Island, in Illinois; Davenport, Muscatine, Washington, Fairfield, Cttumwa, Oskaloosa, West Liberty, Iowa City, Des Moines, Indianola, Winterset, Atlantic, Knoxville, Audubon, Harlan, Guthrie Centre and Council Bluffs, in Iowa; Gallatin, Trenton, Cameron and Kansas City, in Missouri; Leavenworth and Atchison, in Kansas; Albert Lea, Minneapolis and St. Paul, in Minnesota; Watertown in Dakota, and hundreds of intermediate cities, towns, villages and stations.

THE GREAT ROCK ISLAND ROUTE

Guarantees its patrons that sense of personal security afforded by a solid, thoroughly ballasted road-bed; smooth tracks of continuous steel rail; substantially built culverts and bridges; rolling stock as near perfection as human skill can make it; the safety appliances of patent buffers, platforms and air-brakes; and that exacting discipline which governs the practical operation of all its trains. Other specialties of this route are Transfers at all connecting points in Union Depots, and the unsurpassed comforts and luxuries of its Passenger Equipment.

The Fast Express Trains between Chicago and the Missouri River are composed of well ventilated, finely upholstered Day Coaches, Magnificent Pullman Palace Sleepers of the latest design, and sumptuous Dining Cars, in which elaborately cooked meals are leisurely eaten, "good Digestion waiting on Appetite, and Health on both." Between Chicago and Kansas City and Atchison, are also run the Celebrated Reclining Chair Cars.

THE FAMOUS ALBERT LEA ROUTE

Is the direct and favorite line between Chicago and Minneapolis and St. Paul, where connections are made in Union Depots for all points in the Territories and British Provinces. Over this route, Fast Express Trains are run to the watering places, summer resorts, picturesque localities, and hunting and fishing grounds of Iowa and Minnesota. It is also the most desirable route to the rich wheat fields and pastoral lands of interior Dakota.

Still another DIRECT LINE, via Seneca and Kankakee, has been opened between Newport News, Richmond, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, and Lafayette and Council Bluffs, Kansas City, Minneapolis and St. Paul and intermediate points.

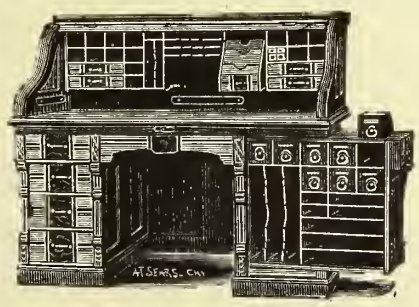
J. J. WADE'S

WASH TANK

AND ALL-PORCELAIN

WATER CLOSET.



THE want of a valveless closet has at last been supplied by my new Wash-Out, in which a body of water is kept constantly in the basin. It is constructed of one piece of earthenware, and is fitted with two-inch brass couplings for ventilation; one for the basin and one for the trap. The basin has a pierced rim, which, at the front, has an outlet extending downward and entering the bowl just above the surface of the water; when water enters the closet, the sides of the basin are washed by the water passing through the pierced rim. But the main body of water passes to the front and thence into the basin with such velocity as to completely force everything from the basin.

This elegant fixture can be seen with the water connected with it at my store,

I also keep on hand an elegant supply of Gas Fixtures and Globes.

THE
JOURNAL.
R. C. SMYERS, Editor and Proprietor.
CHICAGO, SATURDAY, APRIL 24, 1886.

THE export trade of the United States has assumed great proportions, but as an item in national economy it shrinks to comparative insignificance when placed beside the domestic trade of the country. In the United States are 13,000,000 persons dependent upon their daily earnings for support, each earning according to the census of 1880, an average of more than $300 yearly. This includes the several classes of wage earnings from daily laborers to those engaged in professions. The aggregate earnings of all these persons, when fully employed, is about $4,000,000,000 annually, or nearly five times the amount of the total exports of the United States. The bulk of these earnings are expended for food, clothing and shelter. This is assuming that the working population are fully employed and no unusual idleness, voluntary or enforced, exists. But supposing that even 10 per cent, of the several classes of earners are idle or earning a less amount equivalent to this reduction of the number employed. the result to trade is quite certain to bear approximately a corresponding lossin amount. The Commissioner of the Bureau of Labor in his report to the Secretary of the Interior touching upon this subject says: "It is undoubtedly true that out of the total number of establishments, such as factories, mines, etc, existing in the country, about 5 per cent, were absolutely idle during 1885, and 7½ per cent, of the whole number of such establishments were idle or equivalent to idle during the past year. Applying this percentage, we obtain a total of 998,839, who under prosperous times,could be employed, and who in 1885 were seeking employment. It is probably trne that this total, as repersenting the unemployed at any one time in the United States, is fairly representative, even if the laborers thrown out of employment through cessation of railroad building be included. A million of men out of employment means a loss to the consnmptive power of the country of at least $1,000.000, per day, or a crippling of the trade of the country of over $300,000,000 per year. The earnings of the people involved in the classes named above would not be far from $600 each per annum, representing total earnings of $7,990,716,000. The wage ernings of the million that should be employed are crippled to the extent of over $300,000,000 per annum, a sum sufficient to cause a reaction in business and general curtailment of expenses from which would result apprehension and timidity among all classes. It is curious to observe, however, that while the severity of the depression canses a crippling to the extent of several hundred millions of dollars per year of the consuming power of the people, the volum of business transactions is not crippled comparatively to any such extent."

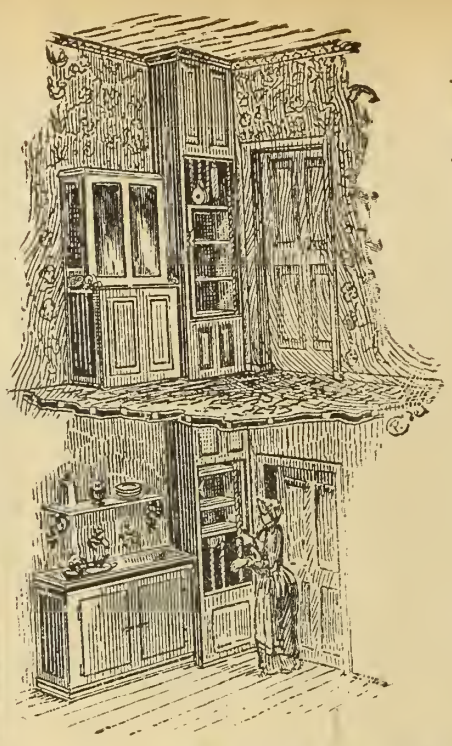
The last paragraph of the Labor Commissioner may be true as applied to a brief depression, but would not hold good through a long period of enforced idleness. The laborers of the United States are perhaps bettet prepared to sustain themselves against dull times and limited employment than those of any other country in the world. bnt there is a limit at which these savings would become exhausted and absolute destitution appear. Labor is the only source we have forthe increment of wealth, and when this ceases to find employment the consumption of accumulative capital begins. For a time trade may feel the effect but slightly, but when the accumlated savings and the credit of consumers are both exansted trade will necessarily come to a standstill.

THE MARKET.

The record of deeds both city and suburbau is the largest the boys have reported so far this year. Sales are too numerous to mention among which is the St. James Hotal. 116 and 118 5th ave, 50x80 feet for $180,000. All the agencies are busy with renting and there is no signs as yet of an over supply of houses.

The bulk of all the sales is for residence purposes, and for small amounts, and the majority of loans made is for building purposes. The indications are healthy and the market is active and strong.

LABOR'S SHARE OF PRODUCTION:



According to the last census the total value of the annual increase of wealth in the United States is ten thonsand millions of dollars. The statistician, Edward Atkinson, estimates that one thousand million dollars' worth of the product is used for domestic consumption without ever reaching a market or being put on sale. This leaves nine thousand millions to pay all the dues owing to labor and capital and provide for the support of government, and, according to Mr. Atkinson's calculation, the distribution of this vast sum is found to be:

To estimated profit of capital	$ 450,000,000
To savings of capitalists and other classes	450,000,000
Gross amount of taxes	700,000,000
Remainder paid to labor	7,400,000,000

Thus labor obtains seventy-four out of the ninety shares left after deducting the amount used for domestic consumption on the farm and in the factory. The earnings of capital are comparatively insignificant when brought into contrast with the enormous amount paid for labor, and even the vast sums collected to pay the interest on public debts and support local, state and national governments dwindle when compared with the fund expended for wages. Mr. Atkinson's figures are of course only estimates, but they accord with the accepted doctrines of political economy and undoubtedly come very near the truth.

In order to increase the large share already obtained by labor there must be either a greater amount of wealth produced or a reduction of the sum expended for taxation: It will not do to cut down the small percentage secured by capital, since that would destroy the disposition to save and impair the wage fund, which must be relied upon to extend industrial development and furnish employment for the steadily-increasing number of laborers. It is estimated that every $1,000 saved and lent to others will furnish employment for one more laborer, and hence it is to the interest of workmen to have the operating fund of the industrial world as large as possible. In a business open to competition profits are not taken from wages. since two establishments making the same product must pay an equal rate of wages, although one earns handsome dividends and the other barely pays expenses. Profits result nsually from superior management of the business and represent the amount a man of great business ability is able to earn over and above the sum secured by another who employs the same capital and labor force. The man who can plan wisely, sell to the best advantage, avoid bad debts, execnte vigorously, face the keenest competition, and deal courageously and sagaciously with nnexpected dangers and emergencies are the ones who bring profit out of a business when persons of less brain-power are unable to pay expenses. Profits so won are not taken out of wages, but when accumulated and invested in reproductive enterprises they inure at once to the benefit of labor.

Labor can increase its large share by greater energy in the production of wealth but it is scarcely conceivable how such are sult can follow a decrease in the amonnt of work performed. In explaining the economic law governing the creation and distribution of wealth Prof. Walker says of workmen: " Every improvement in their efficiency as laborers, whether due to quickened zeal, to hightened intelligence, or to greater indnstry, sobriety, or thrift, will serve directly to iucrease their wages." To decrease waste and increase production are the infallible means for improving the condition of labor, but a shortening of the hours of production and keeping steam power idle will have neither of these effects. There is no principle of economic science which authorizes the belief that workmen will be better off when there is less wealth to be divided. A reduction in the annual production of wealth will cause some loss to capital, but labor will suffer to a greater extent, since its proportion of the yearly increase is so much he larger.—Chicago Tribune.

ILLINOIS SUPREME COURT.

Matha E. Johnson v. W. D. Gibson et al. Filed at Springfield, March 27, 1886.

1. Chanoery—When a court of equity attempts to act directly upon property, whether real or personal, by its decree, it is, in the absence of statutory regulation, essential to the power of the court to act, that the property to be affected be within the territoral jurisdiction of the court.

2. Same—But when one is the owner of land or other property in a foreign jurisdiction, which in eqnity and good conscience belongs to another, the latter may sue him in equity in any jurisdiction in which he may be found, and compel him to convey the property. In such cases the decree operates on the person of the defendant, and does not directly affect the title of the property.

3. Creditor's Bill—A creditor may maintain a bill to set aside a frandnlent couveyance of his debtor in any jurisdiction where the debtor and fraudulent vendee may be found. In such case the conrt does not act upon the land itself, but simply declares the conveyance void and removes the same as an obstruction to the creditor's legal remedy.

4. Jurisdiction of oreditors bill.—The case of Richards v. Hyde, 21 Ill., is not to be regarded as holding that a decree renderd in a creditor's bill filed to set aside a fraudulent conveyance in a different county from that in which the lands lies, is void, and if it does, it can not be reconciled with prior and subsequent cases.

5. Territorial jurisdiction.—Section 3 of the Chancery Code, requiring suits affecting real estate to be brought in the county where it lies, is only declaratory of a general principle, which controls courts in administering equitable relief. When the relief sought does not require the court to deal directly with the estate itself, then the case is not within the meaning of the statute.

6. Publioation. — Sufficiency of affidavit made out of State.—An affidavit of inability to find certain defendants in a chancery suit brought in this state, or ascertain their place of residence upon diligent inquiry, will not be held bad or defective merely becanse sworn to by a party in another state, instead of in this state.

7. Estoppel.—A decree upon a creditor's bill setting aside certain conveyances as fraudulent, and finding certain facts, is conclusive npon the parties thereto, and they will be estopped in a collateral proceeding from denying the same.

7. Fraudulent Conveyanoe. — While an innocent purchaser, without notice of the fraud obtained property from a fraudulent grantee, may be protected and take the same purged of the fraud, yet if he re-conveys the same to the fraudulent grantee, it may be reached in his hands, the same as though he had never parted with it.

Sieretus Gable vs. John Wetherholholt Filed at Springfield, Marrh 27, 1886.

1. Landlord and Tenant.—While the relation of landlord and tenant exists, the latter in respect to his obligations to the former such as the payment of rent and the snrrender of the premises at the end of the term, is estopped from disputing his title, or from setting up title in himself or another. But this rnle does not prohibit the tenant uring the tenancy, frcm purchasing any, outstanding title, and from asserting the same against the landlord, after the expiration of the tenancy, and yielding up the possession. The estoppel to deny the landlord, then no longer remains.

2. Trust.—When purchaser held as trustee for another.—There are fiduciary relations where one may not purchase and hold for himself an adverse interest, but the purchase will inure for the benefit of the person to whom he holds the confidential relations. But a tenant at least ordinarily, does not occupy such a relation to his landlord, and may purchase an adverse title and assert it against his former landlord after having surrendered possession to him.

3. Enjoining an action of ejectment.—Where the title and interest of a defendant in ejectment is purely legal and his defense available and cognizable at law, it is error to enjon the prosecution of the action.

SUBURBAN NEWS.

From a statement it appears that the Pulman Company has paid for lighting and maintaining the streets of Pulman dnring the three years ending July 31, 1885 a little more than $18,000, and for maintaining its fire department about the same amount. The company represent that it has done this believing that when the matter could be properly presented to the people of Hyde Park, they would, through their Board of Trustees reimbnrse the company for the amount so expended, because during this time it had been called npon to pay taxes for like services in other parts of the Village, and common fairness would put it on the same footing.

The Cheltenham Improvement Company executed a lease this week for five years, with privelege of ten, to the World's Pastime Exposition Company of the property known as Cheltenham Beach. R. E. Jenkins, receiver, executed a similar lease to same. Improvements will begin at once.

South Evanston.—In school district No. 2 a four-room school house will be erected on the east side, and one on the south side.

The C. & N. W. R. R. are building a spur track up to the Ducat Block to block the progress of the Chicago & Evanston R. R., which, nevertheless, will be running to Evanston by May 15th.

Pullman. — Public improvements are made by the Pullman Company, and a special committee was appointed some mouths ago to examine the work done, for the purpose of determining what proportion of the expense of construction and maintainance the village should allow said company.

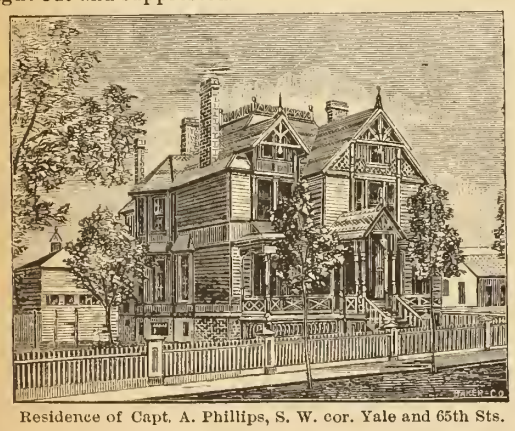
ENGLEWOOD.

One of Chicago's Most Noted and Prosperous Suburbs.

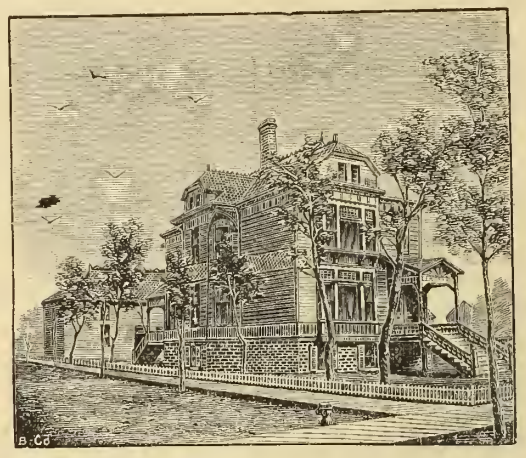


Chicago is fast approaching and even surpassing the large eastern cities, though older by many decades, in the number and growth of her suburbs. While all the suburban towns adjoining Chicago have been prosperous, the marvelous growth of Englewood and its neighbor, Normal Park, which may be appropriately styled "New Englewood" —for it is the direct out-growth of Englewood proper,— are worthy of special mention.

Englewood lies due south from Chicago, whose southern boundary line (39th street) lies only two miles north of the north boundary line of Englewood (55th street). There is embraced within the village limits all that territory lying between 55th and 71st streets and Halstead street and South Park avenue. It is west from the chilly dampness of the Lake Shore about 2½ miles. In altitude it is 26 feet above the lake level; 12 feet higher than Chicago, and 14 feet higher than Hyde Park proper.

Residence of John B. Lanyon, cor. Ross Ave. and 66th St.

The location of Englewood when considered as a suburban residence town is extremenely advantageous. It is connected with Chicago by several lines of railway, besides three street car lines, and it is safe to say no city in the world of its size enjoys such conveniences for transportation. Its growth has been steady and prosperous, and what was known seventeen years ago as "Junction Grove', is now Englewood with 12,000 inhabitants. The class of citizens who make up the population of Englewood are of the most eminent respectability and society is as refined as may be found in the fine residence portion of the city. Nearly every religious denomination is represented by an organized society, and many fine churches have been and more will be erected. The sacred quietness of the Sabbath is observed to a marked degree, and law and order prevail to such an extent that at no time is liquor sold within the corporate limits of Englewood, except in open violation of the law, and when a breach of the ordinance is observed it is qnickly sought out and suppressed.



Residence of Capt. A. Phillips, S. W. cor. Yale and 65th Sts.

Englewood is pre-eminently the first in the excellence of her educational institutions, as compared with other outlying suburbs.

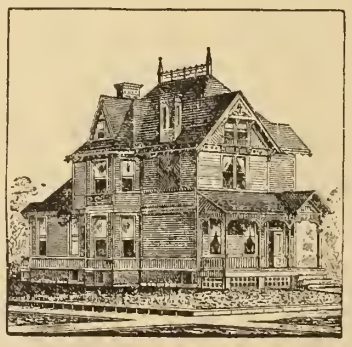
The drives about this subnrb are known to nearly every Chicagoan. The beautiful avenues of the South Side, Wabash, Michigan, Indiana, Prairie, Calumet, and South Park, extend through Englewood. Since the improvement of Wentworth avenue there is a continuous boulevard drive from Englewood north to Garfield boulevard, thence east through the great South and East Parks, and from thence to the city by either the Grand or Drexel boulevard. The streets are lighted with gas, and the gas company is rapidly extending its mains so as to cover the entire village. Several other gas companies have applied for permission to operate in the town, and several electric light companies have been already admitted. The air in Englewood is undefiled by the smoke of factories, being a residence town in the strictest sense of the term.

The values of Englewood property range from $35 a foot to $60 or $70 according to location and improvement, and are constantly on the increase. Large amounts have already been made by investors, and according to the present outlook good paying investments are still to be made in this property.

Residence of P. W. George, N. E. cor. School and Chestnut Sts.

C. S. Redfield is one of the oldest real estate men now in business in Englewood, the period of his residence dating back to 1873. Buyers will find some of the choicest of the real estate in Englewood, both improved and unimproved for sale by Mr. Redfield. Special inducements are offered by him to parties desirious of building. Office 6134 Wentworth avenue.

R. L. Benton, with office at 329 Sixty-third street. makes a specialty of the care of property in Englewood, Normal Park and Auburn, including the collection of rents, paying taxes, etc.



E. H. McClun is a reliable authority for Englewood real estate, both improved and unimproved, a large amount of which he has listed on his books for sale. Office 6138 Wentworth avenue.

Among the Chicago real estate agents who are interested largely in Englewood is J. Appleton Wilson, who has negotiated during the past ten years many of the important sales in its realty. Mr. Wilson has removed this spring to room 2 in the old Board of Trade building, 111 LaSalle street, where he has a spacious and nicely fitted up office for the transaction of his growing business.

J. A. Blaine, formerly of Redfield & Blaine, is carrying on a successful real estate business in Englewood realty, with office centrally located in the Englewoood Bank building, 6248 Wentworth avenue. From a fourteen years' residence in this suburb he has acquired a thorough knowledge of its property, of which buyers may well avail themselves. Arrangements may be made with him for building, on advantageous terms.

For many years John A. Bartlett has made this suburb his residence, and during this time has given special attention to its real estate interests. He has seen Englewood grow from a few hundreds in population to as many thonsand. It enjoys the advantages of the city without many of its disadvantages. In consulting with Mr Bartlett reliable information may be obtained in regard to salable Englewood real estate. Office room 21, 152 LaSalle street.

Among the most recent and at the same time the most enterprising of Englewood's real estate firms is that of J. P. Mallette & Co., with office in Central Block. They carry on a real estate business in all its branches, giving special attention to the buying and improving of unimproved property, During the past few months they have sold a large number of houses, built by themselves, at prices ranging from $3,500 to $5,000. They sell their houses on terms to suit purchaser. A careful inspection of their plans, and residences and terms will convince any purchaser that money can be saved by dealing with them, Kesler Bros. have been operating largely as buyers and builders in Englewood, their plan of operation being the purchasing of valuable tracts and snbdividing and improving them with fine residences. These houses, which are noted for their completeness and artistic design, are sold by them on terms to suit purchasers. They have built and sold many of the fine residences which give beanty and attractiveness of this suburb. Office 146 LaSalle street.

NORMAL PARK.

Normal Park directly adjoins Englewood to the south. It may be said to be the suburb of the town of Englewood, for it contains in a large measure the choicest residences and residence property of this attractive plan. Several new sub divisions have been opened up here and sold during the past few months and others are now being placed npon the market.

Normal Park contains the Cook County Normal School with its six hundred attendants from which it receives its name. A new Baptist chnrch has been recently organized, which will soon erect a suitable building for its services.

Among the most enterprising of Normal Park real estate dealers is J. Robson Weddell, who has already sold several subdivisions, and is now selling from five to ten lots a day in the subdivisions which he has at present on the market. With offices both at Normal Park and at room 5, 84 Randolph street, he is able to meet buyers both in the city and on the property.

W. H. Rice, who has been engaged in the real estate business of Chicago and its suburbs since 1856, is now buying and selling Normal Park real estate, and is carrying on his lists a large amount of both improved and nnimproved property. He is a reliable authority for values of this property. His office is located at Normal Park Station, on the Rock Island road.

Residence of the late P. W. Gillett, Wabash Ave. bet. 62d and 63d Sts.

PARK MANOR.

This is a new town just opened np adjoining the best residence property of Chicago, and flanked on either side by two of the best suburbs, viz.: Englewood on the west and Woodlawn on the east. Streets are already thrown np, graded and in many cases macadamized. Water pipes are in every street, and sidewalks laid. It is located between 67th and 71st streets, Sonth Park and St. Lawrence avenues.

Among the owners of this property is Wm. Leagne, who is prepared to sell and bnild for parties on advantageous terms. The improvements which have already been made together with those contemplatsd make the property a paying investment, either for speculation or present use. The office of Wm. League is in the Royal Insurance Company's Building, room 217.

LOANS

During the past fifteen years no city has had more subnrbs spring up around it than Chicago, the character of whose buildings rank high. The growth and prosperity of these snbnrbs have been due in a large measure to liberal loans npon the part of capitalists who foresaw their coming greatness.

HOW TO DECORATE.

In a pretty drawing room the mantel mirrors have been displaced by a plush hanging, richly embroidered and suspended from a brass rod and rings.

A delicate covering for a down sofa pillow is yellow surah silk and decorated with disks of the silk in various shades of yellow; each disk is further ornamented with the Queen Anne darning stitch.

Portieres have largely taken the place of doors, particularly in well-warmed houses, and there is hardly a limit to the materials or the combinations of colors that may be advantageously used. Portieres to hang over doors are of velour, turcoman or raw silk; very elegant ones are made of embroidered plush. A decided novelty is satin plush, which drapes gracefully and is very rich in effect.

Moorish fret-work make charming fire-screens when lined with yellow silk.

Dainty and highly pleasing are variegated tulips or hyacinths set in a low gilded basket. These are used on the luncheon or dinner table as a centre piece.

A glass table-bell is the latest fashionable freak.

Unique lamp shades may be made of colored beads in Japanesque style.

Porcelain and glass shades assume queer and fantastic shapes.

By reason of its central position and close relation to all principal lines East and West, at initial and terminal points, constitutes the most important mid-continental link in that system of through transportation which invites and facilitates travel and traffic between cities of the Atlantic and Pacific Coasts. It is also the favorite and best route to and from points East, Northeast and Southeast, and corresponding points West, Northwest and Southwest.

The Rock Island system includes in its main line and branches, Chicago, Joliet, Ottawa, La Salle, Peoria, Geneseo, Moline and Rock Island, in Illinois; Davenport, Muscatine, Washington, Fairfield, Ottumwa, Oskaloosa, West Liberty, Iowa City, Des Moines, Indianola, Winterset, Atlantic, Knoxville, Audubon, Harlan, Guthrie Centre and Council Bluffs, in Iowa; Gallatin, Trenton, Cameron and Kansas City, in Missouri; Leavenworth and Atchison, in Kansas; Albert Lea, Minneapolis and St. Paul, in Minnesota; Watertown in Dakota, and hundreds of intermediate cities, towns, villages and stations.

THE GREAT ROCK ISLAND ROUTE

Guarantees its patrons that sense of personal security afforded by a solid, thoroughly ballasted road-bed; smooth tracks of continuous steel rail; substantially built culverts and bridges; rolling stock as near perfection as human skill can make it; the safety appliances of patent buffers, platforms and air-brakes; and that exacting discipline which governs the practical operation of all its trains. Other specialties of this route are Transfers at all connecting points in Union Depots, and the unsurpassed comforts and luxuries of its Passenger Equipment.

The Fast Express Trains between Chicago and the Missouri River are composed of well ventilated, finely upholstered Day Coaches, Magnificent Pullman Palace Sleepers of the latest design, and sumptuous Dining Cars, in which elaborately cooked meals are leisurely eaten, "good Digestion waiting on Appetite, and Health on both." Between Chicago and Kansas City and Atchison, are also run the Celebrated Reclining Chair Cars.

THE FAMOUS ALBERT LEA ROUTE

Is the direct and favorite line between Chicago and Minneapolis and St. Paul, where connections are made in Union Depots for all points in the Territories and British Provinces. Over this route, Fast Express Trains are run to the watering places, summer resorts, picturesque localities, and hunting and fishing grounds of Iowa and Minnesota. It is also the most desirable route to the rich wheat fields and pastoral lands of interior Dakota.

Still another DIRECT LINE, via Seneca and Kankakee, has been opened between Newport News, Richmond, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, and Lafayette and Council Bluffs, Kansas City, Minneapolis and St. Paul and intermediate points.

THE
JOURNAL.

R. C. SMYERS, Editor and Proprietor.

CHICAGO, SATURDAY, MAY 1, 1886.

A CHANGE FOR THE BETTER.

It is not best to brag until one is out of the woods, and done moving, but the change from 121 5th ave. to the Gardiner Building, at 164 and 166 Wasthington st., is so great an improvement that we can not help mentioning the matter to our friends. The Real Estate and Building Journal could be easily found by its numerous readers wlth but a bare announcement of its removal on the front page of the cover. After to-day we shall occupy a suite of three rooms on the main floor of the above building, where we will have less noise, less dirt, and more light. Our main office—Room 14—is large enough, so that we need not hire a hall when we undertake to inaugurate a movement of our own to co-operate with the Real Estate Board or the Citizens' Association.

THE MARKET.

The large number of houses for rent during the past two weeks indicates plainly that it is the characteristic of every true Chicagoan to move. Indeed, so universal has this become that it has passed into a proverb. As a result both of this restless spirit and of the extremely advantageous weather for house renters, hundreds have located for the coming year within the last ten days. With all the building of the past year, the market seems not to be overloaded with houses, for from present indications nothing will be left after the first of May that is at all desirable. The only feature of special note in this year's renting is the general boycotting of old frame buildings possessing none of the modern improvements.

In regard to the labor questions now agitated, a prominent agent said: "I see no reason why the real estate market should be affected or depressed by these troubles, for capitalists can not help but see that real estate is a safer investment than either merchandise or stocks, and so will withdraw their money from them and put it into real estate."

The City Railway Co. will extend car lines on Halsted st. from Clybourn av. to Calumet av. during the coming summer. A system of transfers will be arranged with other lines at no extra charge. This will have an immediate effect on Lake View property, as it will add another inducement to the many now offered by this promising suburb. It is thought that it will have less influence upon North Side property through which it runs.

There is more foundation than is generally supposed to the rumors of an elevated railway on the South Side, extending between Wabash and Michigan avs., and either along Drexel and Grand boulevards, or the Lake Shore. This seems to be the bone of contention at present, as property owners along the Lake Shore are specially desirous of having the railway extend through their property, that it may give it an active market, while those along the boulevards are equally desirous.

James E. Merritt, of Minneapolis, Minn., and interested in the real estate of that city, reports an increase in the building operations and a bright outlook for the year's business.

J. C. Magill & Co. say that they will have no houses left on their hands after the first of May, from present indications.

J. P. Mallette & Co., of Englewood, report favorably in regard to Englewood. They are now erecting a number of fine residences.

F. B. Clarke will build twenty-five to thirty two-story and cellar houses, detached, on twenty-five foot lots, east of Ogden av. on Polk and Taylor sts.

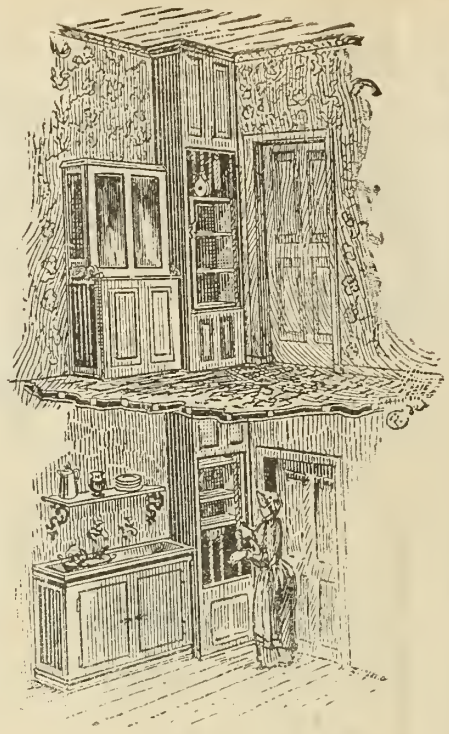
Rutz, Needles & Netling are recciving a good demand for loans on improved property.

A. M. Knoble reports an active business in North Side first-class business and residence property.

John Wain has just sold the St. James Hotel, 50x80, 116 and 118 Fifth av., for $180,000. Wirt Dexter and Frank H. Collier are buyers, and Union Mutual Life Ins. Co. the seller. It will be arranged for an office building. The second floor will be fitted up for a club room.

Kesler Bros., the well known builders and real estate dealers, have just accomplished something unusual in real estate transactions. They purchased two hundred feet on Englewood av., n. w. corner of Stewart av., Englewood, and at once closed the sale of five handsome residences to a colony of business gentlemen from the vicinity of Lincoln Park. The houses are to be built immediately. Each lot is 40x128 feet. The prices will range from $4.600 to $6,000. There will be no two alike. The purchasers are S. M. Sutherland, of the Domestic Sewing Machine Co., Geo. K. Rix, with the Barbee Iron Works, H. A. Swaizey, of the Fort Wayne R. R., Reuher Swartz, with Marshall Field & Co., and L. B. Freeman, of the Fort Wayne R. R.

W. D. Kerfoot & Co. report a very active business for the past two weeks.



E. F. Getchell & Co. are in their new and spacious quarters in Room 6, 125 Dearborn street.

In our editorial upon Englewood in last week's issue, the address of J. Robson Wed dell was given incorrectly, it being at Room 3, 89 Randolph st.; also the address of J. Appleton Wilson, which is at Room 7, 111 La Salle st.

The Ridgway Refrigerator Co. have just placed one of their celebrated refrigerators in C. H. Slack's store. It is one of the largest and finest in the city.

The steady and rapid development of the Chicago real estate market is one of the most certain indications of the solid prosperity of this city, and its realty is more sought after every year, as an investment rather than for speculation. In the selection of real estate for investment, the advice of experienced and honorable agents should be, and by judicious buyers is, always sought. Through many years of active experience in Chicago real estate, Chas. Goodman, 175 Dearborn st., Rooms 76 and 77, has acquired a thorough and practical knowledge of real estate and its values, of which buyers may well avail themselves. Since 1868 Mr. Goodman has been engaged to take the entire charge of W. S. Johnston's vast estate, valued at $2,000,000, with upward of six hundred tenants. He was employed first by Mr. Johnston, and after his death in 1882 by the estate. He gives special attention to the management of estates, maintaining them at the highest standard of productive efficiency.

Malcolm McNeil & Bros. have opened up spacious offices at No. 92 Washington st., where they will carry on a general real estate and loan business.

ANOTHER SUMMER RESORT.

The purchase of the thirty-two acres from the Illinois Central Railway Co. two weeks ago was made by Mr. George A. Chambers. He represented in the purchase a syndicate of eastern capitalists who intend to improve the property, which lies on the shore of Lake Michigan, east of the tracks of the railway, and immediately north of Jackson Park, having a shore frontage of twelve hundred feet. The price paid for the property was $140,000, or $4,375 per acre. The tract is bounded on the south by 56th street, and Cornell and Park avenues run through it. That portion lying east of Park avenue, and fronting the lake, has a frontage on the park of 640 feet. All that part lying west of Park avenue is divided into fifty-six lots, some of which are improved. It is proposed by the syndicate, under the supervision of Mr. Chambers, to pave Cornell avenue at once from 51st to 56th streets, and put down stone sidewalks on both sides of the avenue and on 56th st. The improvements of the streets and sidewalks will cost about $60,000. These improvements are but the beginning of an expenditure of $500,000 or more.

As soon as the plans can be perfected it proposed to begin the erection of a hotel on the lot next the lake. The work will commence next fall. General plans only of the building have been made, but the structure will be one of the largest kind, with watering-place accommodations. It will cost not less than $250,000. The design of the buildding contemplates an "ell" 300 feet long north and south and 250 feet east and west. The structure is to be three stories high and 75 feet wide, with porches or verandahs 25 feet wide all around, on the first and second floors, commanding a beautiful view of the lake and the park. It will be a frame building, and will have spacious corridors running through the entire length of the building on the second and third floors, and on part of the first floor, which will be twenty-five feet wide. The kitchen will be in the basement under the corner of the ell. The dining-room will be at the junction of the two arms of the building on the main floor, and will be 75x100 feet in dimensions. The bar and billiard-rooms will be so arranged as to be commodious and accessible, at the same time being away from those who might object to them. The office will be in the center of the building, running north and south. The upper floors will be reached by spacious stairways in the center and at either end of the two arms of the building. At the south end of the structure there will be a tower, or observatory, one hundred feet high. There will be 200 spacious rooms, all of which will be outside rooms, arranged so as to accommodate the wants of families or those who come singly. It is expected that the hotel will be completed ready for occupancy by next summer, when it will be royally furnished and opened to the public. Although a summer resort, it will also be kept open all winter for the accommodation of parties, as it will be accessible from the boulevards to 51st street, and Cornell and Park avenues from that point.

At 56th street arrangements are being made to build a pier for the accommodation of vessels. As the beach is one of the finest on the lake, there will be erected a system of bath houses and ample accommodations for bathing. Louis A. Dyer has been employed as civil engineer in charge of the improvements. As a summer resort it will be easily reached by the ten-minute trains on the Illinois Central road. The outlay to complete the entire work will probably reach $750,000. and the money has all been secured. Such a venture has frequently been talked of, but was never put upon a substantial footing until now.

Real Estate Law.

Elisha Ersley et al. v. John C. Sloan et al. Filed at Ottawa, March 27, 1886.

USURY.—When party conveys land subject to a trust deed thereon, given by him to secure a note tainted with usury, this will be treated as an election on his part to affirm the validity of his contract, and the grantee of his equity of redemption, taking with full knowledge of the incumbrance and reserving out of the purchase price the amount due on the mortgage, can not be heard to complain of the usury in the original debt secured by the trust deed, nor can he set up in defense any usurious payments made by the grantor.

PURCHASER.—When a party takes a deed for land which expressly states it is made subject to an incumbrance therein described, the law will presume that the incumbrance as it appears on its face formed a part of the consideration for the deed.

USURY.—When a party, after giving his mortgage or deed of trust to secure a note containing usury, conveys his equity of redemption to another, the conveyance being made expressly subject to the incumbrance, he will by such conveyance divest himself of the right to redeem from the incumbrance, and will have no interest in the land or the lien; and so far as payment of his debt is sought out of the land, he can not set up the usury or payments of usury made by him, and thereby aid his grantee in avoiding payment of the incumbrance.

INTEREST.—Where a party seeks in equity to redeem land from a mortgage not tainted with usury, or where he is not entitled to avail of usury, it is proper in decreeing the relief sought to require him to pay the principal debt, together with the rate of interest stipulated by the parties, not exceeding that allowed by law. Cases affected by usury in which this court holds that the party seeking relief shall pay only six per cent. have no application.

POWER OF FOREIGN CORPORATION TO TAKE REAL ESTATE IN ILLINOIS, WHERE CORPORATE POWERS MAY BE EXERCISED.—The opinion of the Supreme Court of Illinois by Sheldon, J., holding that a corporation created by the laws of Wisconsin, for educational purposes with power to acquire and hold real estate, is capable of taking by devise lands in Illinois; that a corporation created in one State may, upon the principle of comity, exercise within another State the general powers conferred by its own charter, and permitted by the law of its own State; provided the doing so be not inconsistent with the law or public policy of such other State; that the corporate purpose of furnishing education must be carried on at the place where the academy is established, but the incidental powers which are necessary and proper for the maintaining of an academy there may be carried on elsewhere. The receiving of gifts of money and property for the purpose of the corporation is a means of maintaining the academy, of carrying out the object for which the corporation was formed, and the power given to take, hold and convert property, real and personal, for such purposes, may be exercised anywhere, unaffected by the restriction as to the academy's place of location.

This opinion shows how careful courts should be in delivering their opinions to confine themselves closely to the questions necessary to a decision of the case before the court. We well remember with what consternation the opinion of the Supreme Court was received in Carroll v. East St. Louis, 67 Ill., by foreign insurance companies who were loaning money in this State and taking security on real estate. To counteract the effect of what the court said in that opinion, Judge Bradwell introduced a bill in the legislature, which is now a law, authorizing foreign corporations to loan money in this State and to take and enforce the security on real estate. In the opinion in this issue the Supreme Court in referring to the Carroll and other cases say:

"In respect of what was actually decided in those cases, there is no conflict with the decision in this case, but with certain obiter dicta in the Carroll case there is disagreement."—Legal News.

BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATIONS.

One of our leading builders said last week that while it was true that the building and loan associations are vigorous and multiplying, and likely to continue growing in number and efficiency, their sphere of usefulness was being somewhat curtailed by the construction of so many new houses, which are offered and sold at lower prices and on easy and inviting terms. He stated that as long as a man could buy a six or seven-room house at two to three thousand dollars, including lot, in a good neighborhood and convenient to cars and shops, at two to three hundred dollars down and easy monthly or quarterly payments, after that he will think twice over it before entering an association and borrowing money at seven to fifteen per cent., as is very frequently done, and putting up his own house. The value of much of the money going into houses in this city is estimated at five per cent. by the investors. Some of the houses erected through building and loan associations are built on twelve to fifteen per cent. money. The difference makes an item worth looking at. The wholesale construction of houses with five per cent. capital, in blocks of fifty to two hundred, will naturally go ahead of the small retail and individual operations made with dear money. Some of the advocates of the old building and loan system say these extensive operations of investors will only strengthen the building associations, but it is difficult to see how they can. In a three thousand dollar house the difference in investment alone, calling them respectively five and ten per cent., would be one hundred and fifty dollars. The real question purchasers have to decide is: Can we get a better house in the association or by individual purchase? The bulk of those who are providing themselves with homes are answering in favor of the individual plan. Builders report a very active demand for houses of small size. They are picked up very rapidly. Hence builders are prospecting and constructiug and scheming for still more extended operations. Cheap and abundant money is the basis of existing house building activity. Men who can build houses on five per cent. capital will crowd aside others who can not build with less than ten per cent. capital, to say nothing of the economic advantages of large operations as against individual operations.

BUILDING operations will not be discouraged this year by any scarcity of money, or lack of confidence, or serious increase in the cost of material, or in the price of labor. On the other hand, building activity will be stimulated by the demand for houses and factories, by the increasing trade requirements, by the fortunate investments of last year, and by the general strengthening of confidence which all these causes are bringing about. Influences are at work, pointing in the direction of heavier real estate transactions. The upward tendency in prices will be productive of good rather than harm. Our most prosperous times were during the eras of high prices. There are no probabilities of a speculative era. The conditions are ripe for industrial activity throughout the country, and for a steady enlargement of building operations, and for wise and conservative operations in real estate.

Real estate agents report liberal renting and selling. The better times are inducing each family to live in a house of its own. When depression comes, people "double up," go into boarding houses, or wander off, and thus throw a surplus of house room on the market, with a resulting loss in idle houses or reduced rents. The present tendency is to buy, and the tendency is being stimulated by builders and agents.

MOST employers naturally look upon arbitration as a device for robbing them of some of the authority which belongs to them. They are not disposed to accept or adopt any principle or proposition which will strengthen their employes in their position to accept or not accept current rates of wages. The work of organizing is rapidly extending all over the country, and workmen are resolutely demanding that the principle of arbitration shall be accepted and put in force. Two or three years ago attempts were made in various State legislatures to enact laws that would establish some sort of arbitration, but of late this method has been neglected, and labor organization itself relied upon to enforce the views of the workingmen.

THE facts are that, while the architect's responsibility is as real and as serious as the contractor's responsibility, the two do not cover the same field at all. The contractor alone is responsible for the honest and workmanlike execution of his contract. He makes his bid, signs the agreement, purchases the material, selects his employes, and they work by his orders. They have no direct dealings with the architect, receive no orders from him, and do not recognize any direct authority but their employer, who in turn is solely responsible for their work, and can not relieve himself by shifting any part of it on the archltect. The latter has a similar responsibility in regard to the drawings and specifications which he supplies, and any mistakes in them which may be made by the draughtsmen whom he employs.

A MAN

CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC R'Y,

Being the Great Central Line, affords to travelers, by reason of its unrivaled geographical position, the shortest and best route between the East, Northeast and Southeast, and the West, Northwest and Southwest.

It is literally and strictly true, that its connections are all of the principal lines of road between the Atlantic and the Pacific.

A MAN

By reason of its central position and close relation to all principal lines East and West, at initial and terminal points, constitutes the most important mid-continental link in that system of through transportation which invites and facilitates travel and traffic between cities of the Atlantic and Pacific Coasts. It is also the favorite and best route to and from points East, Northeast and Southeast, and corresponding points West, Northwest and Southwest.

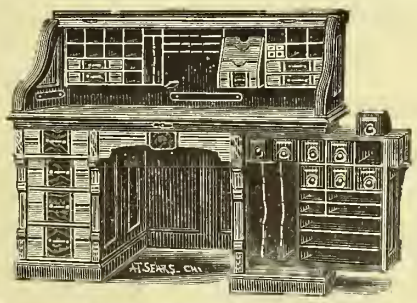
The Rock Island system includes in its main line and branches, Chicago, Joliet, Ottawa, La Salle, Peoria, Geneseo, Moline and Rock Island, in Illinois; Davenport, Muscatine, Washington, Fairfield, Ottumwa, Oskalcosa, West Liberty, Iowa City, Des Moines, Indianola, Winterset, Atlantic, Knoxville, Audubon, Harlan, Guthrie Centre and Council Bluffs, in Iowa; Gallatin, Trenton, Cameron and Kansas City, in Missouri; Leavenworth and Atchison, in Kansas; Albert Lea, Minneapolis and St. Paul, in Minnesota; Watertown in Dakota, and hundreds of intermediate cities, towns, villages and stations.

THE GREAT ROCK ISLAND ROUTE

Guarantees its patrons that sense of personal security afforded by a solid, thoroughly ballasted road-bed; smooth tracks of continuous steel rail; substantially built culverts and bridges; rolling stock as near perfection as human skill can make it; the safety appliances of patent buffers, platforms and air-brakes; and that exacting discipline which governs the practical operation of all its trains. Other specialties of this route are Transfers at all connecting points in Union Depots, and the unsurpassed comforts and luxuries of its Passenger Equipment.

The Fast Express Trains between Chicago and the Missouri River are composed of well ventilated, finely upholstered Day Coaches, Magnificent Pullman Palace Sleepers of the latest design, and sumptuous Dining Cars, in which elaborately cooked meals are leisurely eaten, "good Digestion waiting on Appetite, and Health on both." Between Chicago and Kansas City and Atchison, are also run the Celebrated Reclining Chair Cars.

THE FAMOUS ALBERT LEA ROUTE



Is the direct and favorite line between Chicago and Minneapolis and St. Paul, where connections are made in Union Depots for all points in the Territories and British Provinces. Over this route, Fast Express Trains are run to the watering places, summer resorts, picturesque localities, and hunting and fishing grounds of Iowa and Minnesota. It is also the most desirable route to the rich wheat fields and pastoral lands of interior Dakota.

Still another DIRECT LINE, via Seneca and Kankakee, has been opened between Newport News, Richmond, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, and Lafayette and Council Bluffs, Kansas City, Minneapolis and St. Paul and intermediate points.

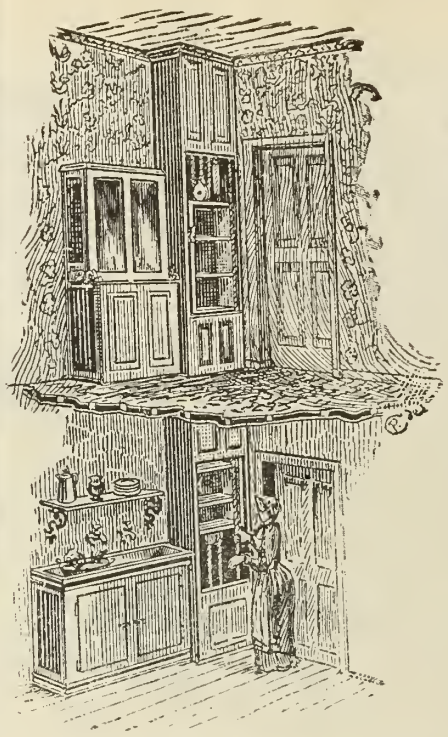
CHICAGO, SATURDAY, MAY 8, 1886.

THE knotty question of the real relations that should exist between capital and labor, which has engaged the attention of political economists for a long time in the past, without a satisfactory solution, is becoming more impressive every year. It is, perhaps, one of those questions that will never be settled to the satisfaction of those holding extreme views upon either side. It is scarcely to be expected that those who affect to believe that the social structure is fundamentally wrong will be satisfied with anything short of a complete social and political revolution, and it is most doubtful should they succeed in securing their aim that they would be nearer a state of contentment than they now are. Society, in its various relations, political, social and commercial, may be in fault in structure, and the masses are not ready for its destruction and reorganization on a new basis to be built on crude theories. And this is the end which the various secret labor organizations are seeking to bring about. The contest now being waged is that of labor against capital, and for what the leaders of the movement contend should be the just rights of the former. But just what the equitable right of labor in its relation to capital may be, no one seems able to tell. The great mass of American people are laborers in some capacity; that is, their livelihood depends upon their daily exertions at the desk, in the workshop, in the mines, on the railways, or in some capacity requiring physical and mental exertion; hence it may be said that the great majority are more in sympathy with the true rights of labor than with capital, as the term is generally applied. But to say that the masses favor the recently imported methods of settling differences by strikes and boycotts, would be a libel upon American workingmen and women. Out of a total population in 1880 of 36,761,600 above ten years of age, of which about half were females, 17,392,000 were engaged in some occupation for a livelihood. The few are capitalists in the sense in which the term is generally applied, and the many are wage-earners. Now it would seem that the power of capital must be something wonderful to withstand the social and political influence which labor, if the causes for discontent are so numerous and imperative as the new social lights would have us to believe, could exist. In a certain sense every prudent workingman and woman is, or should be, a capitalist; that is, if their compensation is reasonable and their conduct prudent, they are able to lay something aside from their daily earnings. All capital or wealth is the result of labor, and accrues to the individual in the proportion in which his expenses are less than his earnings. The young man who places his first ten cents in a savings bank is an incipient capitalist. It may be remarked right here that more than ninety per cent. of the so-called capitalists of the day who employ large bodies of working people, began their fortunes in a small way at the desk, in the workshop, or at some manual labor. In this country capitalists are not a born class.

Capital is the result of labor and is the surplus over the daily expenditure of the laborer for the necessaries and comforts of life. And this surplus representing the accumulations of labor is entitled to employment and a just reward. That earned capital does not always remain in first hands, but accumulates in varying large amounts in the possession of the few, is generally the fault of the earner, who improvidently parts with his surplus over actual needs. The right of ownership and all the advantages appertaining thereto pass with possession.

A man's ability and skill in a certain sense is capital, which he applies for his individual benefit. Suppose he is a mechanic, and earns $600 a year; that sum equals 6 per cent. interest on $10,000, which may be taken as the measure of his individual wealth. Should he succeed in laying aside each year one-sixth of his earnings and invest the same at 6 per cent. interest for fifteen years, his accumulated labor would be transformed into about $2,500, the annual interest upon which would equal one-quarter of his earning ability. This is capital, a fair income from which the earner is as well entitled to as to his daily wages. Now suppose again that while this one wage-earner has saved his surplus earnings, twenty-five others have squandered. theirs, and what should accumulate in their hands has passed into that of others more prudent or saving. Were the surplus of this number of improvident earners all to pass to a single ownership, the one individual would be possessed of $62,500, and would become mostlikely an employing capitalist, and an object of malevalence to those whom he employed.



The labor outlook is discouraging. The great railroad strike in the West is not entirely settled and strikes are becoming epidemic in all branches of trade throughout the country. Workmen are growing more unreasonable in their demands, their leaders are becoming more arrogant, and one day after another is experiencing "tie-ups" on street railways. The hard feelings of strikers against their former employers are becoming more bitter, as is shown by the number of recent threats to "boycott" capitalists. The riots of the West have been repeated upon a smaller scale in New York while in Chicago many have been killed and and wounded and all the destitution, all the discontent, the sickness and sorrow and untold suffering caused by strikes are being felt now by the wives and helpless children of the strikers. Does any one suppose that the rank and file of the striking Knights of Labor want this situation to remain as it is? Is it pleasant for them to look in the pale, despairing faces of their wives, to hear the cries of their half-fed offspring, to know they are held bound to obey unscrupulous agitators, and to see nothing better ahead? What would they do now if they were given the choice. Surpose there were no threatening foreign demagogues over them, no oaths to hold their hands idle while employment waits for them. How long would it take them to cry. "Give us back our old positions, our familiar employment, our salaries, our homes as they were before grim want entered them."

If striking workmen all over the country don't want things to keep on as they are who do? Why the "agitators;" the men who would'nt work if they were begged to; the miserable, scheming, bickering, trading crew of scamps, who have made themselves the dictators of the labor organizations and get well paid for it; the men who visit employers and try to browbeat and bully and harass then into submitting to their dictation who order thousands of hard-fisted toilers to leave their work because it pleases them to battle with corporations. Nobody ever saw an "agitator's" children living on half rations, or an "agitator's" home fireless, or an "agitator's" wife bowed down with grief born of adversity. These demagogues are the chaps that roll over the land in Pullman cars, live at high-priced hotels, send their commands and threats by telegraph, and draw their funds from the treasuries of the workingman's organizations. No man can say when or how the present labor troubles will end, and meanwhile their influence is disastrous. Great railroad lines are paralyzed; spindles are idle, and capital has little or no reward. Those persons whose incomes come from stocks and bonds have in many cases been forced to accept large reductions. Enterprise is checked and the development of communities, as well as the whole country is hindered. But, worst of all, the uneducated workmen seem to be imbibing a spirit of lawlessness and anarchy that nothing but the firmest stand on the part of the duly-constituted authorities can quell and eradicate.

THE STRIKES AND THEIR EFFECTS UPON THE REAL ESTATE BUSINESS.

The all absorbing question to the real estate agent and property owners alike is what will be the permanent effect of the labor troubles upon the year's business, and the values of real estate. If there were to be nothing else than the comparative cessation for a few weeks of business, and then the resumption of trade and a settled market as the outcome, the question would lose much of its serious aspect. But there is a fear among some that this is not all to be expected. That the business of the two preceeding weeks has been materially lessened and that within the past week no business to speak of has been transacted, on account of the present difficulties, is the common report with all the agents and needs no comment. As to the duration of this status of affairs a variety of opinions were expressed by our agents. Viz.: W. D. Kerfoot & Co., "The market has been quite materially affected during the past two weeks by the strikes. The outlook at the present time for the business of the year is very uncertain. Nothing definite can be stated." Pierce & Ware, "The worst of the labor troubles has already been past. The occurrence of Tuesday night did more than a little to arouse the good people of Chicago against the law-defying element manifest among the strikers. Less apprehension is now felt and nothing but a temporary lull in business for a few days will be the outcome; for the crops are very promising in all sections of the country, and plenty of money is now in the market for investments bearing low rates of interest."

Barnes & Parish, "The strike has knocked the real estate business endwise, but houses are renting faster this year than last, after the first of May, owing to the large numbers of renters who have put off renting until the last moment, in the hopes of lower rent which they are now receiving, there being a general drop in all classes of houses. Our boards keep full because property is brought in as fast as we rent by owners, who think they can manage their own property until the first of May is past."

Baird & Bradley: "It will take from thirty to sixty days before the effect of the strikes upon real estate is over. All kinds of buyers are holding off. There is no inquiry to speak of at the present time."

W. T. Hansen: "The strikes have had slight effect upon the sale of lands in Kansas, Minnesota, Iowa, and, in fact, all Western lands. The people throughout the states who at this time seek lands to settle on have a general feeling of uncertainity as to transportation on account of the troubles among the railroads. But the prospect for a good year is very encouragiug as the crops were never better. There will be considerable business during the month of May."

Byron A. Baldwin & Co.: "Business is but temporarily dull in consequence of the general labor troubles." They have made the following sales recently: Sixty-six feet on Lake avenue, sonth of Thirty-seventh street, at $125 per foot; cottage and lot on Congress street, $3,500; cottage and lot on Fifth avenue and Thirty-seventh street, $2.425; fifty feet on Warren avenue, $2,700; twenty-five-foot lot with frame building on Prairie avenue, $3,600. They will place on the market a sub-division at Maplewood of twenty-two and one half acres on Humboldt boulevard. Thirty-five-foot lts will be sold at $200.

Geo. A. Seaverns has recently bought forty acres adjoining, for $9,500, which will be also sub-divided and sold. From seventy-five to one hundred houses will probably be erected on this ground.

Schrader Bros.: "No permanent effect will be the outcome of this strike." They have sold a corner on north Wells street at $6,500; two hundred and fifty feet on Egendale street, at thirty-five dollars per foot, and several other lots in Lake View.

The plans for the new opera house to be built by Goldy & Owings on north Clark street, one hundred and fifty feet north of Division st, are about completed by the architect, Oscar Cobb. It will seat 2,300 people and will cost $7,500.

REMOVAL NOTES.

They will carry on a general real estate and renting business, but give as heretofore special attention to "choice property for investment." They solicit the patronage of all who are seeking investments or who desire to place their property for sale or rent with reliable agents.

Evans & Co., located at No. 114 La Salle street, have on their books a large list of real estate, improved and unimproved, for business and residence purposes. They have certain investment properties which buyers will do well to investigate.

GRANOLITHIC.

The growing popularity of granolithic for sidewalks, steps and in fact for all purposes where natural stone is used, among architects and property owners is but what might naturally be expected from the qualities which it possesses and advantages afforded over other materials used for a like purpose. Granolithic was introduced in this country four years ago and is used in over eight hundred different places in New York, Philadelphia and Washington. It is very popular in the East and is becoming so in the West. In Europe, it has been extensively used for over ten years. The granolitbic walk is composed of four inches of broken lime stone, three inches of first quality Portland cement concrete and a wearing surface of from one to two inches of granolithic, which wearing surface is a concrete composed of two parts of washed crushed granite to one of Stewart's granolithic cement. This cement is prepared for the purpose and is patented. Thus a solid walk of at least eight inches is obtained, not one element of which is inferior to the common limestone now generally used for sidewalks, and at considerably less than the price of a four-inch walk of limestone. The breaking strength of granolithic is greater than that of limestone. The granolithic sidewalk around the City Hall, laid two years ago, is now drawing the attention of property owners and architects, and is leading many to an investigation of its merits. After two years of constant use it shows no signs of wearing away, thus giving evidence of the ability of the cement to hold together the particles of granite. Work that is ten years old in Europe looks as well as it does here.

The steps now being constructed at the La Salle street entrance of the City Hall are also granolithic.

The durability of this walk and the perfect grade obtained and retained are worthy of the examination of every property owner in Chicago. It is almost impossible to retain a perfect grade in a sidewalk of natural stone.

THE address of Chas. Goodman, manager of the W. S. Johnston estate, was incorrectly given in our editorial of last week. His office is at 115 Dearborn st.

FLORIDA.

Florida is a State of abundant resources. She owns broad acres of productive soil and waters that swarm with fishes, but these might have laid for centuries undeveloped except for the surpassing climate within which they are so fortunately placed. Rich lands, fish, forests and game may be found in other places; the scorching tropics may send us oranges and dates, but a climate like Florida's exists nowhere else in all the world.

The climate of Florida has achieved a world-wide reputation. To share its benefits and enjoy its delights more than a hundred thousand people come every winter to stay a few weeks or months, and then are gone again. They come from every country of Europe, every state, territory and province of North America, and the tide of pilgrimage grows greater at each snoceeding season.

The pre-eminent characteristics of the climate of Florida are mildness and equability.

Prof. A. H. Curtiss, of Jacksonville, Fla., an eminent botanist, has enumerated 201 varieties of Florida trees. In making up his list he classes as trees all plants having solid woody stems as much as four inches in diameter, growing erect or nearly so, and without support. The number stated he finds to be 47 per cent. of all the trees of the United States, and a half more than is found in any other State.

This great diversity of forest growth Mr. Curtiss attributes mainly to the sub-tropical character of the southern portion of the peninsula.

Among so great a number there will be found some to subserve every purpose. There are the hardest and softest of woods, the heaviest and the lightest, the most durable and the most perishable, the most flexible and the most brittle, woods most easily split and others impossible to split.

Orange culture in Florida is a leading, if not quite the foremost industry of the State. The groves have increased in size and number so rapidly during recent years that the possibility of over-production has been mooted. There is, however, no danger in this direction.

The popularity of Florida has been growing within the past few years quite rapidly, there having been an increase of seventy-five to one hundred thousand of actual settlers during the past five years. This has been due in a large measure to the untiring efforts of men who are thoroughly possessed with the idea of a brilliant future for Florida. While much prejudice has been aroused against Florida lands through frandulent schemes and companies, still the fault rests mainly with the people. An examination into the affairs of any company is possible, and should always be made before purchasing.

The W. H. Howard Land Company, 155 and 157 Dearborn st., realizing this, are prepared to show all buyers their corporation papers, deeds of land, and to give abundant evidence that their land actually exists as represented.

The lands which they are now selling are located in Fort Meade, Polk Co., Fla. Fort Meade may be seen on any good map of Florida. Polk County has doubled in population during the past five years. The town is one of the principal stations on the Florida Southern R. R.

In order to enhance the value of their addition to the town of Fort Meade, Polk Co., Fla., they have determined to donate, as a gift, to respectable and energetic parties who will accept, every alternate lot on their plat.

The lots they propose to give away are just as good as those they will retain for sale, and are free from debt, mortgage, bond. incumbrance, or lien, and title absolute; they will furnish with every warranty deed they make a clear and concise abstract of title. Their deed contains no conditions, and they guarantee the land to be high and dry and fertile.

Why do they do this? Very simply, because the more property is handled and transferred, the more valuable it becomes, and finally it will fall into some one's hands who will hold it, and buy what is on both sides of it. This is the time they make their profit, and is the only excuse they offer for being so exceedingly clever as to make you a present of their property.

In this county and immediate vicinity they own many acres of land, which they wish to improve and cultivate as much as possible in the present year, and to facilitate this end quickly they must have the assistance of others. To induce immigration and location in their beautiful county they will donate to actnal settlers five acres of land near the town of Fort Meade. This is land enough for ordinary cultivation of oranges.

The only cost to yon will be $3 per lot for making deed and abstract of property selected, which may be remitted with your order. The lot adjoining the one selected will be sold, if taken now, for $15. Should you prefer to have papers examined prior to acceptance (as some do), they will send them C. O. D. by express, with this stipulation provided. In this case, however, you will be required to bear the express company's charges.

THE USUAL RESULT.

It is not to be denied that a good sewing machine is one of the most important appurtenances of the modern household.

We thought we had a good machine until one day the agent of the New Home presented himself at our door and proceeded to deliver an oration upon its characteristic merits.

"But," we answered, "our machine suits us well, and we do not care for another."

The agent, however, begged the privilege of leaving one of his machines with us, "for the ladies to try."

The request was not unreasonable, so we granted it—but more to oblige the agent than anything else; for we really did not want the machine, and had not the remotest idea of buying it.

The machine once in the house, it was natural that the ladies should look it over; they did so, and as a consequence fell in love with it. They say that without the slightest wish to decry or disparage any other machine, this, all things considered, is in their opinion the most desirable one to be had.

This unrivaled machine is manufactured by the NEW HOME SEWING MACHINE Co., Orange, Mass., and 30 Union Square, New York.

Ribbon decorations still continue to be used on almost every conceivable article—chair-legs, tables, milking-stools, baskets and whisk-brooms have flowing loops and bows of ribbon.

French sash curtains of embroidered mull or muslin, and edged with lace, are newer than those of Japanese silk.

Nottingham lace, completely covered with embroidery in different shades of silk, is a rich trimming for a chair seat.

The low book-shelves that have superseded the unweildy glass cases that used to fill up one side of a room are adorned by silk draperies that protect the volumes from dust.

A MAN

By reason of its central position and close relation to all principal lines East and West, at initial and terminal points, constitutes the most important mid-continental link in that system of through transportation which invites and facilitates travel and traffic between cities of the Atlantic and Pacific Coasts. It is also the favorite and best route to and from points East, Northeast and Southeast, and corresponding points West, Northwest and Southwest.

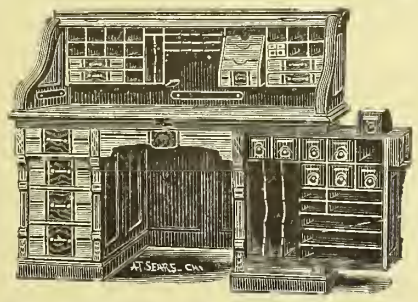
The Rock Island system includes in its main line and branches, Chicago, Joliet, Ottawa, La Salle, Peoria, Geneseo, Moline and Rock Island, in Illinois; Davenport, Muscatine, Washington, Fairfield, Ottumwa, Oskaloosa, West Liberty, Iowa City, Des Moines, Indianola, Winterset, Atlantic, Knoxville, Audubon, Harlan, Guthrie Centre and Council Bluffs, in Iowa; Gallatin, Trenton, Cameron and Kansas City, in Missouri; Leavenworth and Atchison, in Kansas; Albert Lea, Minneapolis and St. Paul, in Minnesota; Watertown in Dakota, and hundreds of intermediate cities, towns, villages and stations.

THE GREAT ROCK ISLAND ROUTE

Guarantees its patrons that sense of personal security afforded by a solid, thoroughly ballasted road-bed; smooth tracks of continuous steel rail; substantially built culverts and bridges; rolling stock as near perfection as human skill can make it; the safety appliances of patent buffers, platforms and air-brakes; and that exacting discipline which governs the practical operation of all its trains. Other specialties of this route are Transfers at all connecting points in Union Depots, and the unsurpassed comforts and luxuries of its Passenger Equipment.

The Fast Express Trains between Chicago and the Missouri River are composed of well ventilated, finely upholstered Day Coaches, Magnificent Pullman Palace Sleepers of the latest design, and sumptuous Dining Cars, in which elaborately cooked meals are leisurely eaten, "good Digestion waiting on Appetite, and Health on both." Between Chicago and Kansas City and Atchison, are also run the Celebrated Reclining Chair Cars.

THE FAMOUS ALBERT LEA ROUTE



Is the direct and favorite line between Chicago and Minneapolis and St. Paul, where connections are made in Union Depots for all points in the Territories and British Provinces. Over this route, Fast Express Trains are run to the watering places, summer resorts, picturesque localities, and hunting and fishing grounds of Iowa and Minnesota. It is also the most desirable route to the rich wheat fields and pastoral lands of interior Dakota.

Still another DIRECT LINE, via Seneca and Kankakee, has been opened between Newport News, Richmond, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, and Lafayette and Council Bluffs, Kansas City, Minneapolis and St. Paul and intermediate points.

THE
Real Estate and Building JOURNAL.

R. C. SMYERS, Editor and Proprietor.

CHICAGO, SATURDAY, MAY 15, 1886.

THE eight-hour agitation certainly threatens, if it does nothing worse, the prosperity of the building trades and the general prosperity of the conntry. Possibly we will pass through this transition, which practically amonnts to a revolution, without suffering any real harm; but there are thousands of employers of labor who feel that this change can not be made without the infliction of damages, which will not be easily gotten over. This agitation, fortunately, extends from one end of the country to the other. Chicago does not suffer alone, nor even Illinois, nor the western States, but the movement extends from Boston to San Francisco, and from Duluth to New Orleans. Monday, May 1, the contest opened. Employers have, in hnndreds of instances, agreed to the reduction of either one or two honrs, and have made terms as to the rates of pay; in some cases paying a corresponding reduction, and in other cases paying ten hours' for eight or nine honrs' work. The situation, condensed into the fewest words possible, is as follows: The building trades started in last week in most cities on a nine-hour basis, and in most cases at a corresponding reduction of pay. In Philadelphia the wages of carpenters continue this year at $2.75, and the wages of other building labor is also on last year's basis, with some few exceptions. The boss painters voted against nine hours; the hod carriers have been granted, some $2.25 per day and some $2.50, for nine hours' work. Stone mason laborers want $2.00 for nine hours. The brick-layers have settled upon 39 cents per hour and nine hours per day. Similar action has been taken in some other trades, but the trouble is not yet over. In New York, in the building trades, nine hours has become the rule, and many others have followed. The building trades are almost a nnit for nine honrs, and with corresponding reductions. The furniture workers, to the number of 10,000, have adopted the eight hour day. The joint arbitration committee of the Mason-Builders' Association and the brick-layers' unions have agreed to 45 cents per hour for nine hours, excepting Saturday, which will be an eight-hour day. Their relative gain is $1.59 per week. The blue-stone cutters and flaggers of that city have enforced the nine-hour rule and $4.00 per day. The eight-hour day prevails on all municipal work in Brooklyn. The adoption of this rule will be quite general throughout the West. In scores of industries of New York and Pennsylvania the shorter day rule is being established this month. The Chicago brick-layers and masons, 8,000 strong, have adopted the eight-hour rule, and in Troy the journeymen carpenters have agreed with the bosses for an eight-hour day, at 30 cents per hour. In Milwaukee the boss carpenters have agreed to the eight-hour rule, and the brick-layers, masons and hod-carriers have also adopted it. In St. Louis many industries have adopted the eight and nine-hour day, with pay by the hour, as recommended by the Trades Assembly. The master plasterers agreed to the eight-hour system, and will pay their men $3.50 per day for eight hours instead of $4.50 per day for ten hours. The contractors and builders generally have agreed to consider eight hours a day's work, at 30 cents per hour. In Rochester, N. Y., the brick-layers and other members of the building trades struck for eight hours a day on the 3d inst. In Ohio the eight-hour bill has become a law. In Baltimore many meetings have been held, and 10,000 men, representing 45 trades, paraded for eight hours. The Granite Cutters' Union, of Baltimore, will work only nine hours, but accept a reduction of 25 cents per day from the wages paid for ten hours. In Galveston, Tex., the eight-hour day began May 4. In Pittsburg the plnmbers started in upon nine hours and eight on Saturday. The carpenters, brick-layers, and other branches of the building trade, did the same. In Boston the brick-layers, carpenters, and other members of the building trades, have held over a hundred meetings within the past year, and the boss builders have to a large extent yielded to the demands of their workmen, that fifty-three hours constitute a week's work. In Washington all classes of mechanics, including carpenters, brick-layers, and other trades in the bnilding line, are unanimously in favor of the short-hour movement; but the builders and contractors have organized to resist its enforcement. and a strike seems inevitable. The resolution of the carpenters demands eight hours, at $3.00 per day. and provides for the trial and fining of any member who violates this rule, and prohibits all over-time and Sunday work except for donble pay. Statements of this kind concerning labor agitations for shorter hours and higher wages could be multiplied indefinitely. The whole world of labor seems to be aroused. In times past no serious damage was done in the reduction from fourteen hours to twelve, and from twelve to ten, and hence many are inclined to take the charitable view that the reduction from ten to eight or nine hours will not be attended with any disastrous consequences. It is of no use to draw general conclusions from individual opinions, and it is unnecessary to enter into guess-work. Labor organization is a fact; it is npon us, and we have to make the best of it.

Considering the enormous productive capacity of the country, our enormous machinery capacity, and the frequent boasts made by manufacturers that we have capacity to make as much in six months of all kinds of products as we can use in twelve months, very littie harm ought to follow from a reduction of the hours of labor. So far as cost of labor is concerned, that is an evil which will correct itself gradually and effectually.

The manufacturer can not boast of any such thing as a "boom." Prices are not improved in the least, and only where a large volume of business is done, or a good demand for specialties is found, can any money be made at all. Lumber dealers, planing mill proprietors and contractors report "little doing," and attribute the apathy prevalent in a good measure to the agitation of the labor troubles. In many cases, for instance, firms will not bid on contracts nntil it is determined what compensation skilled labor will demand the ensuing quarter. "Perhaps the most unfailing sign of the dullness of trade generally is the large amount of idle capital now seeking investment," said one business man, concluding a talk on trade generally. Some of our real estate operators say that building has been checked by labor agitations. A few cases have been mentioned. No doubt there would have been more building had there been less talk of eight hours and higher wages. Fortunately for the building interests, Chicago is not an exception, and all trades seem to be similarly affected. This advancing tendency of cost is calculated to check enterprise.

If Chicago proposes to keep pace with other cities, it will find itself under the necessity of investing somewhere from $2,000,000 to $5,000,000 in improvements. Of course these improvements can not be made without the assistance of special legislation, but there is no good reason why this legislation should not be asked for and secnred. It is not every legislator that likes to champion schemes for increased taxation, but the necessity is yearly becoming more and more urgent. Real estate would be benefited by the expenditure that conld be wisely made.

will not. Hence the strength of the cheap house building movement. If everything goes right, the early summer will witness the inauguration of a dozen or two more schemes for building houses on a large scale. There is plenty of money, and enterprise is waiting for the word "Go." Let us hope that nothing will interfere with the word of command.

Communism has taken a back seat in Chicago; the dastardly deed of Tuesday night a week ago having angered and aroused our police force, who seem to hate an "idle agitator" as much as our merchants and business men. The manly and determined stand taken by the police force of Chicago speaks volumes in their praise. While it has been stated with much truth that nearly all of the vicious element among the strikers is made up of unnaturalized foreigners, it will not be forgotten that Irishmen have been on the side of law and order, and that they take most kindly to our laws, upholding them and obeying them. Their intelligence and fidelity will continue to entitle them to a fair share of the public patronage. People who have the welfare of the country at heart will manifest it by obeying and helping to enforce the laws.

THE MARKET.

During the past week the market has assumed a decidedly more encouraging phase, and the views of the agents that only a temporary depression would be the result of the labor troubles, as expressed in last week's issue, are on a fair way to their realization. In the opinion of some of the agents, business will be carried later into the summer than usual while others believe that an active trade will not commence until fall. Among the large buyers of real estate during the past few weeks is Geo. A. Seaverns, who has bought, in addition to the 40 acres at Maple wood, 600 feet on Vernon av., corner of 35th st., for $65,000.

Attempts are being made to render less cumbrous and expensive the present system of transferring real estate. There is a continuous demand that some remedy should be found which would relieve the seller, buyer and agent from the many complications which arise at every transfer of a piece of property. By the present system the services of the broker, lawyer, notary public, abstract maker and recorder of deeds are needed, and all have to be paid for at a good round price by the owner, amounting in many cases to the value of the property. After all is done that can be done, the buyer is not absolutely safe, for dower claims, tax claims, claims of minor children, special assessments, mechanic liens, and a multitude of other claims, may afterwards come up as a result, perhaps, of the careless examination of the title, or from concealment, and thus bring into question his right to ownership.

Stocks and registered bonds change ownership by an indorsement and record in books of the company. Thus the change of a million dollars' worth of bonds may be made in a few minutes, while a fifty thousand dollar transaction in real estate may involve weeks and months and great expense before it is consummated. If the courts, say some, would, after five, ten or fifteen years, declare titles of realty clear, the present system would be materially helped.

Title and guarantee companies have in view the simplification of the transfer of real estate, and are worthy of careful examination by the lawyers and real estate men. Opposition may naturally be expected from lawyers and abstract men, who would have their fees reduced by any simplification of the process of transferring real estate; but for all that, it is certain and necessary that some practical remedy should go into effect, and that right soon, for the benefit of buyer, and seller alike.

Bnsiness in the abstract department of the county is on the increase. Recorder Scribner is expected back the last of the month, from his trip in the South taken for his health.

Bogue & Hoyt are now in their spacious offices, Rooms 1 and 2, southwest corner of Dearborn and Monroe sts.

John Wain reports an increase in the demand for property within the past few days.

An important improvement is being made by M. F. Myrick around his property, being 125x692 feet, between alley and Lake Park av. and 30th sts. Curbing is being laid all around the property, and 10,000 square feet of granolitnic walk, entirely surrounding it. This is prior to further improvements.

Knight & Marshall are in their new offices on the main floor of the Reaper block. They are busy with their renting department. They look forward to the settlement of the labor troubles in another week, and the resumption of sales in real estate, which have materially dropped off since the strike.

J. P. White is at Room 10, 99 and 101 Washington st.

L. A. Gilbert has moved to Room 34, Reaper Block.

J. P. Bowes & Co. have sold the following: 196 feet on Indiana, n.w. cor. 51st st., $8,385; 25 feet on Michigan av., north of 51st st., $1,075; 50 feet on State st., south of 44th st., through to Wabash av., $5,650; 25 feet on State, between 45th and 46th sts., $1,500; 44 feet on State st., corner 52nd, $3,500; 37½ feet on State st., south of 53rd, $1,600; 49½ feet on State st., south of 60th, $35; per foot 23 lots in their new subdivision at 44th and Wallace sts., aggregating $17,000; 437 feet in Normal aggregating $10,500; 7 cottages on La Salle st., north of 55th, $8,400.

Another Auction at the Real Estate Board Rooms.

The Real Estate Board, desirous as ever to foster and encourage the buying and selling of Real Estate in Chicago, kindly offered its rooms to the trustees of the Jay Cooke & Co. Estate in bankruptcy, for the purpose of holding a public auction of about 33,000 acres of Western lands.

There was a strong influence brought to bear to hold it in St. Paul but through the solicitations of W. J. Barney & Co., 27 Tribune Bldg., Chicago was chosen as the place for the auction the entire charge of which has been given to them.

A sale of this magnitude and character, being the sale of Western lands is of rare occurrence, and may be considered as an honor to Chicago. The estate of Jay Cooke & Co. went into bankruptcy thirteen years ago. During this time the creditors have held 33,000 acres of land in Minnesota and other Western States, which they are now determined to close up by a public auction at the Real Estate Board Rooms. Room 5 161 La Salle St., sale to commence at 12 o'clock noon on Wednesday May 26.

Each tract will be sold separately and a good opportunity will be offered to those desirous of investing in Western lands. They are located in various States of the northwest, but most of them are north of St. Paul, in the counties of Isanti, Anoka, Chisago and St. Louis, Minn.

The very fact that these lands belong to the estate of Jay Cooke & Co. is sufficient guarantee to the public that the auction will be conducted fairly, and those present will have such an opportunity as rarely occurs, to make investments in farming lands in the growing Northwest.

Fire insurance in the best and most reliable companies is placed by Adolph Loeb, 170 La Salle st. This agency has been established for many years, and the increase in the business transacted testifies to the satisfaction given to all owners of real estate and agents dealing with Mr. Loeb. The following well known companies are represented by him: The Royal Insurance Co., of Liverpool; The Rochester German Insurance Co., Rochester, N.Y.; Peoples Fire Insurance Co., of New York; German Fire Insurance Co., of Pittsburgh; Pennsylvania Insurance Co., of Pittsburgh; Birmingham Fire Insurance Co., of Pittsburgh; Washington Fire Insurance Co., of Cincinnati; Lloyd's Plate Glass Insurance Co., of New York.

The two prominent branches of the real estate business — buying and selling of property and the negotiating of loans, will be carried on in a representative manner by the firm of Malcom McNeil & Bro., who have recently organized and opened up spacious offices at No. 92 Washington st. Malcom McNeil has been actively connected with the real estate interests of the city tor many years, and has in this time gained a thorough knowledge as to values and property in general. The members of the firm are Malcom McNeil, Benj. F. McNeil, and Alex. C. McNeil.

Removal.

The Northwestern Mutual Life and Loan Agency, R. Prindiville, agent, have removed their office to rooms 13 and 14, No. 116 La Salle street, where they are prepared to negotiate loans at lowest rates, as heretofore, on good security. The company has long been known as being always ready to loan any amount required. NO further mention is necessary in our columns than the notice of their removal.

DEPARTMENT OF LAW.

Chattel Mortgage— Tacking $1.00 Notes on to Main Note.—The opinion of the Appellate Court for the first district of Illinois by Wilson, J., holding that the practice of tacking dollar notes on to the main note, secured by a chattel mortgage, is a fraudulent device. This opinion rests upon sound legal principles, and ought to be considered a correct construction of the statute. It is expressly provided that to be good and valid the chattel mortgage must be bona fide. To hold where a person gave a chattel mortgage to secure one note for $999.00, due in eleven months, and another for $1.00, due in twenty-two months, was executed in good faith, and that the mortgagor could retain possession of the property as against creditors until the dollar note came due, would be to sanction fraud and aid a mortgagor to put his property beyond the reach of his honest creditors. We do not believe such to be the law.

Levy on Mortgaged Goods.—The opinion of the Supreme Court of Indiana by Elliott, J., holding that a constable may levy on mortgaged goods, and for that purpose may take possession of them; but he can not deliver them to the purchaser without requiring him to comply with the conditions of the mortgage.

Homesteads — Laboring Person. — The opinion of the Court of Appeals of Virginia by Hinton, J., holding that one engaged in carrying the United States mail over a country post route is a "laboring person" within the meaning of those words as used in the Virginia Constitution, Art. XI., Sec. I., and the fact that he owns the horse and vehicle used by him for that purpose does not alter the case.

Lease-Construction—What Premises to be Occupied.—The opinion of the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts by Field, J., holding where the principal purpose of a lease was to give the lessee the occupation of the premises, leased in the condition they were in for the term; the manner in which the different parts of the structure were intended to be occupied, can properly be considered in construing the lease.

Supreme Court of the United States.

No. 162.—October Term, 1885.

Appeal from the Circuit Court of the United States for the Northern District of Illinois.

The Connectiout Mutual Life Insurance Company, Appellant, v. Jonathan Young Scammon, Maria S. Scammon, Florence A. D. Reed, Joseph S. Reed, Arianna E. Scammon, Martin Andrews, Caroline Andrews, Mark Kimball, Assignee, Charles Comstook, First National Bank of Macomr, Illinois, Hiram Wilson, et al.

1. Mortgage—Insurance Policy—Collateral Security—Application of Insurance Money. — The court, after stating the facts as recited in the decree, holds that the insurance was a collateral security for the joint debt of the mortgagors, furnished in compliance with the provisions of the mortgage, and the mortgagee was bound to apply the insurance money to the payment of the joint debt, according to the terms of the mortgage. In the agreement with Scammon, the mortgagee declares that he held the policy "as collateral security for the payment" of the loan secured by the mortgage, and that the $15,000 is subject to be paid to it "in accordance with the conditions" of the mortgage.

2. Policy for Benefit of All.—That although the policy was taken out in the name of Scammon, it was under the mortgage a part of the security covenanted therein, and must be treated as having been furnished by and for the benefit of the mortgagors.

3. What the Policy Covered.— That the insurance was on the building as a whole, and not on any particular interest in it, and was accepted and treated by the mortgagee as an insurance complying with the terms of the mortgage, and covering all the interests which the mortgage covered.

4. Power of Mortgagee—Diversion of the Insurance.—That the mortgagee could not, without the consent of the daughters, surrender the proceeds of the collateral security to Scammon, or divert them from the purpose to which the mortgagee devoted them; and even if the mortgagee was at liberty to use the money toward restoring the building, was bound to see that it was so applied, and took the risk of the diversion, and the money not having been so applied it must be credited in favor of the daughters.

5. Party Wall.—The court considers the claim on account of a party wall.

6. A Small Strip.—The decree is affirmed, except as to a small strip of land.

HOW TO DECORATE.

Crepe cloth makes very pretty and inexpensive summer draperies for portieres or curtains.

Artistic designs and colorings in wall paper are now the rule, instead of the exception, and we are gradually, in fact have quite entirely forsaken the manners and ideas of our good Puritanical brethren who were so devoted to white walls and ceilings. Papers in the style of the Empire and imitations of stamped leather in delicate grays and blues are equisite and fine as frescoing; Venetian wall papers in imitation of silk now come, and those whose designs are copied from old tapestry are very handsome.

Swiss carved work in white wood affords excellent opportunities for hand-painting, and many pretty articles for home decoration can be made from it.

A curious Japanese representation of a sword for suspension as a decoration, has a blade of Japanese copper coins strung together by red and blue cords; the hilt and handle are also ingeniously formed of the coins, and several many-sided pendants.

A bronzed willow umbrella case may be tastefully decorated with great bows of three shades of shrimp pink ribbon and tiny Japanese fans caught in the loops.

Furniture was never so beautiful nor so inexpensive; a variety of new woods have been introduced during the past few years, and black walnut, which has been the favorite wood for so long a time, is now rarely seen; hazel wood, which is of a lighter shade than walnut, but has a similar figuring, is coming into use; cherry polished in imitation of mahogany and the cheerful light oak make beautiful and durable bedroom sets.

A gay elegance can be secured with trays of any finely cut foliage; wild pansy sprouts and feathery grass, studded with blue and white sweet violets, fills the room with faint perfume.

Hand-painted buckets of birch bark, with rope handles, are filled with flowers and suspended between doors, portieres, and other suitable positions.

Gilded baskets for flowers are in shape of game-bags.

China silks are used for hangings for Chippendale bedsteads.

A pretty screen is made of olive satin serge, and in the panel a branch of dogwood falls gracefully from the top.

Moorish decoration is growing in popular favor, and numerous designs are now being made for Moorish lattices to be used for windows, halls, galleries, and staircases. A pleasing style consists of a network of wood or wire on which are strung cylinders and buttons of colored and agatized glass; many of these are rich in hue, and some are opalescent, their color developing in the sun.

A very pretty design in a clock is an odd and attractive style representing a hanging lantern suspended from a richly chased brass bracket; another is a cathedral, the clock being a rose window; the hours and quarters are struck upon peculiarly sweet toned gongs.

New and extremely beautiful are the cut crystal lamps now used.

BUILDING AND BUILDING MATERIALS.

No other industry felt the threatening condition of the labor market sooner, and has received a greater set-back since it culminated, than the bnilding interests of Chicago. Months before the 1st of May architects saw the effects of the coming troubles in the orders to hold over work nntil the labor market should be settled. The prices of the contractors were higher as a rule, thns giving another inducement to bnilders to hold over their work nntil after the 1st of May. Now that the crisis has been passed, and the labor market is assnming a more settled state, it is predicted that a resnmption of building operations will begin with renewed vigor. The work of many of the contractors will begin one to two months later on acconnt of the general delay in building.

One of the building inspectors, in a conversation with our reporter, stated that work coming into his office dnring the past few days showed a marked improvement over the preceding weeks.

The prices of bnilding material have remained almost unchanged. Old brick is sold now by only two or three firms, and is bringing from $8.50 to $9.50 a thousand. Orders are taken for delivery in Jnne at $6.50 to $7.50 per thousend. North Side mannfactnrers are selling from 50 to 75 cents less a thousand than the South Side yards, on account of the cheaper labor obtained.

The Chicago Building Stone Co. report no trouble in their quarries, as a result of the precantion taken by raising the wages of the men from $1.50 to $1.75 per day, early in the season.

Simpson Bros. report favorable prospects for their bnsiness. They have recently laid floors with their rock asphalt for Dr. E. F. Ingalls, Chas. Fleischman, J. L. Hoeber Brewing Co., and Joseph Junk Brewing Co.

The Syenite Granite Co. are engaged in carrying out their contract for the granite work for the building going up on the site of the Old Rookery. There is a rumor that the work on this building may be suspended for awhile, on account of the labor troubles.

The contracts for the new theatre block that Messrs. F. P. Owings and H. I. Goldy are to build on the North Side have been let. The building will contain six stores, twelve six-room flats, an elegant billiard room, a fine dancing hall, and a restaurant. The theatre will be probably the most unique in the city, being decorated in the beautiful Moresque designs, and having features that no other theatres possess. It being situated in the rear of stores and entirely isolated from all other buildings, makes it entirely safe. The capacity is 2,300, and it will cost $75,000. The grand entrance will be laid in Minton tile, with sides and ceiling of bronzed copper. The foyer will be decorated in the Moorish style. The auditorium is 80 feet wide, being positively the widest in the city, and will be seated with the new style opera chairs. The theatre contains ten graduating boxes, and the front of the balcony a series of Parisian lodges seating six each. In our next issue we will give a view of the elevation.

Bargains in residence and business property in all parts of the city.

A new decorative feature in the exterior of the arched windows of many new mansions is the placing of a light foliated iron screen in the upper portion, exterior to the sash.

There is a stately beauty in many of the carved seats in mahogany, oak and other woods now so popular; the figured carving is reserved for the borders.

Handsome fire-shovels and tongs in their proper rests, and dainty hearth-brooms with brass handles and frames, are among the necessities to the modern fire-place.

Embroidered scarfs are still very fashionable. They drape the mantel, table, easel or piano, and are also used to loop back curtains. A pretty style, an ornament for a chair or sofa, is made by taking the etamine scarfs, which are mixed with tinsel, and fastening on either side three shades of Nile green satin ribbon about two inches in width. At intervals, where the ribbon joins the scarf, fasten on in clusters six or eight brass sequins; finish the edge of the scarf with long silk tassels varying in color.

Furniture upholstered in plush can be enriched by being embroidered in floral, geometrical or heraldic designs.
